312. COMMON CROP INSURANCE REGULATIONS; BASIC PROVISIONS AND GENERAL ADMINISTRATIVE REGULATIONS, SUBPART T, REGULATIONS FOR IMPLEMENTATION

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1506(l); 7 USC 1506(p)

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 400; 7 CFR 457.8

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, October 18, 2000.

Abstract: The purpose of these rules is to propose changes to the Common Crop Insurance Regulations, Basic Provisions and the General Administrative Regulations, Subpart T—Insurance Implementation, mandated by the Agricultural Risk Protection Act of 2000. The changes will be proposed to be effective beginning with the 2002 crop year for all crops with a contract change date on or after June 30, 2001. The major changes to the Common Crop Insurance Regulations, Basic Provisions are: 1) Limit indemnities and premiums when more than one crop is planted on acreage within the same crop year; 2) if an initial crop is prevented from being planted and a substitute crop is planted on the acreage within the same crop year, allow reduced prevented planting coverage for the initial crop, and the initial crop's Actual Production History (APH) will be reduced to 60 percent of the producer's APH; and 3) add scientifically sound sustainable

313. COMMON CROP INSURANCE REGULATIONS; SMALL GRAINS CROP INSURANCE PROVISIONS AND WHEAT WINTER COVERAGE ENDORSEMENT

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1506(l); 7 USC 1506(p)

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 457.101; 7 CFR 457.102

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation proposes to revise and clarify existing policy provisions, establish winter wheat coverage in certain South Dakota and Wisconsin counties, reduce coverage under Option B of the Wheat Winter Coverage Endorsement, and to require insurance on spring wheat planted to replace damaged winter wheat covered under the Wheat Winter Coverage Endorsement.

314. GENERAL ADMINISTRATIVE REGULATIONS; NONSTANDARD UNDERWRITING CLASSIFICATION SYSTEM

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1506(l); 7 USC 1506(p)

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 400

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: Nonstandard Underwriting Classification System (NCS): NCS was criticized by producers and their representatives for several years and became a major issue with the repetitive floods in the upper Midwest and multi-year droughts in the Southwest. Complaints included claims that the NCS procedures: 1) Did not adequately exclude widespread causes of loss (disaster adjustment); 2) failed to recognize diverse conditions within a county; 3) unfairly hit new or struggling producers caught by repetitive disasters; and 4) set too high a premium for those producers listed. Additionally, administration of the NCS process was complicated, sometimes subjective, and labor intensive.

The Advanced Notice of Proposed Rulemaking that was published in the Federal Register in September 1997 sought comments from the public on options to improve NCS. Twenty-two comments were received in response to the advanced notice. RMA decided to replace NCS with a process that charged appropriate rates for those producers with adverse loss experience and less than average production histories.

RMA examined increasing premium rates based on producers' lower APH yields and using a surcharge based on use of the yield floor (or some other identifiable indicator of adverse experience) to determine if these measures would adequately address the need to increase premiums for those producers with the most adverse loss histories based on the frequency and severity of losses. After reviewing past NCS experience on the existing book of business, it was determined that appropriate rate increases for those producers whose APH yields were less than average would compensate entirely for the elimination of NCS.

RMA implemented the following actions to accomplish the goal of replacing NCS beginning with the 1999 crop year:

— Removed and reserved the current NCS regulation (7 CFR part 400, subpart O) by publishing a proposed rule in the Federal Register. The final rule is pending clearance, however the Agency proceeded with the process and has waived NCS since 1999.

— Developed and implemented appropriate rate adjustments to offset the removal of NCS.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1506(l); 7 USC 1506(p)

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 457

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The purpose of this rule is to solicit public comments on FCIC's proposed action to convert the millet pilot crop insurance program to a permanent insurance program and clarify existing crop provisions and methodology for calculated losses for the 2001 and succeeding crop years. FCIC believes this proposed rule will provide additional coverage benefits and improve the risk management tool for millet producers in all regions of the country.

Abstract: The Agency is proposing to revise regulations under the U.S. Grain Standards Act to allow interested persons to stipulate the quality factors that would be redetermined during a reinspection or appeal inspection for grade. Currently reinspections and appeal inspections for grade must include a review for all factors that (1) may determine the grade; (2) are reported on the original certificate; or (3) are required to be shown. The Agency has determined that mandating all quality factors be reexamined during a review inspection is inefficient, time consuming, and costly. Further, such a complete review of the preceding inspection service is usually not needed to confirm the true quality of the grain. This proposed action will allow interested parties to specify which official factors should be redetermined during the reinspection or appeal inspection service. However, to safeguard against inadvertent misgrading, official personnel may determine other factors, when deemed necessary.

Abstract: This rule will rewrite regulations pertaining to the Commodity Supplemental Food Program (7 CFR part 247) in "plain language." It will also amend regulatory provisions in this part to increase program accountability and flexibility for program operators. The rule will affect program accountability by : (1) Requiring State agencies to initiate a claim against participants for repayment of the value of program benefits obtained as a result of intentional misrepresentation; (2) extending the period that State agencies may disqualify participants for program violations for up to 1 year; (3) requiring State agencies to disqualify participants for engaging in dual participation or for other selected program violations; (4) including under program violations the physical abuse, or the threat of physical abuse, of program staff.

Amendments to increase program flexibility include: (1) Allowing the State to extend the certification of elderly persons on a fixed income for an indefinite period without a formal review of eligibility; (2) increasing the period of time the State agency has to review a local agency's application for participation; (3) allowing State agencies to request to retain more than the maximum amount of administrative funds allocated whether or not they perform warehouse services; (4) reducing the frequency of State management evaluations of local agencies; and (5) making State plans and Federal-State agreements permanent, with amendments submitted as needed.

Other miscellaneous proposed changes include: (1) Requiring local agencies to notify applicants of a decision on their application within 10 days of the date of application; (2) including the specific factors that FNS uses to determine the amount of caseload that States will receive in addition to base caseload; (3) making the caseload cycle the period from January 1 to December 31; and (4) including a pregnant woman's embryo or fetus in utero as a household member in determining the family's income eligibility.

The rule will also incorporate legislative provisions that have been implemented through program policy, including: (1) Increasing the percentage of the program appropriation, and of funds carried over from the pervious year, to be allotted for administrative support of State and local agencies from 15 to 20 percent; and (2) requiring that State and local agencies provide information on certain other public assistance programs to participants. Abstract: On August 11, 2000, the President signed an Executive order requiring Federal agencies to examine the services they provide and to develop and implement a system that ensures persons with limited English proficiency (LED) have meaningful access to Federal health and human services programs and activities. The Executive order clarifies long-standing title VI principles that prohibit discrimination based on national origin. (00-016)

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: PL 106-224, sec 243(i)

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 226

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This proposed rule would revise the Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP) regulations to allow reimbursement of suppers provided by at-risk afterschool care programs in six States, as authorized by the Agricultural Risk Protection Act (Pub. L. 106-224). At-risk suppers in these States (Delaware, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Missouri, New York, and Oregon) are reimbursed under the same conditions set forth in the National School Lunch Act (NSLA) for at-risk snacks in the CACFP. Children who are 18 or younger and enrolled in qualifying afterschool programs located in the six States may receive free suppers. To qualify, afterschool care programs must be located in low-income areas, provide care to children, and have an educational or enrichment purpose. (01-007)

343. WIC: REQUIREMENTS FOR AND EVALUATION OF WIC PROGRAM REQUESTS FOR BIDS FOR INFANT FORMULA REBATE CONTRACTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1786

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 246

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: At the time the current cost containment regulations were published in 1989, there were only minor differences in infant formula wholesale prices and few differences in types of infant formulas offered by manufacturers; i.e., milk- and soy-based infant formula. However, current wholesale prices vary considerably among manufacturers for similar formulas and several new infant formulas have emerged on the market over the last decade. Therefore, to reflect market changes in the infant formula industry and to optimize competition in the WIC Program's infant formula rebate contracts, this interim rule would require WIC State agencies to award infant formula rebate contracts based on the lowest net price, allowing highest gross rebate as a basis of award only when retail prices of the different brands of infant formula vary, on average, by 5 percent or less. Additionally, this rule would define the types and forms of infant formula that must be included in cost containment systems. It would also expand on conditions that must be met for the issuance of infant formulas not covered by rebate contracts. (92-013)

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 7 USC 2011 to 2032

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 272; 7 CFR 273

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule revises Food Stamp Program procedures for reporting and acting on changes in earned income. The changes are designed to increase State agency flexibility and improve procedures for determining the eligibility and benefits of households whose income fluctuates unpredictably. Under this rule, State agencies would choose from four different reporting requirements for households with earned income. The reporting requirement a State agency selects would replace the current requirement that households report a change of more than $25 in earned income. In addition to reporting a change in source of income, households would be required to report one of the following: A change in wage rate or salary and a change in part-time or full-time status, provided the household is certified for no more than 3 months; a change in wage rate or salary and a change of more than 5 hours a week that is expected to continue for more than a month; or a change in the amount earned of more than $100 a month. The reporting requirement for changes in unearned income would be increased to changes of more than $50 a month from the current threshold of changes of more than $25 a month. In addition to the above reporting options, State agencies would also be able to select the option of requiring households to report changes through a quarterly reporting system rather than at the time the changes become known to the household. (93-005)

346. DETERMINING ELIGIBILITY FOR FREE AND REDUCED-PRICE MEALS AND FREE MILK IN SCHOOLS: PROVISION 2 AND PROVISION 3

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: PL 103-448

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 245

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: Under an alternative known as Provision 2, schools that serve all meals at no charge for 3 consecutive years may distribute applications and make free and reduced price meal eligibility determinations once every 3 years. During year 1 of the 3-year cycle, they count and claim meals by category (free, reduced price, and paid) and use these counts to develop claiming percentages to use during years 2 and 3. Public Law 103-448 amended the NSLA to allow schools to extend these procedures an additional 2 years and allow subsequent 5-year cycles, without making new free and reduced price eligibility determinations, provided the income level of the school's population remained stable. Public Law 103-448 also added a new Provision 3 for schools that serve all meals at no charge for 4 consecutive years. These schools receive the same level of cash and commodity assistance they received in the last year free and reduced price eligibility determinations and actual meal counts were taken. Additional 4-year cycles were permitted, without making new free and reduced price eligibility determinations, provided the income level of the school's population remained stable. For both provisions, schools must make up the difference between Federal reimbursement and meal costs. Public Law 105-336 subsequently amended the timeframe for Provision 2 so that both Provisions 2 and 3 are 4-year cycles, which may be extended, without making new eligibility determinations, if the income level of the school's population remains stable. The rule will codify these provisions and specify technical aspects, such as the measurement of the income level of the school's population and the types of data that may be used. (96-003)

Abstract: This rule proposes revisions to food stamp regulations affecting the standards and administration of EBT systems for food stamp issuance. Current regulations at 7 CFR 274.12 delineate the standards that EBT systems must meet in order to be approved for operation. This rule will revise those regulations to provide the State agency more flexibility in implementing and operating those systems. Clarifications and FNS settlement improvements will also be incorporated into the rule. (96-016)

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1786(m)(6)

Abstract: The Child Nutrition Act of 1966 as amended (42 U.S.C. 1786(m)(6)) sets forth funding requirements of State agencies currently operating the program and for State agencies wishing to start a new program. The law leaves it to the discretion of the Secretary to determine the method of allocating funds to currently operating State agencies. This interim rule would implement a funding formula for the allocation of such expansion funds to existing FMNP State agencies. (98-003)

350. CHILD NUTRITION PROGRAMS: REIMBURSEMENT FOR SNACKS IN AFTERSCHOOL CARE PROGRAMS

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: PL 105-336

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 210; 7 CFR 226; 7 CFR 235; 7 CFR 245

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The William F. Goodling Child Nutrition Reauthorization Act of 1998 amended the National School Lunch Act to authorize reimbursement for snacks served under the NSLP in afterschool care programs operated by schools. The afterschool program must be organized primarily to provide care for children and have an educational or enrichment purpose. Additionally, the statute mandates free snacks for all children enrolled in afterschool care programs operated by schools in areas served by a school in which at least 50 percent of the enrolled children are certified for free or reduced price meals.

In the CACFP, the statute authorizes free snacks to children through age 18 enrolled in afterschool programs located in low-income areas. Low-income areas are defined in the law as areas in which at least 50 percent of the children are eligible for free or reduced price school meals. Therefore, individual eligibility determinations are not required for these programs. This rule also implements the provision of the law which permits outside school hours care programs to participate in CACFP if they meet health and safety standards where no State or local licensing or approval is required. 351. FOOD DISTRIBUTION PROGRAM: DELETION OF REQUIREMENT TO EVALUATE STATE-RUN COMMODITY DISTRIBUTION AND WAREHOUSING SYSTEMS EVERY 3 YEARS

Legal Authority: PL 100-237

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 250.14; 7 CFR 250.15

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: Section 250.14(a) currently requires State distributing agencies that operate their own warehousing and distribution system to make a cost comparison of that system with a commercial system every 3 years. Most State distributing agencies have now either switched to a commercial system or evaluated their own system at least twice and determined it to be the most cost effective. Therefore, we propose to remove that requirement from our regulations. We will maintain the authority to require a cost comparison when circumstances warrant. We are suggesting a direct final rule rather than a proposed rule because we do not expect any objections to this discretionary change. (99-001)

Abstract: This rule revises Food Stamp regulations to ensure that recipients can use their electronic food stamp benefits across State borders by requiring interoperable State electronic issuance

Also, 100 percent funding is available under the regulation to pay for the operational cost of this functionality up to a national limit of $500,000. 353. CHILD AND ADULT CARE FOOD PROGRAM: IMPLEMENTING LEGISLATIVE REFORMS TO STRENGTHEN PROGRAM INTEGRITY

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: PL 106-224, sec 243

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 226

Abstract: This interim rule incorporates changes to the Child and Adult Care Food Program as required by the Agricultural Risk Protection Act (Pub. L. 106-224) to strengthen the management and integrity of the program. Provisions include 1) changes to eligibility requirements for participating institutions; 2) conditions for approval, such as ensuring financial viability, stipulating that new sponsoring organizations are allowed to participate only where there is need for the program, and the elimination of "moving toward tax exempt status" of institutions; 3) new program monitoring requirements; 4) new parental notification requirements by CACFP centers or homes that describe the program and benefits and provide parents with access to the sponsoring organization and State agency; 5) rules on allowing corrective action and appeals in situations involving the termination or suspension of participating institutions, facilities, and individuals; 6) funds recovery in situations involving fraud, abuse, or improper submissions for reimbursement; and 7) limitation on the percentage of funds that sponsoring organizations of centers can retain from day care meal reimbursements for their administrative expenses. These changes support the Department's ongoing efforts in management and integrity improvement. (00-005)

354. SPECIAL NUTRITION PROGRAMS: DISCLOSURE OF CHILDREN'S ELIGIBILITY INFORMATION UNDER THE CHILD NUTRITION PROGRAMS

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: PL 106-224, sec 242; PL 103-448, sec 108

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, October 20, 2000.

Abstract: This rule establishes requirements for the disclosure of children's free and reduced price meal and free milk eligibility information by agencies that makes the free and reduced price meal or free milk determination under the National School Lunch Program, the School Breakfast Program, the Special Milk Program, the Child and Adult Care Food Program, and the Summer Food Service Program. The rule responds to amendments to the Richard B. Russell National School Lunch Act, which allow limited disclosure of children's free and reduced price meal or free milk eligibility information, Public Law 103-448, the Healthy Meals for Healthy Americans Act of 1994; and Public Law 106-224, the Agricultural Risk Protection Act of 2000; comments received on the July 25, 2000, proposed rule on "Disclosure of Children's Eligibility Information" (65 FR 45725 issued under RIN 0584-AC21) and comments received on the January 11, 2001, interim rule on "Disclosure of Children's Eligibility Information to State Medicaid and the State Children's Health Insurance" (66 FR 2195 issued under RIN 0584-AC95). This rule incorporates the proposed rule and interim rule into one final rule. Therefore, RIN 0584-AC21 is withdrawn, and the final provisions will be issued under RIN 0584-AC95. The final rule will adopt or modify as necessary many of the provisions mandated by the statute and required by the interim rule. Many of these same provisions were presented as recommendations in the proposed rule. The objective is to provide consistency in procedures when determining agencies opt to disclose children's eligibility information and to provide some protection against unauthorized disclosures and misuse of personal information, regardless of whether the disclosure is to Medicaid or SCHIP or to an education or other program. Abstract: The intent of this regulation is to comply with the President's memorandum of June 1, 1998, entitled "Plain Language in Government Writing" (63 FR 31885, June 10, 1998). This memorandum encourages all existing Agency regulations to be rewritten in plain language. Abstract: This rule makes no changes in the meaning of the regulations; it is only a reorganization and rewriting of the existing text in plain language. Our goal in rewriting is simple and two-fold: Allow the reader to quickly find and easily understand desired subject matter. The rewrite accomplishes our first goal by presenting material in a more logical sequence where needed, and most importantly, by splitting the text into much smaller and more easily scanned units. We have greatly increased the number of sections within the part, also increased the number of paragraphs within each of the new sections, and made greater use of italicized headings. By increasing the number of sections, we have "flattened" the regulation's structure. This in turn generally allows the elimination of at least one level of codification, despite the increased number of paragraphs and subparagraphs within each section. The result is much easier scanning of the sections for subject matter, further aided by the italicized headings. Each section is headed by a question on a major aspect of the regulations, which is then answered in the headings and paragraphs which follow. Finally, our second goal, greater comprehensibility, is accomplished by the use of shorter sentences, the active voice, and common words, except for necessary technical terms. (00-008)

Abstract: 1) Poultry and fruit and vegetables may currently be substituted for commodities under pilots and waivers. Due to the success of these programs, the regulations will be changed to allow such commercial substitution on a permanent basis. 2) Due to changes in the commercial market and the food donation program, the Department will allow vendors to use their own labels in place of USDA donated labels for school programs. This will complicate school's recordkeeping and inventory procedures. The regulations will be modified to accommodate the change in labels. (01-001)

Abstract: This rule makes no changes in the meaning of the regulations; it is only a reorganization and rewriting of the existing text in plain language. Our goal in rewriting is simple and two-fold: Allow the reader to quickly find and easily understand desired subject matter. The rewrite accomplishes our first goal by presenting material in a more logical sequence where needed and, most importantly, by splitting the text into much smaller and more easily scanned units. We have greatly increased the number of sections within the part, also increased the number of paragraphs within each of the new sections, and made greater use of italicized headings. By increasing the number of sections, we have "flattened" the regulation's structure. This in turn generally allows the elimination of at least one level of codification, despite the increased number of paragraphs and subparagraphs within each section. The result is much easier scanning of the sections for subject matter, further aided by the italicized headings. Each section is headed by a question on a major aspect of the regulations, which is then answered in the headings and paragraphs which follow. Finally, our second goal, greater comprehensibility, is accomplished by the use of shorter sentences, the active voice, and common words, except for necessary technical terms. (01-004)

Abstract: As part of its continuing regulatory reform effort, FSIS is proposing to consolidate and streamline the regulations governing the importation of livestock and poultry products to make them consistent with the regulatory approach the Agency has taken in its Pathogen Reduction/Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Points (PR/HACCP) regulations and related rulemakings. FSIS is proposing to eliminate obsolete provisions and, where appropriate, to replace command-and-control provisions with performance standards. The Agency is proposing to require establishments where import inspection is conducted to have documented process controls that parallel in some respects the HACCP and other documented systems that establishments where inspection of domestic products is conducted must have.

Abstract: This rulemaking will continue an effort initiated several years ago by amending FSIS's regulations to expand the types of labeling that are generically approved. FSIS plans to propose that the submission of labeling for approval prior to use be limited to certain types of labeling, as specified in the regulations. In addition, FSIS plans to reorganize and amend the regulations by consolidating labeling rules that currently are stated separately for livestock products and poultry products (in part 317, subpart A, and part 381, subpart N, respectively) and by amending their provisions to set out clearly various circumstances under which these products are misbranded.

Abstract: This proposed rule would amend the meat and poultry inspection regulations by removing all requirements relating to total quality control (TQC) systems. A TQC system is a comprehensive, planned documented system of activities intended to ensure the stability of processes and the uniformity of products throughout a manufacturing plant. The proposal would remove the design requirements for TQC systems and the requirements for FSIS prior approval, or approval before implementation, of such systems. The proposal also would amend the regulations governing the operating schedules of official establishments tc remove the provisions concerning establishments with approved TQC systems.

Abstract: FSIS is proposing to amend its regulations to add a new part that prescribes procedures for the submission, consideration, and disposition of petitions for rulemaking. The proposal also describes the Agency's expectations for the type of documentation that must be submitted in support of a petition and that will facilitate regulatory development. Abstract: FSIS is proposing to amend the official U.S. classes of poultry so that they more accurately and clearly describe the characteristics of poultry in the market today. Poultry classes are defined primarily in terms of age and sex of the bird. Genetic improvements and new poultry management techniques have reduced the grow-out period for some poultry classes while extensive cross breeding has produced poultry with higher meat yields but blurred breed distinctions. This action is being taken to ensure that poultry products are labeled in a truthful and non-misleading manner.

Abstract: The Food Safety and Inspection Service is proposing to increase the fees it charges meat and poultry establishments, egg products plants, importers, and exporters for providing voluntary inspection services, overtime and holiday inspection services, identification services, certification services, and laboratory services. These proposed fee increases reflect the national and locality pay raise for Federal employees and inflationary costs. FSIS is proposing to make the fee increases effective as soon as possible. At this time, FSIS is not proposing to change the fee it charges for the accredited Laboratory Program. The Agency is also proposing to add part 592 to title 9 of the CFR to raise fees for the voluntary inspection of egg products.

385. BEEF OR PORK WITH BARBECUE SAUCE; REVISION OF STANDARDS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 21 USC 601 et seq

CFR Citation: 9 CFR 319

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Food Safety and Inspection Service (FSIS) has been petitioned to amend the Federal meat inspection regulations by removing a meat yield requirement for the standardized products "Beef With Barbecue Sauce" and "Pork With Barbecue Sauce." Current regulations for these products require that the product contain not less than 50 percent of the species identified on the label and that the weight of the cooked pork or beef not exceed 70 percent of the uncooked weight of the meat. The first requirement is consistent with other meat and sauce requirements, but the second requirement is not. The petitioner asserts that the product standard (promulgated in 1952) does not reflect current production practices or the commercial marketability of beef or pork with barbecue sauce. The petitioner further states that producers of these products are at a competitive disadvantage with other meat and sauce producers, because other meat and sauce producers do not have a 70 percent yield requirement. For example, producers of the standardized products "Beef with Gravy," "Meat Pies," and "Spaghetti with Meat and Sauce" and similar standardized products do not have any meat yield requirements.

FSIS has determined that the petitioner's request should be granted. This action would permit fair competition between meat and barbecue sauce producers, and poultry and sauce producers, and would provide consistent requirements in both the meat and poultry inspection regulations.

Abstract: FSIS is requiring that the source of natural sausage casings be disclosed on the product label if they are derived from a different type of meat or poultry than the meat or poultry in the enclosed sausage. Establishments producing, manufacturing, or using natural sausage casings or sausages encased in natural casings are also required to maintain records documenting the source of the casings. FSIS is requiring that the labels of sausage products encased in regenerated collagen casings disclose the use of the regenerated collagen casing. However, FSIS is not requiring that records on the source of the regenerated collagen casings be kept.

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 21 USC 601; 21 USC 451

CFR Citation: 9 CFR 381.172; 9 CFR 319.10

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: FSIS is amending the Federal meat and poultry inspection regulations to establish a general definition and standard of identity for standardized meat and poultry products that have been modified to qualify for use of an expressed nutrient content claim in their product names. These products will be identified by an expressed nutrient content claim, such as "fat free," "low fat," and "light," in conjunction with an appropriate standardized term. FSIS is taking this action to 1) assist consumers to maintain healthy dietary practices by providing for modified versions of standardized meat and poultry products that have reductions of certain constituents that are of health concern to some people, 2) increase regulatory flexibility and support product innovation and, 3) provide consumers with an informative nutrition labeling system.

Abstract: FSIS is amending sections 317.21(d) and 381.121d of the Federal meat and poultry inspection regulations to permit FSIS-inspected establishments to have, in lieu of certification by State or local agencies or State-licensed repair firms or persons, alternative documented procedures for showing that the scales meet the requirements of National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) Handbook 44. The alternative documented procedures could be a partial quality control (PQC) program for net weight (for which FSIS no longer has approval or design requirements), a total quality control (TQC) system provision, or other procedures showing the establishment's scales meet NIST Handbook 44 requirements. FSIS has determined that the regulatory provisions in question are unduly restrictive and should include an option for the establishments to have alternative documented procedures showing that scales meet NIST Handbook 44 requirements.

Abstract: This rule proposes to establish regulations applicable to the Emerging Marketing Program, currently authorized by the Food, Agriculture, Conservation, and Trade Act of 1990 and amended by the Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act of 1996. The Emerging Markets Program currently operates under agency guidelines. The proposed rule would amend and codify the existing guidelines. Codification of the guidelines should not change program administration noticeably. Because the program is already in operation under agency guidelines, this proposal would have no significant impact on the U.S. economy.

The proposed rule will provide specific regulations concerning program administration. Significant provisions include definition of emerging market and country eligibility, program objectives and priorities, eligible organizations, qualification requirements, application and review processes, decisions and appeals, reimbursement rules and procedures, reporting requirements, evaluations, and program controls.

Abstract: The Forest Service is revising its current policy and procedures, implemented in February 1987, concerning administration of hydropower authorizations and the processing of proposals for hydropower projects affecting National Forest System lands. These revisions are necessary to make Agency policy and procedures consistent with regulatory changes by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC). The proposed policy was published in the Federal Register on May 22, 1995 (60 FR 27153), for a 60-day public comment period, which was extended for another 45 days (60 FR 36401). As a result of the comments received, substantial changes were made to the proposed policy (60 FR 36401). Therefore, the Forest Service is publishing a revised proposed policy for public comment.

414. SMALL TRACTS ACT REGULATIONS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 521(c) to 521(i)

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 254

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: Implementation of the Agency's Small Tracts regulations (adopted in 1984) has revealed an inadvertent inconsistency between the regulations at 36 CFR 254.35(f) and 254.41(a) and the legislative history of the Small Tracts Act of January 12, 1983. The regulations imply that the disposal of mineral fractions by sale can only be made in response to an application from an abutting landowner, thus discouraging the conveyance by sale to the public. The Act clearly authorizes sale of mineral fractions to the public through public sale, as well as individual applications, provided that certain conditions are met. The revisions will clarify the application of the Act to ensure that both individual applications and public sale are permissible means of disposing of qualifying tracts.

415. SPECIES SURPLUS TO DOMESTIC MANUFACTURING NEEDS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 620 et seq

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 223.200

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This proposed rule would amend 36 CFR 223.200 to list species proposed to be surplus to domestic manufacturing needs. This proposed rule would implement a portion of section 620a(b) of the Forest Resources Conservation and Shortage Relief Act of 1990 (16 U.S.C. 620 et seq.). Section 620a(a) of the Act provides that no person who acquires unprocessed timber originating from Federal lands west of the 100th meridian in the contiguous 48 States may export such timber from the United States, or sell, trade, exchange, or otherwise convey such timber from the United States, unless such timber has been determined under subsection (b) to be surplus to the needs of timber manufacturing facilities in the United States. Section 620a(b) of the Act provides that the prohibition contained in section (a) shall not apply to specific quantities of grades and species of unprocessed timber originating in Federal lands which the Secretary determines, through rulemaking, to be surplus to domestic manufacturing needs.

416. SALE AND DISPOSAL OF NATIONAL FOREST SYSTEM TIMBER; EXTENSION OF TIMBER SALE CONTRACTS TO PERMIT URGENT REMOVAL OF OTHER TIMBER

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 223.50; 36 CFR 223.53

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule and policy change will provide for extension of National Forest System (NFS) timber sale contracts when such extension will permit the prompt removal and utilization of non-NFS timber damaged by catastrophic events. The change will define the responsibilities of the parties for requesting and approving such extensions and specify when such extension should be approved. This change will also allow for the use of scarce timber resources and the recovery of economic benefits from timber that might otherwise be lost because of contractual obligations to harvest undamaged timber.

Abstract: In February 1994, the Forest Service published proposed rule changes for parts 261 and 262 of title 36 of the Code of Federal Regulations. Due to the high level of interest in and comment on part 261, the decision was made to publish a second proposed rule. The majority of the public comment on part 262 referred to the definition section, which has been revised to respond to those comments. The Forest Service has decided to issue a second proposed rule for comment on part 262, Law Enforcement Support Activities. Proposed revisions to part 261 will proceed separately.

In addition, the proposed amendment to 36 CFR part 262, Law Enforcement Support Activities, would amend the rules that govern monetary rewards and payments for information leading to the arrest and conviction of people who harm natural resources or threaten employees. The proposed rule would remove established rewards for damaging or stealing yew trees, the natural source of taxol, as taxol is now produced synthetically. The change also would clarify the procedures in subpart B for administrative impoundments and removals of livestock, dogs, and personal property.

418. NONCOMPETITIVE SALE OF TIMBER

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 472(a)

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 223.85

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This proposed rule would revise 36 CFR 223.85 by removing references to section 2001(k) of Public Law 104-19 (109 Stat. 246) and define "extraordinary conditions" to allow forest officers, without advertisement, to make modifications to timber and forest product sales, which result in the substitution of timber or forest products from outside the sale area specified in the contract. Under the proposed rule, substitute timber or forest products would have to come from the same administrative national forest and meet Agency requirements for compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act and other environmental laws. This proposed rule would not compel a timber purchaser to accept a timber sale modification offered under this rule. The rule only authorizes the Forest Service to propose modifications and to enter into discussions with purchasers on such modifications. This proposed rule will reduce timber sale cancellations and partial cancellations, thus reducing future damage claims on timber sales.

419. CLARIFICATION OF EXEMPTIONS FROM SPECIAL-USE AUTHORIZATIONS

Priority: Info./Admin./Other

Legal Authority: 16 USC 477 to 482; 16 USC 551; 43 USC 1761 to 1771

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 251.50(c)

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: In April 1997, the Forest Service completed a reengineering study of its special uses program on how to manage the program in a more businesslike, customer-service-oriented way. The Agency proposes the following revisions to 36 CFR 251.50 that would implement recommendations from this study. The study determined that many units are issuing special use authorizations unnecessarily, thereby increasing workloads. The study concluded that the Agency should clarify the special uses rules at section 251.50(a) to make explicitly clear that special use authorizations should not be issued for activities that are regulated by other Forest Service regulations; for example, those governing the disposal of timber (part 223); minerals (part 228); the use of forest development roads and trails (part 212 and section 251.110); and the grazing of cattle (part 222). The study also concluded that section 251.50(d) should be revised to direct that special use authorizations should not be issued where such authorization would serve no land or resource management objective and would have nominal effects on National Forest System lands; for example, where activities are adequately regulated by other governmental entities or where an authorized officer determines that normal operation and maintenance by the holder is within the scope of a right-of-way, easement, or other valid existing real property interest. Further, the rule at section 251.50(c) would be revised to clarify that, in emergency situations, a special use authorization should be sought at the earliest opportunity following the emergency to ensure that appropriate measures are carried out to protect National Forest System lands after the emergency situation no longer exists.

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 620

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 223; 36 CFR 261

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The proposed rule for timber export and substitution restrictions would implement the Forest Resources Conservation and Shortage Relief Act of 1990, as amended. The proposed rule defines the certain terms necessary to facilitate uniform compliance; prohibits transfer of unprocessed private timber for export by a person who possesses or acquires unprocessed Federal timber; prohibits export of such unprocessed private timber by a third or successive party; prescribes procedures for reporting the acquisition and disposition of NFS and private timber requiring domestic processing, including transfers; prescribes procedures for identifying unprocessed National Forest Service and private timber requiring domestic processing; and establishes procedures for assessing civil and criminal penalties and applying administrative remedies for violations of the Act, its implementing regulations, and contracts subject to the Act.

421. USE OF FIXED ANCHORS IN WILDERNESS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Legal Authority: Not Yet Determined

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 261

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Forest Service is proposing to issue regulations on the use of climbing equipment in designated wilderness areas within the National Forest System (NFS). Prior to the adoption of the Wilderness Act, certain climbing equipment, including rock bolts, have been placed in rock faces by climbers. This practice has continued for several decades and is the focus of controversy among wilderness users. An increase in the popularity of bolt-intensive form of rock climbing in the early 1990s has fueled this controversy. Some wilderness advocates consider rock bolts and other anchors, left behind by climbers, as permanent improvements.

To address this issue on NFS lands, a negotiated rulemaking committee was convened in June 2000. After four 2-day meetings, the group failed to reach consensus on several aspects of the issue; however, consensus was reached on other aspects. The Agency is moving forward with a proposal that utilizes the advice of the committee and the aspects that were agreed upon by the committee. The Agency intends to propose for public comment several alternatives to define and regulate permanent fixed anchors, including bolts. Resolving these issues through rulemaking is preferable to other dispute resolution alternatives, such as litigation or legislative amendment.

422. SPECIAL FOREST PRODUCTS AND FOREST BOTANICAL PRODUCTS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: Not Yet Determined

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 223

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Forest Service proposes to promulgate regulations for managing special forest products and forest botanical products. The regulations will guide the Forest Service in the administration of the broader category of special forest products. The proposed rule also implements Public Law 106-113, Pilot Program of Charges and Fees for Harvest of Forest Botanical Products, Appropriations Act H.R. 3423, section 339, Forest Botanical Products. Forest botanical products include products, such as herbs, berries, seeds, and wildflowers that are not wood products. The intended effect of this rule is to give guidance and consistency for the sustainability and sale of special forest products and forest botanical products.

423. DETERMINING FAIR MARKET VALUE FOR RECREATION RESIDENCE USE AUTHORIZATIONS

Priority: Info./Admin./Other

Legal Authority: 16 USC 497; PL 106-291, title VI

CFR Citation: None

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The appropriations act for the Department of the Interior and related agencies for fiscal year 2001 (Pub.L. 106-291) contains provisions in title VI "Cabin User Fee Fairness Act of 2000" to ensure consistent and fair processes for appraising the fee simple value of recreation residence lots on National Forest System (NFS) lands. This act (1) establishes in law that the base annual fee for recreation residences is 5 percent of the market value of the lot; (2) changes the appraisal cycle period from 20 years to 10 years; and (3) requires the Secretary of Agriculture to (a) complete an inventory of utilities, access, and facilities serving each recreation residence tract or lot and document who paid for the installation of those improvements; (b) develop a new set of guidelines for conducting appraisals for recreation residences on NFS lands; (c) use a different annual indexing indicator; and (d) issue new Agency direction to implement the provisions of the Act within 2 years of its passage (10/11/2000). The Forest Service proposes to publish notice in the Federal Register of policy changes to the Forest Service Manual (FSM 2723) and Handbooks (FSH 2709.11, sec. 33; and FSH 5409.12, ch. 6) that would make Agency direction consistent with the requirements in the Act for the base annual fee and appraisal cycle (described in the preceding items (1) and (2)) and to request public comment on those policy changes related to the inventory, guidelines for appraisals, and indexing indicator (described in the preceding items (3)(a) to (3)(d). Comments will be considered in development of the final policy.

424. • INVENTORIED ROADLESS AREAS

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 472; 16 USC 551; 16 USC 1604; 42 USC 4321

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 219

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Forest Service is seeking public comment on the management of Inventoried Roadless Areas. These areas cover 58.5 million acres, or nearly one-third of the National Forest System. On January 12, 2001, USDA published a final rule prohibiting road construction, reconstruction, and timber harvesting in Inventoried Roadless Areas on National Forest System lands. On May 4, 2001, the Secretary of Agriculture stated her intent to implement the rule, with modifications to be proposed later. On May 10, 2001, the District Court of Idaho preliminarily enjoined implementation of the rule. There are seven additional lawsuits seeking to overturn the rule. Continuing controversy over the rule, the process used to develop the rule, and the long-term protection of roadless values, as well as legal uncertainties, make it impractical to offer a proposed rule at this time. However, the Secretary wants public input on these issues. This advance notice of proposed rulemaking allows the Secretary to get comment without prejudicing the outcome of legal proceedings which, along with consideration of public comment and other input, will govern whether USDA will proceed to a proposed rule.

To stabilize the management situation while the roadless rule is being litigated, the Chief has issued interim directives to reserve the authority for approving timber harvest and road building in roadless areas. Notice of the interim directives was published in the Federal Register on August 22, 2001 (66 FR 44111) with a request for public comments for consideration in adopting final direction.

425. • NATIONAL FOREST SYSTEM LAND AND RESOURCE MANAGEMENT PLANNING

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 16 USC et seq; 5 USC 301

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 219, subpart A

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Forest Service is proposing to revise the November 9, 2000, land and resource management planning rule. This action responds to serious concerns raised by employees and others about the Agency's ability to implement some provisions of the November 2000 rule. The Agency's ability to promptly implement the November 9, 2000, planning regulations has also been called into question through pending litigation. A coalition of environmental organizations (Citizens for Better Forestry et al., v. USFS (N.D. Calif.)) and a coalition of timber and grazing interests (American Forest & Paper Association et al., v. Veneman (D. D.C.)) have filed separate lawsuits challenging both the implementability and the legality of the new planning regulations on a variety of grounds. The Forest Service has been asked to resolve deficiencies in the November 2000 rule. In so doing, the Forest Service plans to ensure that issues or deficiencies that have evolved from over 2 decades of forest planning are also addressed. The goal is to develop a new rule that improves the planning process, decisionmaking, and legal defensibility of land and resource management plans. The goal of the Department is to have a revised planning rule in place by the end of the calendar year.

426. • NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY ACT DOCUMENTATION FOR CERTAIN SMALL ADMINISTRATIVE TIMBER SALES ON NATIONAL FOREST SYSTEM LANDS AND RESEARCH PROJECTS (FOREST SERVICE HANDBOOK 1909.15, CHAPTER 30)

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: Not Yet Determined

CFR Citation: None

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: In 1999, as a result of a court action, the Forest Service lost the ability to use a categorical exclusion from National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) documentation for small timber sales. This category was used extensively for small timber sales to remove hazard trees, treat insect and disease outbreaks, and provide related timber products for local communities. As a consequence, the responsible official must now prepare an environmental assessment (EA) on these small volume timber sales (under 250,000 board feet of green timber or 1 million board feet of salvage timber). This has resulted in a Service-wide increase in environmental analysis costs and delays in beginning and completing these small timber sale projects on the National Forests and Research Experimental Forests. This proposal would categorically exclude from documentation in an EA or environmental impact statement (EIS) certain types of small timber sales in the National Forests and Research Experimental Forests and would enable the Agency to accomplish in a more timely and efficient manner the treatment of small fire hazard areas, insect and disease outbreaks, and hazard tree removal. This new categorical exclusion would be added to the existing categories for categorical exclusions in chapter 30 of Forest Service Handbook (FSH) 1909.15, and by Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ) regulation, this proposal requires public notice and opportunity to comment. For convenience and cost savings, the final directive may be issued temporarily as an interim directive to chapter 30 of FSH 1909.15 but would be incorporated as an amendment as soon as there are sufficient other changes to the chapter to warrant revision of the entire chapter. Decisions using this new category may be subject to a 30-day public comment period and administrative appeal under 36 CFR part 215

Abstract: In 1992, the Appeal Reform Act mandated the Forest Service to develop appeal regulations for site-specific projects on National Forest System lands. The regulations were promulgated in 1994. Seven years of experience have shown there are certain provisions in the regulations that consistently give rise to questions by employees and the public and reduce efficient processing of administrative appeals. This proposed rule would revise the appeal regulations to bring better focus to public participation and to improve consistency in the application of this regulation, both of which would result in improved efficiency of the appeals process for the public and the Government.

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 551; 23 USC 205

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 212

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: On January 12, 2001 (66 FR 3205), the Forest Service adopted a new road management policy to improve the analysis and decisionmaking of the National Forest System road system. As part of a Governmentwide review of recently adopted rules and policies announced January 20, the Chief has conducted an internal review of the new road management policy. As a consequence, the Agency has identified several changes to be made to Forest Service Manual (FSM) chapter 7710. The first of these was to issue an interim directive (ID No. 7710-2001-1) to redelegate the authority for extending deadlines for completion of forest-scale analysis from the Chief to the Regional Foresters. Additionally, the ID granted all units an additional year to complete road inventories and analysis. This ID was effective May 31, 2001. The Agency followed with a notice in the Federal Register with a request for comment, which has not yet been published. The Agency also has determined that the interim requirements of the road management policy limiting road construction in roadless and contiguous unroaded areas are not relevant to the road management policy; rather, these requirements should be dealt with in the context of overall management of roadless areas. Moreover, field units generally are finding it difficult to determine how to identify and map contiguous unroaded areas, and in some recent cases involving access to oil and gas and other minerals, the interim requirements are requiring EISs for minimal road construction or reconstruction along the edge of inventoried roadless areas and contiguous unroaded areas, with resultant delays in project decisions. The Agency is preparing a second ID to rescind these interim requirements. Although the ID will be immediately effective, a notice with a request for comment will be published in the Federal Register.

Abstract: This rule sets forth Forest Service procedures and role in the regulation of Indian allotments on National Forest System land. The Indian Allotment Act, as amended, authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to make allotments of National Forest System lands to Indians for homesteading and agricultural and grazing purposes. The Forest Service has relied upon USDI rules and procedures at 43 CFR 2533 to govern its involvement in Indian allotment cases. Litigation and a decision by the Interior Board of Land Appeals require the Forest Service to set forth its own regulations.

Abstract: Current regulations governing cancellation of National Forest timber sale contracts do not adequately protect the Government's financial interests in the event the Forest Service is forced to cancel contracts due to events beyond its control arising from compliance with environmental statutes. This rulemaking would remove an unworkable compensation-of-damages formula and establish a termination-for-environmental-protection clause in timber sale contracts, a standard in most Federal procurement contracts.

Abstract: The objective of this proposal is to incorporate into regulation the authority contained in the Mineral Leasing Act and the Federal Land Policy and Management Act to reimburse the United States for reasonable administrative costs associated with the issuance and administration of special-use authorizations on National Forest System lands. It responds to a recommendation contained in GAO Audit Report RCED-97-16 (12/96).

432. PREFERENCE FOR VISITOR SERVICE; ALASKA NATIONAL FOREST CONSERVATION SYSTEM UNITS

Legal Authority: 16 USC 3197

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 251

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Forest Service is issuing regulations to define and establish procedures for administering the statutory rights and preferences established by the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act of 1980 for historical operators, Native Corporations, and local residents to conduct revenue producing visitor services on certain National Forest System Lands in Alaska. The regulations are necessary to comply with section 1307 of the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act, which requires the Secretary of Agriculture to give preference to persons he determines by rule are local residents. The regulations, which have been developed in close consultation with the other Federal land managing agencies in Alaska, will apply only to Conservation System Units administered by the Forest Service. As applied to these regulations, administered Conservation System Units are Forest Service National Monuments and units of the National Wild and Scenic River Systems, National Trails System, and the National Wilderness Preservation System in Alaska.

433. CATEGORICAL EXCLUSION FOR CERTAIN SPECIAL USES PERMIT ACTIONS (FSH 1909.15, CHAPTER 30)

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 4321 to 4346

CFR Citation: Not Yet Determined

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: In April 1997, the Forest Service completed a reengineering study of its special uses program. One finding in that study was that the Forest Service is conducting extensive National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) analysis and documentation for the renewal or transfer of ownership of special use authorizations having no significant effect on the human environment, either individually or cumulatively. This level of NEPA compliance is costly, time consuming, and not commensurate with the risk attributed to the activity. Therefore, the Forest Service proposes to add a new category of categorical exclusions from NEPA documentation at sections 31.1b and 31.2 of FSH 1909.15, Environmental Policy and Procedures Handbook. This action would give clearer direction regarding the NEPA obligation, when issuance of a special use authorization is a purely ministerial action and no changes are proposed in permitted activities or facilities. Further, the Forest Service proposes to amend section 30.3 to clarify the NEPA documentation that is needed for processing applications and authorizations under a categorical exclusion when extraordinary circumstances exist. There is confusion surrounding section 30.3 about the "mere presence" of an extraordinary circumstance and the implication of a need for an Environmental Assessment (EA) or Environmental Impact Statement (EIS). The Forest Service proposes to amend this section to provide that an identified extraordinary circumstance must clearly have a significant impact on the National Forest resource to merit preparation of an EA or EIS.

434. • NATIONAL FOREST SYSTEM LAND AND RESOURCE MANAGEMENT PLANNING; EXTENSION OF COMPLIANCE DEADLINE

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1600 et seq; 5 USC 301

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 219, subpart A

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Department of Agriculture is proposing to amend the November 2000 land and resource management planning rule to extend for 1 year the date specified in 36 CFR 219.35(b) by which all plan amendments and revisions would be subject to the new planning rule requirements. This proposed rule will allow for public comment on the extension of the May 9, 2001, compliance date to May 9, 2002. The Department has determined that the May 9, 2001, date is impracticable for several reasons: (1) According to the new regulations, units not publishing a draft environmental document by May 9, 2001, would be required to abandon the 1982 rule procedures and start over using the new planning process. Approximately 20 units of the National Forest System have begun revising their plans under the 1982 rule, and numerous amendments are also underway. Extensive amounts of public involvement and analysis have already been invested in these efforts, and most of the units are not able to meet the May 9, 2001, deadline. The new regulations are substantially different from the 1982 regulations. As a consequence, the Agency would waste valuable time and resources halting and restarting these planning efforts already underway. For these reasons, it would be impracticable for the Department to require these units to adhere to the May 9, 2001, deadline. (2) Because of the complexity of the new regulations, the Agency has been unable to complete the necessary policy and procedural guidance needed to implement the new rule. In addition, training programs have not been developed, and technical support for many of the complex new analytical requirements of the new rule are not yet available. (3) The Department has been made aware of serious concerns about the Agency's ability to implement some provisions of the new planning rule. Therefore, extending the compliance date for 1 year to May 9, 2002, would also allow the Department to review the regulation carefully and determine if any adjustments are necessary to improve its implementation. Because the May 9, 2001, compliance date is imminent, the Department simultaneously published an interim final rule that would immediately extend the compliance deadline. While this interim action is necessary to grant relief to the approximately 20 units that have begun plan revisions under the 1982 regulations but cannot meet the impending deadline, the Department believes that the public should have an opportunity to comment on this extension. Consequently, the Department is planning to publish a proposed rule with a request for public comment.

Abstract: USDA published 7 CFR part 3015, Uniform Federal Assistance Regulations, in 1981 to establish and codify departmentwide policies and standards for administering grants and cooperative agreements to governmental and nongovernmental entities. Since that time, the Office of Management and Budget has lead efforts to establish Governmentwide common rules for governmental and nongovernmental recipients of grants and cooperative agreements. Consequently, over the years, USDA has codified its Governmentwide common rules in other parts of title 7 of the CFR. This has resulted in corresponding amendments to part 3015 to revise its scope accordingly. We are proposing to remove part 3015 and to add part 3020 to parts of title 7. We are proposing to include other administrative requirements that were never codified. The alternative would be to continue to work with the disjointed, outdated part 3015. Expected results are that the new part 3020 will be more clear and concise and will only contain those crosscutting requirements not included in other USDA departmentwide administrative regulations.

Abstract: The Rural Utilities Service is proposing to amend subpart D to provide the Administrator the flexibility to limit the amount of a loan to a successor (surviving business entity following a merger) to no more than 10 percent of the municipal loan authorization for a particular fiscal year, with the balance of the limited first loan request (if any) being considered in subsequent years. The Administrator will consider this limitation in years where a significant loan backlog is determined to exist.

Abstract: The Rural Utilities Service (RUS) proposes to amend its debt settlement procedures to allow its Administrator to modify the requirements borrowers must meet to receive debt settlements. Currently, all borrowers must meet the same requirements regardless of the amount of debt or other circumstances. The intent of the proposed change is to facilitate debt settlements where the RUS Administrator determines that the Government's interest in the debt can still be protected without having the borrower meet each of the current requirements. Such determinations would be made on a case by case basis. While the change is expected to improve the efficiency of debt settlements, it is not intended to alter the basic outcome of such settlements.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 3801 et seq

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 12

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The 1985 Farm Bill, as amended, gives producers a major incentive to conserve wetlands by tying eligibility for most USDA program benefits to conservation of wetlands. However, producers can convert wetlands based on available exemptions, including a minimal effect exemption. A minimal effect applies if the action, individually and cumulatively, will have minimal effect on the functional hydrological and biological value of the wetlands in the area. A categorical minimal effect is one that, when carried out, will always have a minimal effect on the hydrologic and biological functions of wetlands in the area. These activities will be identified on a regional basis.

Abstract: The Forestry Incentives Program (FIP) supports good forest management practices on privately owned, non-industrial forest lands nationwide. FIP is designed to benefit the environment while meeting future demands for wood products. The Cooperative Forestry Assistance Act of 1978, as amended by Public Law 95-313, is the source of authority for FIP. FIP was reauthorized for fiscal year 2002 by Public Law 104-127. Legal Authority: 16 USC 2005b

Abstract: Private grazing land constitutes nearly one-half of the non-Federal land of the United States and is basic to environmental, social, and economic stability of rural areas. In fact, grazing land constitutes the single largest watershed cover type in the United States and contributes significantly to the quality and quantity of water for all of the many uses in the watershed. Congress recognized the importance of grazing lands in subtitle H, section 386, of the Federal Agriculture Improvement and Reform Act of 1996 by authorizing the Secretary to provide a coordinated technical, educational, and related assistance program to conserve and enhance private grazing lands.

October 2001 Semiannual Agenda of Regulations

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, Commerce.

ACTION: Semiannual regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: In compliance with Executive Order 12866 entitled "Regulatory Planning and Review" and the Regulatory Flexibility Act, as amended, the Department of Commerce, in April and October of each year, publishes in the Federal Register an agenda of regulations under development or review over the next 12 months. Rulemaking actions are grouped according to prerulemaking, proposed rules, final rules, long-term actions, and rulemaking actions completed since the April 2001 agenda. The purpose of the agenda is to provide information to the public on regulations currently under review, being proposed, or issued by the Department. The agenda is intended to facilitate comments and views by interested members of the public.

The Department's October 2001 regulatory agenda includes regulatory activities that are expected to be conducted during the period October 1, 2001, through September 30, 2002.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Specific: For additional information about specific regulatory actions listed in the agenda, contact the individual identified as the contact person.

General: Comments or inquiries of a general nature about the agenda should be directed to Daniel Cohen, Chief Counsel for Regulation, Office of the Assistant General Counsel for Legislation and Regulation, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, DC 20230; telephone: 202-482-3151.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Executive Order 12866 requires agencies to publish an agenda of those regulations that are under consideration pursuant to this order. By memorandum of July 10, 2001, the Office of Management and Budget issued guidelines and procedures for the preparation and publication of the October 2001 Unified Agenda of Federal Regulatory and Deregulatory Actions. The Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., requires agencies to publish, in April and October of each year, a regulatory flexibility agenda which contains a brief description of the subject area of any rule which is likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. The agenda also identifies those entries that have been selected for periodic review under section 610 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

This edition of the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulatory and Deregulatory Actions includes The Regulatory Plan, which appears in part II of this issue of the Federal Register. The Department of Commerce's Statement of Regulatory Priorities is included in part II.

Explanation of Information Contained in the Agenda

Within the Department, the Office of the Secretary and various operating units may issue regulations. Operating units, such as the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), the Bureau of Export Administration, and the Patent and Trademark Office issue the greatest share of the Department's regulations.

A large number of regulatory actions reported in the agenda deal with fishery management programs of NOAA's National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS). To avoid repetition of programs and definitions, as well as to provide some understanding of the technical and institutional elements of the NMFS programs, a section on "Explanation of Information Contained in NMFS Regulatory Entries" is provided below.

Explanation of Information Contained in NMFS Regulatory Entries

The Magnuson-Stevens Fishery Conservation and Management Act (16 U.S.C. 1801 et seq.) (Act) governs the management of fisheries within the Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ). The EEZ refers to those waters from the outer edge of the State boundaries, generally 3 nautical miles, to a distance of 200 nautical miles. Fishery Management Plans (FMPs) are to be prepared for fisheries, which require conservation and management measures. Regulations implementing these FMPs regulate domestic fishing and foreign fishing where permitted. Foreign fishing can be conducted in a fishery in which there is no FMP only if a preliminary fishery management plan has been issued to govern that foreign fishing. Under the Act, eight Regional Fishery Management Councils (Councils) prepare FMPs or amendments to FMPs for fisheries within their respective areas. In the development of such plans or amendments and their implementing regulations, the Councils are required by law to conduct public hearings on the draft plans and to consider the use of alternative means of regulating.

The Council process for developing FMPs and amendments makes it difficult for NMFS to determine the significance and timing of some regulatory actions under consideration by the Councils at the time the semiannual regulatory agenda is published.

The DOC October 2001 regulatory agenda follows.

Theodore Kassinger,

Final Rule Stage

480. NONDISCRIMINATION ON THE BASIS OF RACE, COLOR, NATIONAL ORIGIN, HANDICAP, AND AGE IN PROGRAMS AND ACTIVITIES RECEIVING FEDERAL FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 794; 42 USC 2000d to 2000d-7; 42 USC 6101 to 6107; EO 12250

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 8; 15 CFR 8b; 15 CFR 8c; 15 CFR 20

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Department of Commerce proposes to make amendments to its regulations implementing Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (Title VI), Section 504 of The Rehabilitation Act of 1972 (section 504), and the Age Discrimination Act of 1975 (Age Discrimination Act). Together, these statutes prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, disability, and age in programs or activities that receive Federal financial assistance. In 1988, the Civil Rights Restoration Act (CRRA) added definitions of "program or activity" and "program" to title VI and added a definition of "program or activity" to section 504 and the Age Discrimination Act. The added definitions were designed to clarify the broad scope of coverage of recipients' programs or activities under these statutes. The promulgation of this proposed regulation explicitly incorporates the CRRA's definition of "program or activity" and "program" into the Department's title VI, section 504, and Age Discrimination Act regulations. The Department's proposed regulation will be published as part of a joint notice of proposed rulemaking involving up to 24 Federal agencies.

490. REPORTING VALUE ON SHIPPER'S EXPORT DECLARATION FOR INLAND FREIGHT AND INSURANCE CHARGES

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 13 USC 301; 13 USC 302

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 30.7(q)

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Bureau of the Census is amending the Foreign Trade Statistics Regulations to clarify the provisions for reporting the value of merchandise on the Shipper's Export Declaration (SED) when the inland and freight and insurance charges are not known. Current provisions define the value to be reported on the SED as the value at the U.S. port of export including inland freight and insurance charges. In situations where inland freight and insurance charges are not known the Census Bureau will require that the exporter add 3 percent of the value of the commodity to the value to determine the total value to be reported on the SED.

Abstract: On November 29, 1993, Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-110, "Uniform Administrative Requirements for Grants and Agreements, with Institutions of Higher Education, Hospitals, and Other Nonprofit Organizations" was published in the Federal Register (58 FR 62992). In the published revised circular, OMB specified as "required action" that Federal agencies responsible for awarding and administering grants and other agreements to recipients described therein, shall adopt the language of the Circular unless other provisions are required by Federal Statute or exceptions or deviations are approved by OMB. This interim final rule adopts the provisions of the Circular and its language to the maximum extent feasible with minor language changes made to make the language apply specifically to the DOC and its operating units.

Abstract: On January 22, 2001, the Department of Commerce issued interim regulations implementing section 501(e) and section 504(b) of the Trade and Development Act of 2000 (the Act). Section 501(e) requires the President to fairly allocate tariff rate quotas on the import of certain worsted wool fabrics, tariff rate quotas which were established by sections 501(a) and 501(b) of the Act. Section 504(b) authorizes the President to modify the limitations on worsted wool fabric imports under the tariff rate quotas. The President has delegated to the Secretary of Commerce the authority to allocate the quantity of imports under the tariff rate quotas and to determine whether the limitations on the quantity of imports under the tariff rate quotas should be modified. Final regulations will be issued after the period for notice and comment has expired.

Abstract: The Bureau of Export Administration (BXA) is reviewing the existing license exemption contained within the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) for the export of missile technology (MT)-controlled items to Canada to determine whether the exemption should be rescinded, because of the recommendations contained in the Government Accounting Office Report entitled: "Export Controls: Regulatory Change Needed to Comply with Missile Technology Licensing Requirements" (GA-01-530). BXA is seeking comments on how removing the existing licensing exemption for MT-controlled exports to Canada would affect industry and more specifically the exporting community.

Abstract: On September 17, 1999, the President announced his decision to ease sanctions against North Korea. Under this new policy, most items subject to the EAR designated as EAR99 may be exported or reexported to North Korea without a license. In addition, BXA is changing the licensing policy for certain items on the Commerce Control List (CCL) destined to North Korean civil end-users from a policy of denial to case-by-case review. This regulation adds certain categories of items to the CCL for which a license will be required to North Korea. This easing of sanctions does not affect U.S. anti-terrorism or nonproliferation export controls on North Korea.

Abstract: This rule amends the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) by allowing foriegn-made retail commodities that incorporate a de minimis, i.e., low percentage, value of controlled U.S. origin software to be considered "not subject" to the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) after: a one time report has been submitted to the Bureau of Export Administration (BXA); 30 days have elapse since receipt of the report by BXA; and BXA has not informed the submitter of the report of any objections to the report. The review will determine if the foriegn-made commodity meets the criteria for "retail" and verify the calculations of the de minimis value.

Abstract: The Bureau of Export Administration (BXA) licenses items subject to the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) that are classified on the Commerce Control List (CCL) and require a license. The information on a license application is deemed to be a continuing representation of the existing facts or circumstances of the transaction. If a license application is under consideration by BXA, any material or substantive change in the terms of the order, or in the facts relating to the transaction, must be promptly reported to BXA. However, if a license has been issued and information submitted on the original license application has changed or will change, and these changes are not specifically excepted by the EAR, then the licensee must apply for either a new license or a replacement license to obtain prior authorization for these changes before exporting or reexporting. This rule clarifies the instructions for applying for a replacement license.

Abstract: This rule amends the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) to implement certain provisions of the Trade Sanctions Reform and Export Enhancement Act (TSRA) of 2000. The TSRA requires the President to terminate existing U.S. unilateral agricultural and medical sanctions and also provides that the export of agricultural commodities, medicines and medical devices to designated terrorist countries be made in accordance with the licensing regime described in that Act. The Department of Commerce is implementing TSRA as it relates to exports of agricultural commodities to Cuba. This rule establishes License Exception Agricultural Commodities (AGR) to permit exports and reexports to Cuba of agricultural commodities that are not specifically identified on the Commerce Control List (CCL) and are classified as EAR99. The Department of the Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) is implementing TSRA as it relates to exports to Iran, Libya, and Sudan of agricultural commodities, medicines and medical devices that are not specifically identified on the CCL and are classified as EAR99.

Abstract: This rule amends the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) to implement United Nations Security Council (UNSC) Resolutions 1333 of

DOC—BXA

Final Rule Stage

December 19, 2000 and 1343 of March 7, 2001, which mandated embargoes on the sale or supply of arms-related items, including technical assistance and training, to the Taliban and to Liberia, respectively. These steps taken by the Bureau of Export Administration (BXA) supplement controls implemented by the Department of State on exports of defense articles and services to the Taliban and to Liberia under the International Traffic in Arms Regulations. BXA already requires a license for the export and reexport to Afghanistan and Liberia of most of the items subject to the EAR that fall within the scope of the UNSC mandated ban on arms-related items (e.g., items controlled for regional stability and crime control reasons).

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1361 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 216

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: NMFS has received a request from the Alaska Aerospace Development Corporation (AADC) for a Letter of Authorization (LOA) to take small numbers of marine mammals incidental to rocket launches from the Kodiak Launch Complex (KLC), Kodiak Island, Alaska. As a result of that request, NMFS is proposing regulations that would authorize the incidental taking of a small number of marine mammals. In order to issue such regulations, NMFS must determine that these takings will have a negligible impact on the affected species and stocks of marine mammals and will not have an unmitigable adverse impact on the availability of marine mammal species or stocks for subsistence uses.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 600

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: Amend the foreign fishing regulations at 50 CFR part 600 subpart F to authorize foreign fishing under a Pacific Insular Area Fishery Agreement (PIAFA). Foreign fishing vessels fishing under a PIAFA would be authorized to fish in the EEZ around American Samoa, Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands and other U.S. insular areas in the Pacific. Prior to the negotiation of a PIAFA, American Samoa, Guam and the Northern Mariana Islands must develop a three-year Marine Conservation Plan (MCP) detailing the use of funds collected under a PIAFA. A MCP must be consistent with relevant Fishery Management Plans. The Magnuson-Stevens Act further provides that fees received by the Secretary for foreign fishing under a PIAFA for American Samoa, Guam, or the Northern Mariana Islands shall be deposited into the United States Treasury and then covered over to the Treasury of the Pacific Insular Area for which the funds were collected.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 600

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This action would revise current exempted fishing regulations to specifically authorize the use of an exempted fishing permit as the method of allowing the compensation of private vessels for their conduct of resource assessment. Specific methodology for vessel compensation would be developed on a fishery-by-fishery basis. The rule would also make other minor changes in the regulations.

564. REGULATORY AMENDMENT TO FUND PURCHASE OF LIMITED ENTRY TRAWL PERMITS TO REDUCE EXCESS CAPACITY IN PACIFIC COAST GROUNDFISH FLEET

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 660

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, Final regulations to be published within 30 days of end of final rule comment period.

Abstract: Regulations would authorize Federal purchase of Pacific Coast groundfish limited entry trawl permits, under section 312(b) of the Magnuson-Stevens Fishery Conservation and Management Act, "Fishing Capacity Reduction Program." Federal purchase of trawl permits would be considered a "loan" to the trawl fleet, which would be repaid by that fleet through a tax on groundfish landings by limited entry trawl vessels. The goal of this program would be to match effort within the fishery more closely with available resources.

Proposed Rule Stage

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, Final regulations to be published within 30 days of end of NPRM comment period.

Abstract: The Generic Tortugas Amendment would amend the Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council's fishery management plans to establish the portion of the Tortugas North ecological reserve that falls within the Gulf of Mexico EEZ and to establish the Tortugas South Ecological Reserve, which resides entirely within the EEZ and includes Riley's Hump (a fish spawning aggregation site). Fishing for any species, including Atlantic highly migratory species, would be prohibited within these marine reserves. Additionally, anchoring by fishing vessels would be prohibited within the marine reserves. Along with regulations issued by the Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary (under NOAA's National Ocean Service), the Generic Tortugas Amendment would protect unique and valuable reef resources.

594. REGULATORY AMENDMENT MODIFYING THE GULF OF MEXICO BRD PROTOCOL UNDER THE FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN FOR THE SHRIMP FISHERY OF THE GULF OF MEXICO (FMP)

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 622

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, Final regulations to be published within 30 days of end of NPRM comment period.

Abstract: In accordance with the FMP's framework procedure for regulatory adjustments, the Gulf Council requested that NMFS develop alternative data collection procedures and statistical tests to certify bycatch reduction devices (BRDs) for use in the shrimp fishery of the Gulf of Mexico. The regulation would provide additional flexibility in sampling procedures to facilitate BRDS meeting the testing/certifying protocol's requirements while maintaining the scientific and statistical credibility in achieving the FMP's established bycatch reduction criterion for certified BRDs.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 622

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, Final regulations to be published within 30 days of end of NPRM comment period.

Abstract: In accordance with the framework procedure of the Fishery Management Plan for the Shrimp Fishery of the South Atlantic Region, the South Atlantic Fishery Management Council proposes to modify the data collection procedures and statistical tests used to certify BRDs for use in the Shrimp Fishery. The regulation would provide additional flexibility in the sampling procedures to facilitate meeting the protocol's requirements while maintaining the scientific and statistical credibility in achieving the established bycatch reduction criterion.

596. FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN FOR SARGASSUM HABITAT OF THE SOUTH ATLANTIC (FMP)

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 622

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, Final regulations to be published within 30 days of end of NPRM comment period.

Abstract: Sargassum habitat is defined as essential fish habitat for several managed fish stocks in the South Atlantic region under the provisions of the South Atlantic Fishery Management Council's fishery management plans. To further conserve and manage Sargassum habitat, the Council's proposed new FMP would restrict the commercial harvest of Sargassum to avoid further expansion of the current limited fishery and to reduce the potential for habitat loss.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 660

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, Final regulations to be published within 30 days of end of NPRM comment period.

Abstract: This FMP amendment would facilitate and enable adjustments to management measures for the precious coral fisheries in the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands (CNMI). Possible regulatory changes could include inclusion of the EEZ around CNMI, within the management area of the FMP, as well as permit and reporting requirements for harvesters in this area.

602. AMENDMENTS TO FMPS FOR GULF OF MEXICO REEF FISH AND GULF OF MEXICO AND SOUTH ATLANTIC COASTAL MIGRATORY PELAGIC RESOURCES TO LIMIT ENTRY INTO GULF OF MEXICO RECREATIONAL-FOR-HIRE FISHERIES

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 622

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, Final regulations to be published within 30 days of the end of NPRM comment period.

Abstract: These amendments to the Fishery Management Plan (FMP) for the Reef Fish Resources of the Gulf of Mexico and to the FMP for the Coastal Migratory Pelagic Resources of the Gulf of Mexico and South Atlantic would impose additional measures limiting entry into the recreational-for-hire (i.e., charter vessel and headboat) fisheries for reef fish and coastal migratory pelagic fish (e.g., king and Spanish mackerel) in the exclusive economic zone of the Gulf of Mexico. NMFS published an advanced notice of proposed rulemaking announcing that the Council was considering November 18, 1999, as a possible control date for this action (63 FR 64031). The FMP amendments would address the issue of the recreational sectors exceeding their annual allocations.

Abstract: This rulemaking would implement several recommendations adopted by the International Commission for the Conservation of Atlantic Tunas (ICCAT) in November 2000. These recommendations include a ban on the importation of bigeye tuna from non-members Belize, Honduras, Cambodia, and St. Vincent and the Grenadines, and ICCAT member Equatorial Guinea, the development of statistical document programs for swordfish and bigeye tuna to monitor harvests and assist in the collection of trade data, the establishment of a 400 metric ton conservation reserve for North Atlantic swordfish and the establishment of a 2001 catch limit for South Atlantic swordfish, consistent with catch limits in recent years. Priority: Other Significant

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 697

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: NMFS announces that it is considering, and seeking public comment on, revisions to Federal American lobster regulations for Federal permit holders associated with Amendment 3 of the Interstate Fishery Management Plan for American Lobster (ISFMP). Addendum I to Amendment 3 of the ISFMP, approved by the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission (ASMFC) on August 3, 1999, provides for the control of fishing effort as determined by historical participation in the American lobster trap fisheries in offshore waters of the Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ) and areas of the EEZ closer to shore between New York and North Carolina. The addendum also clarifies lobster management area boundaries in Massachusetts waters. In addition, the ISFMP calls for the implementation of conservation equivalent trap limits in New Hampshire waters.

Proposed Rule Stage

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: In accordance with the Atlantic Coastal Fisheries Cooperative Management Act (Act), 16 U.S.C. et seq., NMFS announces that it is considering, and seeking public comment on, revisions to Federal American lobster regulations for the Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ) in response to recommendations from the Atlantic States Marine Fisheries Commission (ASMFC) to NMFS in Addendum II to Amendment 3 of the Interstate Fishery Management Plan for American Lobster (ISFMP). Addendum II, approved by the ASMFC on February 1, 2001, revises the Amendment 3 egg production schedule in each of seven lobster conservation management areas (LCMAs) to end overfishing of American lobster stocks by the end of 2008. The management measures defined in Addendum II to meet the egg production targets include a series of minimum gauge size increases (increases in the minimum allowable harvest size of American lobster) in five of the seven LCMAs, trap gear modifications, and a 4-year trap reduction schedule for LCMA 3.

619. • FISHING CAPACITY REDUCTION PROGRAM FOR THE CRAB SPECIES COVERED BY THE FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN FOR THE BERING SEA/ALEUTIAN ISLANDS KING AND TANNER CRABS

Priority: Economically Significant. Major under 5 USC 801.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1861a; 46 USC 1279f; PL 106-554

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 600

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, May 1, 2001, Publish Final Regulations. Other, Statutory, December 31, 2001, Complete Fishing Capacity Reduction Program.

Abstract: Establishes a fishing capacity reduction program in the fishery for the crab species covered by the Fishery Management Plan for the Bering Sea/Aleutian Islands King and Tanner Crabs. The crab reduction program makes payments for revoking crab licenses in, and withdrawing fishing vessels from, the crab fishery. Reducing the number of crab licenses and vessels in the crab fishery increases post-reduction harvesting productivity, helps conserve and manage the crab resources, and fosters the potential for rationalizing crab fishery harvesting effort. The proposed regulations add a new section 600.1018 to the fishing capacity reduction framework regulations contained in subpart L to 50 CFR part 600.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

Abstract: This action proposes to extend the implementation date of the year-four default management measures for small-mesh multispecies (whiting, red hake and offshore hake) for one year to May 1, 2003. Under the year-four default measures, which are currently scheduled to become effective on May 1, 2002, vessels would be prohibited from fishing for whiting with mesh less than 3 inches (square or diamond) in almost all New England and Mid-Atlantic fisheries, and a 10,000 lb possession limit would automatically be implemented for whiting and offshore hake, combined.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 660

Legal Deadline: NPRM, Statutory, Final Rule must be published 30 days after end of comment period on Proposed Rule.

Abstract: This proposed regulation would alter sablefish tier qualification requirements at 50 CFR 660 to include sablefish landings made in the 1984-1986 setnet sablefish fishery. This is a minor regulation intended to allow sablefish endorsement holders to qualify for sablefish tier assignment based on both fixed gear sablefish landings and on experimental setnet sablefish landings, and will not change the effect of the fishery on the sablefish resource nor change the overall sablefish harvest level.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 622

Legal Deadline: NPRM, Statutory, October 2001.
Final, Statutory, April 2002.

Abstract: This rule would implement Amendment 5 to the Fishery Management Plan for the Shrimp Fishery of the South Atlantic Region (FMP). This rule proposes to: (1) Establish a license limitation program for the rock shrimp fishery prosecuted south of the South Carolina-Georgia border in the South Atlantic Region that: (a) have held a valid rock shrimp permit prior to December 31, 1999; and (b) can demonstrate landings of at least 15,000 pounds in any one year from 1996 to 1999; (2) require captains operating permitted vessels fishing for rock shrimp in the South Atlantic EEZ to have a vessel operator's permit issued by the National Marine Fisheries Service to participate in the fishery; (3) require the minimum allowable mesh size for a trawl used to fish in the South Atlantic EEZ for rock shrimp be 1 and 7/8 inch stretched mesh; and (4) any vessel fishing for rock shrimp in the South Atlantic Council's EEZ will be required to use an approved vessel monitoring system that would not exceed $1,200 in cost for equipment and installation. Annual communication costs would not exceed $800.
This amendment would be controversial.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 660

Abstract: These actions would publish proposed and final rules for a Fishery Management Plan for Highly Migratory Species Fisheries off the West Coast (FMP). The FMP is currently under development by the Pacific Fishery Management Council (Council) under the terms of the Magnuson-Stevens Act and other applicable law. The FMP will both establish a process for implementing regulations as deemed necessary in the future and provide a basis for initial regulation of selected fishery sectors (e.g., drift gillnet and longline) to ensure conservation of the fish stocks involved and protection of species of special concern such as sea turtles and seabirds. The FMP will include substantial environmental and economic analyses consistent with the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act, the Regulatory Flexibility Act, and Executive Order 12296 and other laws and orders. Steps for reviewing and implementing approved elements of the FMP are set forth in the Magnuson-Stevens Act and include provisions for Abstract: NMFS has received a request from the 30th Space Wing for and proposes to issue a modification to the monitoring requirements of the 5-year programmatic regulations governing the incidental take of marine mammals during rocket launch operations (50 CFR 216.120-128). The requested modification would reduce the current requirement to perform biological monitoring during all space vehicle launches at Vandenberg Air Force Base, CA (VAFB) during any time of the year to space vehicle launches at VAFB during only the Pacific harbor seal (Phoca vitulina richardsi) pupping season (March 1 to June 30). This request is based on a scientific research program and the bioacoustic monitoring of space vehicle launches conducted from 1997 through 2001 at VAFB.

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 222; 50 CFR 223; 50 CFR 224

Abstract: NMFS proposes to protect sea turtles through the implementation of sea turtle conservation measures on nonshrimp fisheries. Bottom trawlers in the mid-Atlantic take sea turtles when not using turtle excluder devices (TEDs) and may jeopardize the continued existence of endangered sea turtles. NMFS proposes to require TEDs in all bottom trawlers operating from Texas through Delaware. Other non-shrimp fisheries using tow lines, gill nets, or other gear probably take significant numbers of sea turtles. In order to better quantify that level of take, NMFS proposes to require observers in all fisheries suspected of taking turtles in all U.S. waters.

641. SEA TURTLE CONSERVATION REGULATIONS; SHRIMP FISHERY

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 223

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: NMFS issues this advance notice of proposed rulemaking (ANPRM) to announce that it is considering publishing regulations that would make technical changes to the requirements for turtle excluder devices (TEDs) to increase their effectiveness. In particular, NMFS is considering increasing the size of TED escape openings to allow larger turtles to escape. The options NMFS is currently considering are: Requiring the leatherback opening with a minimum 32-inch grid in all areas (71-inch opening), or requiring a 35-inch by 16-inch opening with a minimum 30-inch grid in all areas. In addition, NMFS is considering other modifications to the TED regulations, including modifying or decertifying hooped hard TEDs and weedless TEDs, changing the requirements for the types of flotation devices allowed, and extending the requirement to have a short flap and grid angle of no greater than 45 degree on bottom opening TEDs (other than TEDs equipped with the leatherback opening) to all areas in the U.S. Gulf of Mexico and the Southeast U.S. Atlantic. NMFS is also considering modifications to the leatherback contingency plan (50 CFR 223.206(d)(2)(iv)) to provide better protection to leatherback turtles.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 660

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, Final regulations to be published within 30 days of end of NPRM comment period.

Abstract: This rule would prohibit the use of set net gear to take groundfish species in a portion of the exclusive economic zone (EEZ) seaward of California. This rule has been requested by the Pacific Fishery Management Council (Council) under procedures in the Pacific Groundfish Fishery Management Plan (FMP) that allow for implementing Federal regulations to conform to State regulations for the groundfish fishery in selected circumstances. The Council has determined that the State regulations prohibiting the use of set net gear used to take groundfish species in certain areas are consistent with the FMP and requested Federal adoption of consistent regulations in the EEZ. The conformance with State regulations is desired to ensure consistent application of conservation and management measures and enforcement in the EEZ and in State waters to the extent practicable.

Abstract: This regulatory action implements the terms and conditions of a biological opinion on the effects of the continued operation of the Hawaii-based longline fishery on the short-tailed albatross, and seabird mitigation measures proposed by the Western Pacific Fishery Management Council. All operators of vessels registered for use under Hawaii pelagic longline limited access permits will be required to use specific bird mitigation techniques when fishing with pelagic longline gear north of 23 degrees N. latitude; all vessel operators and owners must annually attend a protected species workshop conducted by NMFS; and all hooked or entangled sea birds, including the endangered short-tailed albatross, must be released in a manner that maximizes their post-release survival.

661. PACIFIC COAST GROUNDFISH FISHERY; ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE 2002 GROUNDFISH FISHERY SPECIFICATIONS AND MANAGEMENT MEASURES

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 660

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: NMFS announces the 2001 fishery specifications and management measures for groundfish taken in the U.S. exclusive economic zone (EEZ) and State waters of the coasts of Washington, Oregon, and California. The specifications include the levels of the acceptable biological catch (ABC) and optimum yields (OYs). The commercial OYs (the OYs reduced by expected discard and by amounts expected to be taken in tribal, recreational, and compensation fisheries) are allocated between the limited entry and open access fisheries. The management measures for 2002 are designed to keep landings within the OYs for those species for which there are OYs and to achieve the goals and objectives of the Pacific Coast Groundfish Fishery Management Plan (FMP) and associated rebuilding plans for overfished stocks, consistent with the requirements of the Magnuson-Stevens Fishery Conservation and Management Act (Magnuson-Stevens Act) and the guidelines based on the National Standards in the Magnuson-Stevens Act published in the Federal Register on May 1, 1998. These management measures are intended to prevent overfishing and to rebuild Pacific Coast groundfish stocks. These measures are also intended to achieve as much harvest of healthier stocks as possible given the conservation requirements of the Magnuson-Stevens Act.

664. ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE OPTIMUM YIELD AND HARVEST LIMIT FOR PACIFIC SARDINES

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 660

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, January 2002.
The Coastal Pelagics Fisheries regulations require that the annual specifications for Pacific sardines be published in the Federal Register before January 1, the start of the year.

Abstract: NMFS announces the annual harvest guidelines for Pacific sardine in the exclusive economic zone off the Pacific coast. The coastal pelagic species fishery management plan and its implementing regulations require NMFS to establish annual harvest guidelines for Pacific sardine based on a formula in the FMP. The intended effect of this action is to establish allocated harvest levels for coastal pelagic species off the Pacific Coast.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 648

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This action was originally intended to focus on measures to decrease regulatory discards in the Gulf of Maine (GOM) cod fishery. However, based on the discard information and recreational catch information ascertained from the SARC 33 review of GOM cod in June 2001, management measures will be developed to decrease GOM cod discards and reduce mortality on GOM cod by 50 percent. This action also proposes to allow tuna purse seine vessels access to the current groundfish closed areas and expand the area available for the northern shrimp harvest in he GOM.

667. • WESTERN PACIFIC PELAGICS FISHERIES; HAWAII-BASED PELAGIC LONGLINE RESTRICTIONS AND SEASONAL AREA CLOSURE, SEA TURTLE AND SEA BIRD MITIGATION MEASURES

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 660

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: NMFS issues this emergency interim rule that governs a vessel registered for use under a Hawaii longline limited access permit (Hawaii longline vessel). The rule prohibits the targeting of swordfish north of the equator by Hawaii longline vessels; closes all longline fishing to Hawaii longline vessels during April and May in waters south of the Hawaiian Islands (from 15 N. lat. to the equator, and from 145 W. long. to 180 long.); allows re-registration of vessels to Hawaii longline limited access permits only in October; imposes additional sea turtle handling and resuscitation measures; and requires all Hawaii longline vessel operators to attend an annual protected species workshop. This emergency interim rule implements an Order issued on March 30, 2001, by the United States District Court for the District of Hawaii (Court). This Order superseded the Court's order of August 4, 2000, and this rule supersedes the emergency rules published on August 25, 2000; November 3, 2000; February 22, 2001; and March 19, 2001. Other parts of this rule implement the terms and conditions contained in a November 28, 2000, Biological Opinion (BO) issued by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service on the effects of the Hawaii-based longline fishery (Hawaii longline fishery) on the endangered short-tailed albatross. Specifically, this rule requires Hawaii longline vessels fishing above the main Hawaiian Islands (north of 23 N. lat.) to use completely thawed and blue-dyed bait; to use a longline setting machine, to deploy branch lines that are weighted; to strategically discard offal and spent bait; and to employ seabird handling and resuscitation techniques in the event a short-tailed albatross is incidentally taken. The BO also requires all Hawaii longline vessel operators to attend an annual protected species workshop.

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 424; 50 CFR 223; 50 CFR 224

Legal Deadline: NPRM, Judicial, July 31, 2001, Must publish the proposed status review by July 31 and allow for a 30-day public comment period. Final, Judicial, September 30, 2001, Must complete the final status review by September 30.

Abstract: The National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) conducted a status review of the Gulf of Maine/Bay of Fundy (GOM/BOF) stock of harbor porpoise (Phocoena phocoena). Based on analysis of the best scientific and commercial data available, as required by the Endangered Species Act (ESA), NMFS has determined that listing is not warranted at this time and intends to remove this stock from the ESA candidate species list. This notice requests comments on the status review and the determination to remove the GOM/BOF stock of harbor porpoise from the ESA candidate species list.

669. • ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA AND DEFINITIONS FOR WESTERN PACIFIC COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS AND WESTERN PACIFIC DEMONSTRATION PROJECTS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1855 i2A

CFR Citation: None

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: NMFS is seeking comments on definitions for terms used in eligibility criteria that communities of western Pacific indigenous peoples must satisfy in order to participate in Western Pacific Community Development Programs and to receive grants for proposals they submit pursuant to the Western Pacific Demonstration Projects Grants Program. Such grants awarded to successful applicant communities are designed to foster traditional, indigenous fishing practices in the western Pacific region. In this proposed rule NMFS also approves the eligibility criteria themselves that were submitted to NMFS by the Western Pacific Fishery Management Council. Finally, in this proposed rule NMFS announces the Western Pacific Demonstration Projects Grants Program and provides a brief description of the goals and structure of the grants program. NMFS will provide further details of the grants program in the final rule.

680. ESTABLISH GUIDELINES FOR NONLETHALLY DETERRING MARINE MAMMALS FROM ENDANGERING PERSONAL SAFETY OR DAMAGING PUBLIC OR PRIVATE PROPERTY

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1361 et seq The Marine Mammal Protection Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 216

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, January 1, 1995, Final regulations to be published within 30 days of the end of the NPRM comment period.

Abstract: On April 30, 1994, the President signed Pub. L. 103-238, the Marine Mammal Protection Act Amendments of 1994. One part of this law implemented a new section 101(a)(4) to authorize the nonlethal harassment takings by citizens of the United States to deter marine mammals from: (1) Damaging commercial fishing gear or catch; (2) damaging private property; (3) endangering public safety; or (4) damaging public property. The amendments require a list of guidelines for use in safely deterring marine mammals and provide for prohibiting certain deterrent measures that may have a significant adverse impact on marine mammals.

686. RULEMAKING FOR THE INCIDENTAL TAKING OF MARINE MAMMALS DURING WORLDWIDE DEPLOYMENT OF THE U.S. NAVY'S LOW FREQUENCY ACTIVE SONAR

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1361 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 216.101

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: NMFS has received an application from the U.S. Navy for authorization to take marine mammals incidental to the worldwide deployment of its new low frequency active sonar system. The U.S. Navy anticipates deployment of up to 4 shipboard systems within the next 5 years. This authorization can be granted under the Marine Mammal Protection Act provided the taking of marine mammals is incidental, is having no more than a negligible impact on small numbers of marine mammals and is not having an unmitigatable impact on Arctic subsistence needs. If an authorization is granted monitoring and reporting takings will be required.

DOC—NOAA

Final Rule Stage

687. SEA TURTLE CONSERVATION REGULATIONS; SUMMER FLOUNDER FISHERY

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 223; 50 CFR 222

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The National Marine Fisheries Service intends to amend the Turtle Excluder Device (TED) requirements for summer flounder trawlers at 50 CFR 223.206(d)(2)(iii). The rule change would require the use of a TED extension with a hard TED. The extension could not be more than 3.5-inch stretched mesh. The extension could extend not more than 24 inches and not less than 36 inches in front of and behind the TED. New information came to light over the winter and during TED testing in June 1999 that TED installation in larger mesh results in many turtle captures and deaths. The fishery will begin at the beginning of October, and many preventable sea turtle deaths would occur if the rule is not in place prior. Bringing the rule into effect during the course of the fishery would also be disruptive to the fishermen.
The rule is not significant and the cost to the fishermen for compliance will be minimal: less than $20 for materials and about 2 hours to reinstall the TED (many fishermen already reinstall their TEDs on an annual basis).

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seq; 16 USC 742a et seq; 31 USC 9701

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 223

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: NMFS proposes to amend the sea turtle handling and resuscitation regulations. Recent scientific and technical information indicate that the current procedures need to be updated. This measure is necessary to safely handle sea turtles that are incidentally captured during scientific research or in fishing operations.

689. TAKING OF THE COOK INLET, ALASKA, STOCK OF BELUGA WHALES BY ALASKA NATIVES

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1371

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 216

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: NMFS is regulating subsistence harvest of Cook Inlet Beluga to ensure that the harvest is sustainable and does not substantially delay the recovery of this marine mammal stock. Specific harvest levels and distribution of the harvest will be based upon cooperative agreements with Alaska native organizations.

Abstract: This proposed rule will amend the regulations of the Flower Garden Banks National Marine Sanctuary (FGBNMS or Sanctuary) governing anchoring of vessels within the boundaries. This change will conform domestic regulations with anchoring prohibitions adopted by the International Maritime Organization (IMO). This rule will prohibit all anchoring in the Sanctuary, except for vessels under 100 feet (30.48 meters) using sanctuary mooring buoys. This will prevent further injuries to corals in the sanctuary from anchoring impacts.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 660

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: At its meeting on February 14, 2001 the Western Pacific Fishery Management Council (Council) voted to establish a new control date for the Hawaii offshore pelagic handline fishery around the Cross Seamount, NOAA weather buoys, and "Bigeye Buoy" located in the U.S. exclusive economic zone around Hawaii. The control date enables the Council to inform fishermen that it is considering future action to limit the number of participants or effort and, during this period, discourage speculative entry into the fishery. Fishermen are also advised that anyone entering the fishery after the control date may not be assured of future access, regardless of their level of participation before or after the control date, if a limited access program for the fishery is developed by the council and approved by the National Marine Fisheries Service.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 971 et seq.; 16 USC 1801 et seq.

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 635

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: NMFS announces approval by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) of a collection-of-information requirement contained in the final consolidated regulations governing the Atlantic HMS fisheries. Accordingly, NMFS amends the regulations and makes effective the requirement that vessels taking paying customers to fish for Atlantic tunas, swordfish, sharks, and billfish obtain an Atlantic HMS Charter/Headboat permit. This final rule, technical amendment, also updates the table in 15 CFR 902.1(b) to add this OMB approval, to remove expired control numbers, and to correct control numbers to the appropriate CFR part or section.

769. • REGULATORY FRAMEWORK TO ALLOW INCIDENTAL HALIBUT RETENTION IN THE WEST COAST PRIMARY SABLEFISH FISHERY

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 773 to 773k

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 300

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: Allocation of Pacific halibut in west coast waters is governed by the Pacific Fishery Management Council's (Council) Pacific Halibut Catch Sharing Plan (Plan). According to the Plan, when the west coast total allowable catch (TAC) is above 900,00 pounds, a portion of the TAC will be available as incidental catch in the limited entry, primary sablefish longline fishery north of Point Chehalis, Washington. At its annual meeting in January 22-25, the International Pacific Halibut Commission set a 2001 Pacific halibut TAC for waters off Washington, Oregon, and California of 1,140,000 pounds. This is the first year since the adoption of the Plan that the TAC has been above 900,000 pounds. This proposed regulation would provide a framework in the halibut regulations at 50 CFR 300 to allow the Council and NMFS, in years when the west coast halibut TAC is above 900,000 pounds, to set annual halibut retention limits for vessels that catch halibut incidentally during the primary sablefish fishery. This is a non-controversial regulation, intended to provide sablefish longline vessels with access to the halibut quota set aside for their fisheries and will not change the effect of the fishery on the halibut resource nor change the overall halibut harvest level.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 648

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: NMFS is considering proposed rulemaking to control future access of the black sea bass (Centropristis striata) fishery under the Magnuson-Stevens Fishery Conservation and Management Act. This announcement is intended, in part, to discourage speculative increases in effort or capacity while The Mid-Atlantic Fishery Management Council and NMFS are considering whether and how to control capacity and latent effort in this fishery. The date of publication of this notification shall be known as the "control date" and may be used for establishing eligibility criteria for determining levels of future access to the black sea bass fishery subject to Federal authority.

771. • DEEP SEA RED CRAB FISHERY

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 648

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This interim rule would revise the multiplier used to determine the equivalent possession limit for butchered deep sea red crab. NMFS issued an emergency interim rule for the red crab fishery on May 8, 2001, effective through November 14, 2001. The rule implemented among other things a possession limit of 65,000 pounds of whole red crab (or its equivalent in butchered or processed product); and an incidental catch possession limit of 100 pounds of whole red crab (or its equivalent). The rule stated that butchered red crab are equivalent to whole red crab based on a estimated yield of 58 percent of that limit. NMFS received information to indicate that the multiplier of 1.72 is based on a more thorough butchering method than is typically employed by those who currently at sea. Based on information provided by industry and corroborated through a recent red crab sample analyzed by NMFS, the recovery rate for red crabs butchered consistent with the method used by industry is about 64 percent. The revised multiplier would be applied to the current possession limit.

Priority: Economically Significant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 2431 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 300

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: NMFS issues this interpretive rule regarding legal requirements applicable to receivers, dealers, importers, and exporters of, Dissostichus eleginoides (Patagonian toothfish) and Dissostichus mawsoni (Antarctic toothfish) harvested in all waters, including those under the jurisdiction of the Commission for the Conservation of Antarctic Marine Living Resources (CCAMLR). The Antarctic fisheries are managed under the authority of the Antarctic Marine Living Resources Convention Act of 1984 (AMLRCA) codified at 16 U.S.C. 2431 et seq. NMFS implements CCAMLR conservation measures by regulations at 50 CFR part 300, subpart G. Section 306 of the AMLRCA prohibits the import of illegally harvested toothfish. NMFS interprets this prohibition to extend over products illegally harvested, seized by foreign law enforcement authorities, and then offered on the market by the country which seized the toothfish. Import is prohibited even if such products are accompanied by a Dissostichus Catch Document issued by the country which seized the toothfish.

Abstract: NMFS is establishing conditions for the closure of the large-mesh gillnet fishery for monkfish in the mid-Atlantic to prevent unauthorized takings of sea turtles listed as threatened or endangered under the Endangered Species Act (ESA). Specifically, NMFS intends to place fishery observers aboard 100 percent of the vessels fishing for monkfish out of North Carolina in the months of April and May 2001 and out of Virginia ports in the months of May and June 2001, to monitor for sea turtle interactions. Documented sea turtle takes beyond the levels specified in the incidental take statement of the December 21, 1998, biological opinion for the monkfish fishery are not authorized. If the levels specified in the incidental take statement are met, NMFS will immediately file a notification with the Office of Federal Register. On and after the effective date of such notification for a 30-day period in all offshore Atlantic waters position of the northernmost documented sea turtle take. The closure will include all vessels using large mesh gillnets targeting monkfish. If necessary, the closure will be extended for additonal 30-day periods through the publication of additional notifications.

Abstract: The Assistant Administrator for Fisheries (AA), NOAA, announces temporary restrictions consistent with the requirements of the Atlantic Large Whale Take Reduction Plan's implementing regulations. The AA implements gear restrictions for an area totaling 460 square nautical miles (sq. nm) for 15 days to provide immediate protection to an aggregation of northern right whales. The AA also requests that fishermen adhere to voluntary measures for a 600 sq. nm precautionary area, which surrounds the restricted area.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1361 et seq; 16 USC 1531 to 1543

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, June 18, 2001, Emergency Rule.

Abstract: NMFS is requiring all pound net leaders measuring 8 inches or greater stretched mesh and pound net leaders with stringers to be tied up in the Virginia waters of the mainstem Chesapeake Bay and tributaries for a period of 30 days. The leaders shall be tied up in such a manner so that the mesh and stringers are rolled up and tied off, and are not fishing in the water. The closed area includes all Chesapeake Bay waters between the Maryland and Virginia state line (approximately 38 deg. N. latitude) and the COLREGS line at the mouth of the Bay, including the tidal waters of the James River, York River, and Rappahannock River. NMFS is taking this action because of the large number of sea turtle strandings in the Chesapeake Bay and unauthorized takes in the pound net fishery. If necessary, the closure may be extended for additional 30-day periods through the publication of additional notifications.

Section 11(f) of the ESA authorizes the Secretary of Commerce to promulgate regulations to enforce the requirements of the Act. Section 4(d) allows the Secretary of Commerce to promulgate protective regulations for threatened sea turtles. Regulations at 50 CFR 223.206(d)(4) specify procedures that the Assistant Administrator for Fisheries may use to impose additional restrictions to conserve listed sea turtles and prevent unauthorized takings.

794. • ELIMINATION OF THE PRACTICE OF INCLUDING COPIES OF U.S. PATENT DOCUMENTS WITH OFFICE ACTIONS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 35 USC 2(b)(2)

CFR Citation: 37 CFR 1

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The United States Patent and Trademark Office (Office) currently includes a copy of every document cited in an Office action with the Office action. Since the Office provides the public with access to copies of all U.S. patents and U.S. application publications through the Office's Internet Web site (www.uspto.gov), the Office considers including copies of U.S. patents and U.S. application publications with Office actions to be unnecessary. Thus, the Office is considering eliminating the practice of including copies of U.S. patents and U.S. patent application publications with Office actions. The Office would continue to include copies of foreign patent other publications and other documents (non-patent literature).

Abstract: In implementing the provisions of the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 related to the eighteen-month publication of patent applications, the United States Patent and Trademark Office (Office) revised the rules of practice related to requirements for claiming the benefit of a prior-filed application. The Office is revising the time period for claiming the benefit of a prior-filed application in an application filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT), revising the time period for filing an English language translation of a non-English language provisional application, and making other technical corrections to the rules of practice related to eighteen-month publication. The Office is also making permanent a temporary rule that amends the rules of practice to include the current statutory provisions that define when national stage commencement occurs in an application filed under the PCT.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 35 USC 2(b)(2)

CFR Citation: 37 CFR 1

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) enacted provisions for the continued examination of a utility or plant application at the request of the applicant (request for continued examination or RCE practice). Therefore, there no longer appears to be a need for continued prosecution application (CPA) practice as to utility and plant applications. Thus, the Office is eliminating CPA practice as to utility and plant applications. An applicant for a utility or plant patent may also continue to effectively obtain further examination of the application by filing a continuing application under section 1.53(b). Since RCE practice does not apply to design applications, CPA practice will remain in place for design applications.

Abstract: The purpose of the rules change is to amend 37 CFR part 2 to add new rules and change existing rules to implement the Madrid Protocol Implementaion Act, which would amend the Trademark Act of 1946, 15 U.S.C. 1051 et seq., to provide for the registration and protection of trademarks used in commerce, in order to carry out provisions of certain international conventions, and for other purposes. The Madrid Protocol Implementation Act (S. 407; H.R. 741) is now pending in both the House and Senate. Because the legislation has not yet passed either the House or Senate and is subject to amendment, we have not yet determined the specific rules that will be amended.

813. • PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE ACQUISITION REGULATION

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 35 USC 51 et seq, Patent and Trademark Office Efficiency Act

CFR Citation: Not Yet Determined

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: As a result of the passage of the Patent and Trademark Office Efficiency Act in 1999 (PTOEA), the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office was established as an agency within the Department of Commerce. In carrying out its functions, the USPTO is subject to the policy direction of the Secretary of Commerce, but otherwise allowed to exercise independent control of its procurements. The PTOEA specifically exempts the USPTO from the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949 (FPAS), 40 U.S.C. sec. 471 et seq. The USPTO proposes to implement acquisition regulations which reflect this specific statutory exemption from FPAS through the Patent and Trademark Office Acquisition Regulations (PTAR). In developing the PTAR, an analysis of the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) was conducted to determine which parts, subparts, and clauses specifically implemented FPAS. Only those parts of the FAR which are implemented by FPAS are therefore affected. The PTAR are written with the goal of streamlining acquisition procedures and, allowing maximum innovation, flexibility, and discretion to acquisition personnel where possible.

Improving Government Regulations; Unified Agenda of Federal Regulatory and Deregulatory Actions

AGENCY: Department of Defense (DoD).

ACTION: Semiannual regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: The Department of Defense (DoD) is publishing this semiannual agenda of regulatory documents, including those that are procurement-related, for public information and comments under Executive Order 12866 "Regulatory Planning and Review." This agenda incorporates the objective and criteria, when applicable, of the regulatory reform program under the Executive order and other regulatory guidance. It contains DoD issuances initiated by DoD components that may have economic and environmental impact on State, local, or tribal interests under the criteria of Executive Order 12866. Although most DoD issuances listed in the agenda are of negligible public impact, their nature may be of public interest and, therefore, are published to provide notice of rulemaking and an opportunity for public participation in the internal DoD rulemaking process.

For this edition of the Department of Defense's regulatory agenda, the most important significant regulatory actions are included in The Regulatory Plan, which appears in part II of this issue of the Federal Register. The Regulatory Plan entries are listed in the table of contents below and are denoted by a bracketed bold reference, which directs the reader to the appropriate sequence number in part II.

The agenda portion of this document updates the report published on May 14, 2001, and includes regulations expected to be issued and under review over the next 12 months. The next agenda is scheduled to be published in April 2002, with the next regulatory plan scheduled to be published in October 2002. In addition to this agenda, DoD components also publish rulemaking notices pertaining to their specific statutory administration requirements as required.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For information concerning the overall DoD regulatory improvement program and for general semiannual agenda information, contact Mr. Robert Cushing, telephone 703-604-6269, or write to Directorate for Information Operations and Reports, Washington Headquarters Services, 1215 Jefferson Davis Highway, Suite 1204, Arlington, Virginia 22202-4302, or e-mail: cushingr@dior.whs.mil.

For questions of a legal nature concerning the agenda and its statutory requirements or obligations, write to Office of the General Counsel, 1600 Defense Pentagon, Washington, DC 20301-1600, or call 703-697-2714.

For general information on Office of the Secretary regulations, other than those which are procurement-related, contact Mr. Dan Cragg, telephone 703-601-4722, or write to Directives and Records Division, Directorate for Correspondence and Directives, Washington Headquarters Services, Suite 501, 1111 Jefferson Davis Highway, Arlington, Virginia 22202, or e-mail: dcragg@cd.whs.mil.

For general information on Office of the Secretary agenda items which are procurement-related, contact Ms. Gail Cruz, telephone 703-602-0131, or write to Defense Acquisition Regulations Directorate, 3062 Defense Pentagon, Washington, DC 20301-3062, or e-mail: gail.cruz@osd.mil.

For general information on Department of the Army regulations, contact Ms. Luz D. Ortiz, telephone 703-806-3708, or write to the U.S. Army Records Management and Declassification Agency, ATTN: TAPC-PDD-RP, 6000 6th Street, Stop 5603, Fort Belvoir, Virginia 22060-5603, or e-mail: luz.ortiz@rmda.belvoir.army.mil.

For general information on the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers regulations, contact Mr. Chip Smith, telephone 703-693-3644, or write to Office of the Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Army (Policy and Legislation), 108 Army Pentagon, Room 2E569, Washington, DC 20310-0108, or e-mail: chip.smith@hqda.army.mil.

For general information on Department of the Navy regulations, contact Lieutenant Commander Thomas Welsh, telephone 703-604-8208, or write to Department of the Navy, Office of the Judge Advocate General, Administrative Law Division (Code 13), Washington Navy Yard, 1322 Patterson Avenue SE., Suite 3000, Washington, DC 20374-5066, or e-mail: welsh.thomas@hq.navy.mil.

For general information on Department of the Air Force regulations, contact Ms. Janet A. Long, telephone 703-588-6189, or write to Department of the Air Force, HQ AF/SCTIR, 1250 Air Force Pentagon, Washington, DC 20330-1250, or e-mail: janet.long@pentagon.af.mil.

For specific agenda items, contact the appropriate individual indicated in each DoD component report.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This edition of the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulatory and Deregulatory Actions is composed of the regulatory status reports, including procurement-related regulatory status reports, from the Office of the Secretary of Defense (OSD) and the Departments of the Army, Navy, and Air Force. Included also is the regulatory status report from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, whose civil works functions fall under the reporting requirements of Executive Order 12866 and involve water resource projects and regulation of activities in waters of the United States.

DoD issuances range from DoD directives (reflecting departmental policy) to implementing instructions and regulations (largely internal and used to implement directives). The OSD agenda section contains the primary directives under which DoD components promulgate their implementing regulations.

To ease identification and to differentiate among the variety of issuances reported, they are identified by their DoD internal numbering system, which denotes component level of authority and type of issuance, in addition to the required CFR number.

In addition, this agenda, although published under the reporting requirements of Executive Order 12866, continues to be the DoD single-source reporting vehicle, which identifies issuances that are currently applicable under the various regulatory reform programs in progress. Therefore, DoD components will identify those rules which come under the criteria of the:

a. Regulatory Flexibility Act;
b. Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995;
c. Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995.

Those DoD issuances, which are directly applicable under these statutes, will be identified in the agenda and their action status indicated. Generally, the regulatory status reports in this agenda will contain five sections: (1) Prerule stage; (2) proposed rule stage; (3) final rule stage; (4) completed actions; and (5) long-term actions. Where certain regulatory actions indicate that small entities are affected, the effect on these entities may not necessarily have significant economic impact on a substantial number of these entities as defined in the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601(6)).

Although not a regulatory agency, DoD will continue to participate in regulatory initiatives designed to reduce economic costs and unnecessary environmental burdens upon the public. Comments and recommendations are invited on the rules reported and should be addressed to the DoD component representatives identified in the regulatory status reports. Although sensitive to the needs of the public, as well as regulatory reform, DoD reserves the right to exercise the exemptions and flexibility permitted in its rulemaking process in order to proceed with its overall defense-oriented mission. The publishing of this agenda does not waive the applicability of the military affairs exemption in section 553 of title 5 U.S.C. and section 3 of Executive Order 12866.

Dated: September 13, 2001.

D. O. Cooke,

Director, Administration and Management.

822. COMMERCIAL ACTIVITIES PROGRAM PROCEDURES (DOD INSTRUCTION 4100.33)

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301; 5 USC 552

CFR Citation: 32 CFR 164

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: OMB issued a revised Circular No. A-76 supplemental handbook that contained streamlined cost comparison guidance. This rule updates DoD unique policies and assigns responsibility for commercial activities as contained in OMB Circular No. A-76, Revised Supplemental Handbook "Performance of Commercial Activities." This rule also removes 32 CFR part 169a.

CFR Citation: 32 CFR 153

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Legislative Branch Appropriations Act of 1996 transferred to the Director of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) the Comptroller General's authority to settle claims. The OMB Director subsequently delegated some of these authorities to the Department of Defense (DoD). Later, the General Accounting Office Act of 1996 codified many of these delegations and transferred to the OMB Director the authority of the Comptroller General to waive uniformed service member and employee debts arising out of the erroneous payment of pay or allowances exceeding $1,500. The OMB Director subsequently delegated the authority to waive such debts of uniformed service members to DoD and the authority to waive employee debts to the employee's agency (non-DoD agencies may request an advisory opinion from DoD). The Secretary of Defense further delegated his claims settlement authority to the Defense Office of Hearings and Appeals (DOHA). This proposed rule seeks public comments on the procedures that DOHA proposes to use to implement these authorities.

826. NONDISCRIMINATION ON THE BASIS OF RACE, COLOR, NATIONAL ORIGIN, HANDICAP, AND AGE IN PROGRAMS AND ACTIVITIES RECEIVING FEDERAL FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 794; 42 USC 2000d to 2000d-7; 42 USC 6101 to 6107; EO 12250

CFR Citation: Not Yet Determined

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Department of Defense proposes to make amendments to its regulations implementing title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (title VI), section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1972 (section 504), and the Age Discrimination Act of 1975 (Age Discrimination Act). Together, these statutes prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, disability, and age in programs or activities that receive Federal financial assistance. In 1988, the Civil Rights Restoration Act (CRRA) added definitions of "program or activity" and "program" to title VI and added a definition of "program or activity" to section 504 and the Age Discrimination Act. The added definitions were designed to clarify the broad scope of coverage of recipients' programs or activities under these statutes. The promulgation of this proposed regulation explicitly incorporates the CRRA's definition of "program or activity" and "program" into the Department of Defense's title VI, section 504, and Age Discrimination Act regulations. The Department of Defense's proposed regulation will be published as part of a joint notice of proposed rulemaking involving up to 24 Federal agencies.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: EO 12549; EO 12689; PL 103-355

CFR Citation: 32 CFR 25; 32 CFR 26

Abstract: The Department of Defense (DoD) proposes to adopt two updated common rules, on nonprocurement debarment and suspension and on drug-free workplace requirements for grants and agreements. In adopting these rules, the Office of the Secretary of Defense, Military Departments, Defense Agencies, and DoD Field Activities will maintain uniform policies and procedures that are consistent with those of other Executive Departments and Agencies. At the time the final rule is adopted, the Department of Defense will make conforming amendments to other parts of the DoD Grant and Agreement Regulations (32 CFR parts 21, 22, 32, and 34), to update references to the debarment and suspension and the drug-free workplace requirements that currently are 32 CFR part 25.

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301; 10 USC 113

CFR Citation: 32 CFR 21; 32 CFR 22; 32 CFR 32; 32 CFR 34; 32 CFR 37

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Department of Defense (DoD) proposes to add a new part 37 to the DoD Grant and Agreement Regulations (DoDGARs) to incorporate policies and procedures for the award and administration of Technology Investment Agreements (TIAs). TIAs are a relatively new class of assistance instruments. DoD Components use TIAs to support or stimulate defense research projects involving for-profit firms, especially commercial firms that do business primarily in the commercial marketplace. The new part 37 therefore gives DoD agreements officers greater flexibility to negotiate award provisions in areas that can present barriers to those commercial firms (e.g., intellectual property, audits, and cost principles). This rule also proposes revisions to parts 21, 22, 32, and 34 of the DoDGARs to conform the rest of the DoDGARs with the proposed part 37.

CFR Citation: 32 CFR 171

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, September 30, 1998.

Abstract: The Wildfire Suppression Aircraft Transfer Act of 1996 states that, notwithstanding section 202 of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949 (40 U.S.C. 483) and subject to subsections (b) and (c), the Secretary of Defense may, during the period beginning October 1, 1996, and ending on September 30, 2000, sell certain aircraft and aircraft parts to persons or entities that contract with the Federal Government for the delivery of fire retardant by air to suppress wildfire. The Act states that, as soon as practicable after the date of the enactment of the Act, the Secretary of Defense shall, in consultation with the Secretary of Agriculture and the Administrator of General Services, prescribe regulations relating to the sale of aircraft and aircraft parts under this section. This interim final rule prescribes regulations to implement the Wildlife Suppression Aircraft Transfer Act of 1996.

837. UNIFORM ADMINISTRATIVE REQUIREMENTS FOR GRANTS AND AGREEMENTS WITH INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER EDUCATION, HOSPITALS, AND OTHER NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301; 10 USC 113

CFR Citation: 32 CFR 22; 32 CFR 32

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rulemaking is the Department of Defense portion of a multiple-agency action. The agencies are amending their rules implementing Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-110 "Uniform Administrative Requirements for Grants and Agreements with Institutions of Higher Education, Hospitals, and Other Non-Profit Organizations." The amendments to the rules incorporate updated language in Circular A-110 requiring Federal awarding agencies to ensure that all data produced under awards subject to the Circular are made available to the public through the procedures established under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA). OMB updated the Circular language in this way in October 1999, in response to a provision in Public Law 105-277. With this rule amendment to 32 CFR parts 22 and 32, the Department of Defense therefore will maintain policies on access to data produced under awards subject to Circular A-110 that are consistent with the policies of other Executive Departments and Agencies.

838. TRANSACTIONS OTHER THAN CONTRACTS, GRANTS, OR COOPERATIVE AGREEMENTS FOR PROTOTYPE PROJECTS

Legal Authority: PL 106-65

CFR Citation: 32 CFR 3

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: Representatives of the military departments, defense agencies, and other DoD activities have agreed on a final rule that amends the interim rule as a result of comments received and incorporates clarification enacted in fiscal year 2001 that limits Comptroller General access in certain situations. This rule requires inclusion of a clause as required by law, providing for Comptroller General access to records in transactions other than contracts, grants, or cooperative agreements for prototype projects that provide for total payments in excess of $5,000,000. This rule is published in the Federal Register because it directly impacts the public by prescribing conduct that must be followed by a party to, or entity that participates in the performance of, any such transaction.

839. REVITALIZING BASE CLOSURE COMMUNITIES AND BASE CLOSURE COMMUNITY ASSISTANCE

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: PL 103-160; PL 106-65

CFR Citation: 32 CFR 175

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: On July 20, 1995, the Department of Defense published a final rule (60 FR 37337) implementing title XXIX of the National Defense Authorization Act for FY 1994 (Pub. L. 103-160) and the President's Five-Part Plan "A Program to Revitalize Base

UMI
VOL 66 ISS 232 DE 3 2001
UMI

DOD—OS

Final Rule Stage

Closure Communities," July 2, 1993. This rule will amend the final rule to implement section 2821 of the FY 2000 National Defense Authorization Act. Following the July 1993 announcement of the President's program to revitalize base closure communities, Congress created a new property conveyance authority, specifically designed to ease the economic hardship caused by base closures and realignments and to foster rapid job creation in the adversely impacted local communities. This authority is referred to as the "Economic Development Conveyance (EDC)," giving the Department of Defense the ability to transfer property to Local Redevelopment Authorities (LRAs), for consideration at or below estimated fair market value, to spur economic redevelopment and job creation. Section 2821 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2000 (Pub. L. 106-65) now authorizes the Department of Defense to transfer EDC property to LRAs at no cost to stimulate economic redevelopment and long-term job creation. The Department of Defense also is authorized now to modify existing EDC agreements when a change in economic circumstances necessitates a modification. This rule sets forth policies for the transfer of EDC real and personal property at no cost and the modification of existing EDC agreements. This rule does not, however, change current DoD policies for caretaker support and environmental cleanup. Similarly, the Military Departments must not alter their policies and procedures governing caretaker support and environmental cleanup because of the change in consideration for EDC property.

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: Modifies the Defense FAR Supplement to implement section 8064 of the Fiscal Year 2001 Defense Appropriations Act (Public Law 106-259). Section 8064 restricts acquisition of ball and roller bearings and vessel propellers other than those produced by a domestic source and of domestic origin. The restrictions do not apply to the purchase of commercial items, except ball or roller bearings purchased as end items. Also implements section 805 of the Floyd D. Spence National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2001, which extends 10 United States Code 2534 restriction of ball and roller bearings through fiscal year 2005.

Additional Information: The Director of Defense Procurement directed the Department of the Army to withdraw regulations pending approval of and further rulemaking on the repetitive use provisions employed in covered Army contracts. In addition, the Office of Management and Budget concluded that the final rule made significant changes to the interim rule in apparent conflict with the Paperwork Reduction Act.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 33 USC 701

CFR Citation: 33 CFR 203

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This revision of 33 CFR 203 is necessary to reflect current policy, add features required by the Water Resources Development Act of 1996 (PL 104-303), and streamline certain procedures concerning Corps authority for disaster preparedness, response, and recovery activities. Public Law 104-303 additions are the option of a nonstructural alternative to structural levee repairs for damage caused by flood events, and the provision of a levee owners' manual. Other changes include a change in the cost share provision for rehabilitation of Federal and non-Federal flood control works, expansion of investigation ability for potential Advance Measures work, and a streamlined approach for requests for assistance from Native American tribes and Alaska Native Corporations.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 10 USC 55; 5 USC 301

CFR Citation: 32 CFR 199

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: Currently, any individual who is a civilian employee of the United States Government cannot be authorized by CHAMPUS as a provider of medical services. We propose to provide an exception to this prohibition to permit these individuals to be authorized CHAMPUS providers if they meet three conditions. First, they must be employed by the Government agency on a part-time basis, that is, less than twenty (20) hours per week. Second, the agency must certify that unique or special circumstances detrimental to the delivery of quality health care exist that can be overcome only by employing part-time, non-Government physicians. Third, the agency and the physician must certify that they understand and have taken appropriate measures to avoid violation of Standards of Conduct, dual compensation, and conflict of interest requirements including protection against referral of patients to the employee's private practice.

905. CIVILIAN HEALTH AND MEDICAL PROGRAM OF THE UNIFORMED SERVICES (CHAMPUS); DOUBLE COVERAGE

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 10 USC 55; 5 USC 301

CFR Citation: 32 CFR 199

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule clarifies our double coverage policy for non-institutional claims for beneficiaries with primary health insurance. TRICARE network, non-network but participating, and non-participating providers are all reimbursed differently under current procedures. This has had the unintended effect of discouraging TRICARE network participation since non-network but participating providers receive the most favorable treatment with respect to double coverage calculations. The Department proposes to revise double coverage reimbursement calculations by reimbursing all providers up to 100 percent of the CHAMPUS Maximum Allowable Charge after the primary health insurance has paid or 115 percent for nonparticipating providers.

910. TRICARE; CIVILIAN HEALTH AND MEDICAL PROGRAM OF THE UNIFORMED SERVICES (CHAMPUS); BONUS PAYMENTS IN MEDICALLY UNDERSERVED AREAS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 10 USC 55; 5 USC 301

CFR Citation: 32 CFR 199

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule implements a bonus payment, in addition to the amount normally paid under the allowable charge methodology, to providers in medically underserved areas. For purposes of this rule, medically underserved areas are the same as those determined by the Secretary of Health and Human Services for the Medicare program. Such bonus payments shall be equal to the bonus payments authorized by Medicare, except as necessary to recognize any unique or distinct characteristics or requirements of the CHAMPUS program and as described in instructions issued by the Director, OCHAMPUS. Due to the urgency for such bonus payments in medically underserved areas to alleviate problems by lower payments, the interim final rulemaking process has been utilized. This rule promotes a reimbursement enhancement to a limited number of providers designed to increase CHAMPUS beneficiary access to care, which also supports the use of the interim final rule.

911. CIVILIAN HEALTH AND MEDICAL PROGRAM OF THE UNIFORMED SERVICES (CHAMPUS); ENHANCEMENT OF DENTAL BENEFITS UNDER THE TRICARE RETIREE DENTAL PROGRAM

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 10 USC 55; 5 USC 301

CFR Citation: 32 CFR 199

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule implements section 704 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2000 to allow additional benefits under the retiree dental insurance plan for Uniformed Services retirees and their family members that may be comparable to those under the Dependents Dental Program. The Department of Defense is publishing this rule as an interim final rule in order to comply timely with the desire of Congress to meet the needs of retirees for additional dental coverage.

Department of Education

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION (ED)

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

Office of the Secretary

34 CFR Subtitles A and B

Unified Agenda of Federal Regulatory and Deregulatory Actions

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, Education.

ACTION: Semiannual regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: The Secretary of Education publishes a semiannual agenda of Federal regulations. The agenda is issued under the authority of section 4(b) of Executive Order 12866 "Regulatory Planning and Review." The purpose of the agenda is to encourage more effective public participation in the regulatory process by providing the public with early information about pending regulatory activities.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Questions or comments related to specific regulations listed in this agenda should be directed to the agency contact listed for the regulations. Questions or comments related to preparation of this agenda should be directed to Sandy Jablonski, Division of Regulatory Services, Office of the General Counsel, Department of Education, Room 6E107, FB-6, 400 Maryland Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20202-2241; telephone: (202) 401-8300. Individuals who use a telecommunications device for the deaf (TDD) may call the Federal Information Relay Service (FIRS) at 1-800-877-8339.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 4(b) of Executive Order 12866, dated September 30, 1993, requires the Department of Education (ED) to publish, at a time and in a manner specified by the Administrator of the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, OMB, an agenda of all regulations under development or review. The Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 602(a), requires ED to publish, in October and April of each year, a regulatory flexibility agenda.

The regulatory flexibility agenda may be combined with any other agenda that satisfies the statutory requirements (5 U.S.C. 605(a)). In compliance with the Executive order and the Regulatory Flexibility Act, the Secretary publishes this agenda.

For each set of regulations listed, the agenda provides the title of the document, the type of document, a citation to any rulemaking or other action taken since publication of the most recent agenda, and planned dates of future rulemaking. In addition, the agenda provides the following information:

- An abstract, which includes a description of the problem to be addressed, any principal alternatives being considered, and potential costs and benefits of the action.
- An indication of whether the planned action is likely to have significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities as defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601(b)).
- A reference to where a reader can find the current regulations in the Code of Federal Regulations.
- A citation of legal authority.
- The name, address, and telephone number of the contact person at the Department from whom a reader can obtain additional information regarding the planned action.

In accordance with the Department's Principles for Regulating listed in its regulatory plan, ED is committed to regulating that improves the quality and equality of services to its customers, learners of all ages. ED will regulate only when absolutely necessary and then in the most flexible, most equitable, least burdensome way possible.

Interested members of the public are invited to comment on any of the items listed in this agenda that they believe are not consistent with the Principles for Regulating. Members of the public are also invited to comment on regulations listed in this agenda that are designated for periodic review under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 610).

We will also review all regulations that are published to ensure that, if appropriate, those regulations support the National Education Goals.

This publication in the Federal Register does not impose any binding obligation on the Department with regard to any specific item in the agenda. The Department may elect not to pursue any of the regulatory actions listed here, and regulatory action in addition to the items listed is not precluded. Dates of future regulatory actions are subject to revision in subsequent agendas.

For this edition of ED's regulatory agenda, the most important significant regulatory actions are included in The Regulatory Plan, which appears in part II of this issue of the Federal Register. The Regulatory Plan entries are listed in the table of contents below and are denoted by a bracketed bold reference, which directs the reader to the appropriate sequence number in part II.

915. STUDENT RIGHTS IN RESEARCH, EXPERIMENTAL PROGRAMS, AND TESTING

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 20 USC 1232h

CFR Citation: 34 CFR 98

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: These regulations are needed to implement section 1017 of the Goals 2000: Educate America Act (Pub. L. 103-227, 20 U.S.C. 1232h). That provision amends the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment (PPRA) to require schools, in certain instances, to make specific educational materials available to parents for inspection. The provision also amends the PPRA to prohibit schools from requiring a student to submit to certain surveys, analyses, or evaluations without prior parental consent. The regulations are being developed in accordance with the Department's Principles for Regulating. We are expecting new legislation that would amend the PPRA. As our next action we anticipate issuing a new NPRM based on this new legislation.

Abstract: These regulations are part of a common rule amending the Governmentwide nonprocurement common rule for debarment and suspension and the Governmentwide rule implementing the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988. These regulations clarify the relationship between debarment and suspension actions and limitation, suspension, and termination actions under title IV of the HEA. Additionally, these regulations set the dollar threshold on prohibited lower-tier procurement transactions with excluded persons at $25,000. These regulations also relocate the Drug-Free Workplace Act regulations in a separate part from the debarment and suspension regulations.

Regulatory Agenda

AGENCY: Department of Energy.

ACTION: Semiannual regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: The Department of Energy has prepared and today is publishing its semiannual regulatory agenda pursuant to Executive Order 12866 "Regulatory Planning and Review," 58 FR 51735, and the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. sections 601-612 (1988).

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For further information about any particular item on the regulatory agenda, please contact the individual listed under that item. For further information on the regulatory agenda in general, please contact: Richard L. Farman, Room 6E-078, Forrestal Building, 1000 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20585, (202) 586-8145.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Entries appended to this notice reflect the status of activities as of approximately September 15, 2001. They are divided into categories first by subagencies and then according to their stage of rulemaking action: prerule, proposed rulemaking, final rulemaking, long-term action, or completed action.

For this edition of the Department of Energy's regulatory agenda, the most important significant regulatory actions are included in The Regulatory Plan, which appears in part II of this issue of the Federal Register. The Regulatory Plan entries are listed in the table of contents below and are denoted by a bracketed bold reference, which directs the reader to the appropriate sequence number in part II.

A draft of this regulatory agenda has been transmitted to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the U.S. Small Business Administration for comment, if any, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 602(b).

Issued in Washington, DC, on November 2, 2001.

Abstract: The Energy Policy Act of 1992 (the Act) requires DOE to initiate a rulemaking to determine whether a private and local fleet program is deemed necessary to meet the fuel displacement goals of the Act. The criteria for making this determination is mandated by the Act. DOE conducted a series of informal workshops, including two for State and local government officials, to discuss regulatory options and other issues related to the alternative fueled vehicle requirements under the Act. DOE will make its determination within the context of the National Energy Policy and taking into account comments received as a result of the workshops.

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 13235

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 409

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, April 24, 1993.

Abstract: The Energy Policy Act of 1992 requires DOE to issue regulations establishing the State and Local Incentives Program. Under this program DOE may grant financial assistance to States for projects in DOE-approved State plans to promote use of alternative fuels and alternative-fueled vehicles. With the publication of an integrated State Energy Program (61 FR 35890), the alternative fuel grant programs may be a part of the State grant special projects, depending on funding availability. The next action will be a cancellation notice of any separate State grant program.

928. TEST PROCEDURES FOR CENTRAL AIR CONDITIONERS AND HEAT PUMPS—AMENDMENTS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6293

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 430

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: These revisions to the test procedures for central air conditioners and heat pumps in accordance with the Energy Policy and Conservation Act will reorganize the document in a logical order and update the references. The revisions include an updated nomenclature compatible with the eventual test procedure for combined (domestic hot water and central air conditioners or heat pumps) appliances, additional tables listing test tolerances, a clearer specification for the demand defrost credit, and test methods for ECM (electronically commutated motor) blowers and history-dependent defrosts.

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6834

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 435

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, October 24, 1994.

Abstract: Title III of the Energy Conservation and Production Act as amended by the Energy Policy Act of 1992 (PL 102-486, October 24, 1992) provides that DOE establish Federal building energy standards that require in new Federal buildings those energy efficiency measures that are technologically feasible and economically justified. The standards for Federal buildings are intended to parallel closely the voluntary building energy codes of the Energy Policy Act for private sector construction. Interim energy performance standards which DOE had issued before enactment of the Energy Policy Act are to remain in effect for the Federal sector until the new Federal building energy standards become effective.

938. NATIONAL VOLUNTARY RESIDENTIAL ENERGY EFFICIENCY RATING GUIDELINES

Legal Authority: 42 USC 8236

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 437

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, April 24, 1994.

Abstract: DOE is required to establish by rule national voluntary guidelines for home energy rating systems. The guidelines are designed to encourage uniformity with regard to systems for rating the annual energy efficiency of residential buildings. The guidelines may be used to enable and encourage the assignment of energy efficiency ratings to residential buildings and the development of criteria for attractive financial instruments for energy efficient homes.

In response to the directives of the Energy Policy Act of 1992, DOE collaborated with hundreds of stakeholders and organizations, including the Home Energy Rating System (HERS) Council, the National Association of State Energy Officials, and HERS providers, many of whom had been meeting regarding HERS since about 1987. Based on input from all the stakeholders, DOE issued for public comment a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking on voluntary guidelines.

Most of the comments that DOE received on the proposed rule were readily resolved. But the issue of "fuel neutrality" was not easily incorporated into the rule. "Fuel neutrality" involved an interpretation of the requirement that the rule not "discriminate among fuel types" for which the EPACT legislation provided no clarification. Yet, in spite of an intensive effort by DOE to work with both the electric and gas industries, a definition regarding fuel neutrality was not resolved and remains hotly disputed.

In the fall of 2002, DOE plans to issue a Report to Congress on the HERS and Energy Efficient Mortgages, as required by Congress. This report will note that despite the fact that DOE has not issued a final rule, home energy raters are now available in 47 States, and the guidelines used by these raters are generally consistent in content to DOE's

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 1046 subpart A; 10 CFR 1046 subpart B

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: 10 CFR part 1046, subparts A and B, establishes DOE contractor requirements in the areas of protective force medical, physical fitness, and firearms qualifications and training. The proposed revisions are to ensure protective force personnel receive quality medical services that are consistent with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. They also will enhance communications between Designated Physicians and personnel responsible for supervising physical fitness training and certification to assure better understanding of the risk of injury to Security Police Officers and Security Officers participating in physical fitness activities. Additionally, Security Police Officer I and Security Police Officer II were better defined to eliminate confusing physical fitness requirements.

Abstract: This action would establish a Human Reliability Program that would consolidate the Department's Personnel Security Assurance Program (PSAP) and its Personnel Assurance Program (PAP). PSAP is an access authorization program for individuals who apply for or occupy certain positions that are critical to the national security. The PSAP requires an initial and annual supervisory review, medical assessment, management evaluation, and a DOE personnel security review of all applicants or incumbents. The PAP is a nuclear explosives safety program using many of the evaluations of the PSAP to ensure that employees assigned to nuclear explosive duties do not have emotional, mental, or physical conditions that could result in an accidental or unauthorized detonation of nuclear explosives.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: EO 12968; 42 USC 2201

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 710 subpart A

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: 10 CFR part 710, which stipulates DOE access authorization "due process" procedures, will be revised to comply with section 5.2(a) of EO 12968. This section requires three decision levels in the process of determining whether an individual's access to classified matter will be denied or revoked, with the final decision being made by a three-member high level appeals panel. While the DOE decision structure will be revised, the DOE will continue to offer the individual the right to a hearing before a hearing officer in such cases. These revisions are not expected to significantly impact the costs, time intervals, or risks associated with DOE's administrative review process. There are no alternatives to the Department for assuring full compliance with the new requirements.

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 5 USC 552

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 1004

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: On October 23, 1991, DOE proposed to amend the procedures and principles to be applied in responding to requests for records under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) 5 USC 552. The proposal updated names and addresses of organizational entities, and updated guidelines for the schedule of fees associated with processing requests. A proposed section on policies clarified DOE's operation of a first-in, first-out policy in responding to FOIA requests, and the role of the Office of Hearings and Appeals was clarified. The proposal also included a statement of DOE policy on contractor records.

On December 12, 1994, DOE adopted the contractor records policy, with certain modifications. DOE expects to take final action on the remainder of the proposal in the near future.

The new regulations will clarify the FOIA process by clearly defining the roles of the FOIA Officer and the Denying Official and comply with the new requirements of the Electronic Freedom of Information Act Amendment of 1996. The new regulations will be written in a more customer-friendly manner in plain English.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 839a(13)

CFR Citation: None

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: BPA is directed by law to determine whether large retail loads of consumer facilities served by a public body, cooperative, investor-owned utility, or Federal agency customer, whose power requirements increase or are in excess of 10 aMWs in any consecutive 12-month period, fall within the definition of NLSL. BPA may not sell electric power at the Priority Firm (PF) rate to utilities for service to NLSLs. Electric power sold by BPA for utility service to NLSLs is sold at the New Resources (NR) rate (which historically has been a higher rate), with one exception. Any load for which service by the utility customer was "committed to or contracted for" (CTCF) prior to September 1, 1979, is served at the lower PF rate. The BPA Administrator determines whether a consumer facility is a CFCT load.

The Bonneville Power Administration (BPA) has invited public comment on three specific issues relating to its existing NLSL policy: (1) whether BPA should allow current and future direct service industry (DSI) customer production load served at BPA's Industrial Firm (IP) rate (or any other rate) to transfer and receive service from a public body, cooperative, or Federal agency customer at the PF rate; (2) whether a load at a facility previously determined to be a CTCF load should be allowed to receive service from a different BPA preference customer and retain its CTCF status; and (3) whether BPA should close the class of future CFCT loads after providing customers one last opportunity to identify and request, if any, a CFCT load determination by BPA. After receipt of public comments, BPA will determine whether changes to its current NLSL policy are warranted.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2208 Atomic Energy Act of 1954, sec 168

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 610

Abstract: This action will revise the Department of Energy's policy on making payments for special burdens and in lieu of taxes to State and local taxing jurisdictions pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954. Prior to the 1987 issuance of DOE Order 2100.12, the Department and its predecessor agencies approved such payment requests on an ad hoc basis. To ensure all eligible taxing jurisdictions are provided appropriate opportunity to comment, the revised policy is being established through the rulemaking process. The Department anticipates no added costs by issuing the revised policy as a regulation rather than as an internal directive revision.

45 CFR Subtitle A, Chs. II, III, and XIII

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, HHS.

ACTION: Semiannual regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: The regulatory agenda set out below provides information to the public about regulatory actions under development within the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). The Agenda provides an opportunity for all concerned about the potential impact of these actions to participate in their development at an early stage. Semiannual publication of the Agenda is required under provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 and of Executive Order 12866.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Ann Stallion, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Washington, DC 20201, (202) 690-6824.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Office of Management and Budget requires that fall editions of the Agenda be augmented by a regulatory plan. The Plan is made up of a statement of the Department's regulatory priorities; this statement sets out the principles that Secretary Thompson has determined will govern the regulation-development process within HHS, and the overarching policy themes which will establish HHS regulatory priorities during fiscal year 2002. There follows amplified descriptions of those discrete regulatory actions under development which will best reflect these principles and policy themes.

As noted above, public commentary is solicited on the Plan as a whole or on specific actions described in either the Plan or the full Agenda. Interested persons should direct specific comments to the contact official cited at the end of the descriptions of specific regulatory actions. Comments of a more generic nature, or comments on subjects which cross-cut the responsibilities of specific HHS agencies, should be sent to: Ann C. Agnew, Executive Secretary to the Department, Room 603H, 200 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20201.

For this edition of HHS' regulatory agenda, the most important significant regulatory actions are included in The Regulatory Plan, which appears in part II of this issue of the Federal Register. The Regulatory Plan entries are listed in the table of contents below and are denoted by a bracketed bold reference, which directs the reader to the appropriate sequence number in part II.

Dated: October 5, 2001.

Ann C. Agnew,

Executive Secretary to the Department.

984. GOVERNMENTWIDE DEBARMENT AND SUSPENSION (NONPROCUREMENT) AND GOVERNMENTWIDE REQUIREMENTS FOR DRUG-FREE WORKPLACE (GRANTS)

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301; 41 USC 701 et seq, sec 2455; PL 103-355; 31 USC 6101 note; EO 12689; EO 12549

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 76; 45 CFR 82

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This proposed common rule is revised to simplify and streamline nonprocurement debarment and suspension requirements, as well as correspond to procurement regulations where possible. The revision will separate the debarment and suspension and Drug-Free Workplace regulations, and will be written in the plain language format.

987. SHARED RISK EXCEPTION TO THE SAFE HARBOR PROVISIONS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1320a-7b; 42 USC 1395hh; PL 104-191, sec 216(b)

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 1001

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, January 1, 1997.

Abstract: This final rule establishes a new statutory exception for risk-sharing arrangements under the Federal health care programs' anti-kickback provisions. The rule sets forth an exception from liability for remuneration between an eligible organization and an individual or entity providing items or services in accordance with a written agreement between these parties. The rule allows remuneration between an organization and an individual or entity if a written agreement places the individual or entity at "substantial financial risk" for the cost or utilization of the items or services that the individual or entity is obligated to provide.

988. CIVIL MONEY PENALTY SAFE HARBOR TO PROTECT PAYMENT OF MEDICARE AND MEDIGAP PREMIUMS FOR ESRD BENEFICIARIES

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: Social Security Act, sec 1128A(a)(5)

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 1003

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This final rule will set forth in the OIG's civil money penalty provisions in 42 CFR part 1003 a new safe harbor for unlawful inducements to beneficiaries to provide protection for independent dialysis facilities that pay, in whole or in part, premiums for Supplementary Medical Insurance (Medicare part B) or Medicare

HHS—OS

Final Rule Stage

Supplemental Health Insurance policies (Medigap) for financially needy Medicare beneficiaries with end-stage renal disease (ESRD). This safe harbor specifically establishes various standards that, if met, would result in the particular arrangement being protected from civil penalties under section 1128A(a)(5) of the Social Security Act.

992. CIVIL MONEY PENALTIES FOR MEDICARE+CHOICE ORGANIZATIONS AND MEDICAID MANAGED CARE ORGANIZATIONS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1320a-7a; 42 USC 1395mm; 42 USC 1395w-27; 42 USC 1396b; 42 USC 1396u-2

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 1003

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This proposed rule would reflect OIG's authority to impose civil money penalties against Medicare+Choice organizations that engage in certain abusive practices, including failure to provide medically necessary care and discriminatory enrollment procedures. This rule would specifically address the Medicare+Choice provisions set forth in Public Law 105-33, the Balanced Budget Act of 1997, and the Medicaid managed care provisions.

Priority: Economically Significant. Major under 5 USC 801.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 300x-1

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 96

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: SAMHSA is responsible for the implementation of the Community Mental health Services (CMHS) Block Grant program which distributes this year $420 million to States for the provision of community-based mental health services to adults with serious mental illness and children with serious emotional disturbance. While there is no statutory requirement that regulations be developed, the statute does give the Secretary the authority and responsibility of determining whether States have complied with the requirements of the statute. This regulation establishes the criteria the Secretary will use in determining whether a Sate is in compliance with the requirements of the statute. In order for the Secretary to act on a determination of non-compliance, the Department must issue regulations clearly identifying for the States what they are required to do.

1006. IMPLEMENTATION OF THE EQUAL ACCESS TO JUSTICE ACT IN AGENCY PROCEEDINGS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 5 USC 504(c)(1)

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 13

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Equal Access to Justice Act requires agencies to pay fees to parties prevailing against the Government in certain administrative proceedings. The Act has been amended several times since its 1980 enactment, most recently by the Contract with America Advancement Act of 1996, which increased the amount of the hourly fees payable. The proposed rule revises 45 CFR part 13 (HHS' regulation implementing the Equal Access to Justice Act) to conform with statutory changes.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 31 USC 3720D; 28 CFR 285.11

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 32

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Department will add a new part 32 to title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) to implement the Administrative Wage Garnishment provisions of the Debt Collection Improvement Act of 1996 (DCIA), Public Law 104-134, 110 Stat 1321-358, codified at 31 U.S.C 3720D, and implemented by the Department of Treasury at 31 C.F.R. 285.11. The proposed rule will be another tool for the Department to collect its debts by allowing the Department to garnish the wages of non-Federal employees administratively (i.e., without the need for a court order). The wage withholding order will be required to withold amounts from an employee's wages and pay those amounts to the Department in satisfaction of the indebtedness.

Abstract: The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is proposing to amend its regulations on submission of bioequivalence (BE) data to require an abbreviated new drug application (ANDA) applicant to submit data from all BE studies the applicant conducts on a drug product formulation submitted for approval. In the past, ANDA applicants have submitted BE studies demonstrating that a generic product meets BE criteria for FDA to approve the ANDA but have not typically submitted additional BE studies conducted on the same drug product formulation. FDA is proposing to require ANDA applicants to submit information, in either a complete or summary report, from all additional passing and nonpassing BE studies conducted on the same drug product formulation submitted for approval.

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The OTC drug review establishes conditions under which OTC drugs are considered generally recognized as safe and effective and not misbranded. After a final monograph (i.e., final rule) is issued, only OTC drugs meeting the conditions of the monograph, or having an approved new drug application, may be legally marketed. NOTE: NPRM for "Antidotes, Toxic Ingestion Products" was combined with NPRM for "Emetic

NPRM for "Fever Blister/Cold Sore Products (External)" was included in NPRMs for "External Analgesic" and "Skin Protectant Products." NPRM for "Insect Bites and Stings (Relief) Products" was included in NPRMs for "External Analgesic" and "Skin Protectant Products." "Poison Ivy/Oak/Sumac Prevention" was included in NPRMs for "External Analgesic" and "Skin Protectant Products." NPRM for "Mercurial (Topical) Products" was included in revised NPRM for "Antimicrobial Products." NPRM for "Alcohol (Topical) Products" was included in revised NPRM for "Antimicrobial Products." The NPRM for "Antimicrobial Products" was updated and split into two sections: First Aid Products and Health Care Antiseptic Products.

SMALL ENTITIES AFFECTED: The effects, if any, vary depending on the individual rulemaking. However, the Agency anticipates that the rules would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities as defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

Abstract: The proposed rule would amend FDA regulations on the registration of producers of drugs and the listing of drugs in commercial distribution. The proposed revisions would reorganize, consolidate, clarify, and modify current regulations concerning who must register establishments and list drug or biological products. The proposal describes when, how, and where to register and list and what information must be submitted for registration and listing. The proposed regulations would also require the electronic submission of most registration and listing information.

Abstract: The proposed rule would amend the regulations on the exportation of unapproved new drug products, including biological products, for investigational use. In general, the proposed rule would provide four different routes for exporting an unapproved new drug product for investigational use. One route would permit exportation, if the drug is the subject of an investigational new drug application (IND) and is being exported for use in the investigation. A second route would permit exportation, without prior Food and Drug Administration (FDA) approval and without an IND, if the product is to be exported for use in a clinical investigation and has received marketing authorization in certain developed countries. The third route would permit exportation, without prior FDA approval and without an IND, if the product is to be exported for use in a clinical investigation in certain specified developed countries. The fourth route would permit exportation without an IND, to any country provided that the exporter sends a written certification to FDA at the time the drug is first exported. Drugs exported under any of the first three routes would, however, be subject to certain statutory requirements, such as not conflicting with the foreign country's laws and not being sold or offered for sale in the United States. Drugs exported under either the second or third routes would be subject to additional statutory requirements, such as being in substantial conformity with the current good manufacturing practices and certain labeling requirements. These provisions would implement changes in FDA's export authority resulting from the FDA Export Reform and Enhancement Act of 1996.

Abstract: In multiple rulemakings, the Food and Drug Administration is amending the biologics regulations by removing, revising, or updating specific regulations applicable to blood, blood components, Source Plasma and blood derivative products to be more consistent with current practices and to remove unnecessary or outdated requirements. This action is based on a comprehensive review of the regulations that has been performed by FDA. It is also based on reports by the U.S. House of Representatives Committee on Government Reform and Oversight, Subcommittee on House Resources and Intergovernmental Relations; the General Accounting Office; the Institute of Medicine, as well as public comments. Some of the subjects intended to be addressed in the rulemakings include: 1) labeling; 2) notification of consignees and end users of product safety information for plasma derivative products; 3) notification of deferred donors; 4) requirements for donor suitability and testing; and 5) infectious agent clearance. These actions are intended to help ensure the continued safety of the Nation's blood supply.

Priority: Other Significant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Unfunded Mandates: Undetermined

Legal Authority: PL 105-115, sec 121

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 220

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, November 21, 1999.

Abstract: Positron emission tomography (PET) is a medical imaging modality involving the use of a unique type of radiopharmaceutical drug. PET drugs are usually injected intravenously into patients for diagnostic purposes. Most PET drugs are produced using cyclotrons at locations that are in close proximity to the patients to whom the drugs are administered (e.g., in hospitals or academic institutions). Each PET drug is compounded under a physician's prescription and, due to the short half-lives of PET drugs, is administered to the patient within a few minutes or hours.

Under section 501(a)(2)(B) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (the Act) (21 U.S.C. 351(a)(2)(B)), a drug is adulterated if the methods used in, or the facilities or controls used for, its manufacture, processing, packing, or holding do not conform to or are not operated or administered in conformity with current good manufacturing practice (CGMP) to assure that the drug meets the requirements of the Act as to safety and has the identity and strength, and meets the quality and purity characteristics, that it purports or is represented to possess. FDA's CGMP requirements for drug products are set forth in 21 CFR parts 210 and 211.

On November 21, 1997, the President signed into law the Food and Drug Administration Modernization Act (Modernization Act) (Pub. L. 105-115). Section 121 of the Modernization Act contains several provisions affecting the regulation of PET drugs. Section 121(c)(1)(A) of the Modernization Act directs FDA to establish, within two years after enactment, appropriate approval procedures and CGMP requirements for PET drugs. Section 121(c)(1)(B) directs FDA to consult with patient advocacy groups, professional associations, manufacturers, and other interested persons as the agency develops PET drug CGMP requirements and approval procedures. FDA's proposed rule on PET drug CGMP will be designed to reflect the unique nature of PET drug products.

Abstract: This proposal is in response to a citizen petition request to merge the separate requirements of the current good manufacturing practice (CGMP) regulations, 21 CFR part 225 applicable to licensed and unlicensed feed manufacturing facilities, respectively. The merger would produce a single set of updated, streamlined CGMPs that apply to all medicated feed manufacturers. This consolidation of existing CGMPs would preserve and strengthen food safety, be more appropriate given the changing structure of the medicated feed industry, and enhance uniformity and enforcement.

Abstract: Sections 735 and 736 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. sections 379g and 379h) require FDA to assess and collect fees related to human drug applications. Section 736(d) of the Act (21 U.S.C. 379h(d)) authorizes the agency to grant a waiver or reduction of such fees in certain circumstances. This proposed rule would establish FDA's criteria for determining when to grant a waiver or reduction of fees.

Abstract: After approving a new animal drug application, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) requires the sponsor to submit adverse experience and use information on the product. The currently submitted distribution data are insufficient to provide the use information needed by FDA. Because of concern about the effect of the use of antimicrobial drugs in food-producing animals on the development rate and extent of resistance in human pathogens, FDA published a document describing a proposed framework for evaluating and protecting human health. The Framework Document describes the need for more detailed drug distribution information to permit the evaluation of a correlation between changes in resistance and the use of antimicrobial drugs in food-producing animals. The regulatory proposal would require the reporting of the total number of distributed units of each size, strength, or potency (distribution data or quantity marketed data) and provide FDA with the more detailed information needed to assess the correlation between resistance in human pathogens and the use of antimicrobial drugs in food-producing animals.

Abstract: The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is proposing to require manufacturers to label their dietary supplements with a caution statement for women who are or may become pregnant unless there is evidence demonstrating that use in pregnancy is safe. FDA is including in this proposal a list of products that would not require this caution statement, as well as a petition process by which a product may be exempted from bearing the caution statement. FDA is also proposing to require manufacturers of dietary supplements that bear a claim about an effect on a condition associated with pregnancy to maintain and permit FDA inspection of certain records. FDA is proposing this rule because of the special safety concerns associated with use of any product during pregnancy.

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is proposing to amend its regulations relating to the operational definition of the term "no residue." The definition is used in determining whether any residue of carcinogenic compounds used in food-producing animals would "be found in food produced from those animals under conditions of use reasonably certain to be followed in practice" (21 CFR 500.80(a)). Under the current operational definition of no residue, it is possible for a residue detected by a method approved by FDA to be considered "no residue." FDA is revising its regulations to make them consistent with a 1995 Department of Justice opinion regarding this definition. The proposed changes would revise the definition of "no residue" to mean that no residue is detected with an approved regulatory method. FDA would propose several conditions that sponsors of carcinogenic compounds must satisfy with respect to the sponsors' proposed regulatory methods.

Abstract: The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service maintains, by regulation in 9 CFR 94.18(a), a list of countries: (1) where bovine spongiform encephalopathy (BSE) exists; and (2) that present an undue risk of introducing BSE into the United States. This proposed rule would restrict, in FDA regulated products, the use of most materials derived from ruminant animals born, raised, or slaughtered in a country listed in 9 CFR 94.18(a). Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, November 16, 1989, The deadline applies to the GADPTRA sections. There is no deadline relating to the other sections.

Abstract: On December 17, 1991, the Agency published a proposed revision of the existing regulations that is consistent with the current procedural regulations for human drugs, where appropriate. The New Animal Drug Application (NADA) revisions articulate general requirements in regulations containing performance standards and would complement these regulations through detailed guidance on, among other matters, appropriate ways of meeting requirements for submission of chemistry, pharmacology, and statistical data that would better address the intricate scientific issues involved. A separate proposed rule for reporting requirements for marketed animal drugs also was published on that date. The agency intends to repropose the NADA proposed rule to incorporate some recent changes in procedure. The NADA revisions are expected to include regulations to implement the provisions of the Animal Drug Availability Act of 1996, specifically the definition of flexible labeling, and implement parts of the President's National Performance Report "Reinventing the Regulation of Animal Drugs," May 1996. In the reinventing regulations report, FDA proposed to revise its regulations to reflect numerous new process changes and programs that will maintain the safety and effectiveness of new animal drugs and enable a more streamlined animal drug application review and approval process which will result in less regulatory burden upon industry and FDA. The Agency also proposes to amend its regulations to implement title I of the Generic Animal Drug and Patent Term Restoration Act, which established new standards for marketing approval of generic copies of animal drugs approved after 1962.

Abstract: The Food and Drug Administration is planning to publish a final rule that would finalize its 1999 interim final rule (64 FR 54180) that established strengthened criteria and standards for the President to apply in making a determination that informed consent is not feasible or is contrary to the best interest of military personnel engaged in specific military operations. Under the Strom Thurmond National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1999, the President is authorized to waive the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act's informed consent requirements in military operations, if the President finds that obtaining consent is infeasible or contrary to the best interests of recipients and on an additional ground that obtaining consent is contrary to national security interests.

Abstract: FDA is amending the regulation that permits the use of ozone-depleting substances in particular circumstances to set the standard FDA will use to determine when the use of ozone-depleting substances (ODS) is no longer essential under the Clean Air Act (CAA) and set a new standard to determine when a new essential-use designation should be granted after the effective date of the rule. FDA is also amending the regulations to better conform to other statutes and regulations relating to ozone-depleting substances to eliminate potential confusion and conflicts. FDA is eliminating out-of-date transitional provisions and making other nonsubstantive housekeeping changes to its regulations on ozone-depleting substances. The intended effect of the rule is to protect the health and safety of medical product users while complying with the CAA and the Montreal Protocol.

Abstract: The final rule would establish reporting and recordkeeping requirements to implement sections 801(d)(3) and 801(d)(4) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (the Act) as amended by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) Export Reform and Enhancement Act of 1996. Section 801(d)(3) of the Act provides that, under prescribed conditions, drug and device components, food and color additives, and dietary supplements may be imported if they are to be further processed or incorporated into products that are to be exported from the United States in accordance with sections 801(e) or 802 of the Act or section 351(h) of the Public Health Service (PHS) Act. Section 801(d)(4) of the Act provides that blood, blood components, source plasma, or source leukocytes, or a component, accessory, or part thereof, may not be imported under section 801(d)(3) of the Act unless the importation complies with section 351(a) of the PHS Act or FDA permits the importation under FDA-determined appropriate circumstances and conditions. Additionally, section 801(d)(4) of the Act prohibits the importation of tissue or a component or part of tissue under section 801(d)(3) of the Act unless the importation complies with section 361 of the PHS Act.

Abstract: Section 116 of the Food and Drug Administration Modernization Act of 1997 added a new section to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act that sets forth categories for the reporting of manufacturing changes to a drug product (21 U.S.C. 356a). These categories are based on the potential of the change to adversely affect the identity, strength, quality, purity, and potency of the drug as they may relate to the safety and effectiveness of the drug. The rulemaking will establish the procedures for determining what information the agency would require before drugs manufactured subject to these changes may be distributed. 1058. REVISIONS TO THE GENERAL SAFETY REQUIREMENTS FOR BIOLOGICAL PRODUCTS; DIRECT FINAL RULE

Legal Authority: 42 USC 351

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 610.11(g)

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) issued a direct final rule and companion proposed rule to amend the biologics regulations by adding "cellular therapy products" to the list of products excepted from the general safety test (GST) and by adding an administrative procedure for obtaining an exemption from the GST requirements for other biological products. Because the agency received significant adverse comment on the administrative procedure portion of the direct final rule, FDA withdrew that portion of the rule and confirmed the remaining portion. FDA intends to finalize the companion proposed rule to respond to the significant adverse comment on the administrative procedure portion of the rule. FDA is taking this action because the GST may not be relevant or necessary for all biological products, including cellular therapy products, currently in various stages of development. This action is part of FDA's continuing effort to achieve the objectives of the "Reinventing Government" initiative, and is intended to reduce the burden of unnecessary regulations on biological products without diminishing the protection of the public health.

Abstract: Section 116 of the Food and Drug Administration Modernization Act of 1997 (Pub. L. 105-115) added section 506A to the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 356a). Pursuant to section 116, the rulemaking will revise current procedures for approving manufacturing changes and generally classify such changes into four categories. Major manufacturing changes, which are of a type determined by the Secretary to have a substantial potential to adversely affect the identity, strength, quality, purity, and potency of the drug as they may relate to the safety and effectiveness of a drug, require prior approval of a supplemental application. A second category of changes may be made if FDA has not notified the company within 30 days after the submission of a supplement that prior approval is required. A third category of changes may be made upon submission of a supplement to the agency. The rule will also identify another category of changes that may be made without the submission of a supplement but which must be reported in an annual report.

Abstract: In November 1997, Congress amended the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FFD&C) to establish a notification process whereby manufacturers and suppliers of components of food contact materials may notify FDA 120 days prior to marketing a new food contact substance. If FDA does not object to the notification within 120 days, the substance may be marketed with the same status as a regulated food additive. FDA is authorized to publish regulations outlining the information required to be submitted in premarket notifications for food-contact substances submitted to the agency. FDA is also authorized to publish regulations that identify when a food additive petition is required in lieu of a premarket notification. FDA is not required to accept a premarket notification in any fiscal year for which an appropriation is not specifically made for this program. FDA expects that the majority of food-contact substances that are currently the subject of food additive petitions will be the subject of premarket notifications. FDA also expects that substances currently reviewed under the agency's threshold of regulation process will be reviewed as premarket notifications under the new process. Unlike food additive regulations, premarket notifications will be specific to the notifier. The proposed use of a similar or identical substance produced by another manufacturer will require a separate premarket notification submission. Also unlike food additive petitions, the existence of the notification and any otherwise releasable data within the notification is not publicly available until the 120-day period has expired. FDA expects to keep a publicly available list of effective premarket notifications to assist manufacturers, distributors, and users of food packaging and other food-contact materials. FDA published a proposed rule on the notification process for food contact substances on July 13, 2000. The comment period on the proposed rule ended on September 26, 2000. Three comments were received on the proposed rule.

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: FDA is considering regulations to implement section (q) of the Mammography Quality Standards Act of 1992 (the MQSA). This section permits FDA to authorize individual States to certify mammography facilities, to conduct the inspection of the facilities, to implement the MQSA quality standards, and to administer other related functions. FDA retains oversight responsibility for the activities of the States authorized to carry out certification requirements and mammography facilities certified by those States must continue to meet the quality standards established by FDA for mammography facilities nationwide. The rule would include procedures for application, approval, evaluation, and withdrawal of approval of States as Certification Agencies. It also would include standards to be met by States receiving this authority.

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The regulation would require sponsors of human trials involving human gene therapy or xenotransplantation to submit a redacted version for public disclosure of an investigational new drug application (IND), an amendment to an IND, or other related documents. The submission would be redacted to exclude trade secret information and personal information, the disclosure of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. FDA would then make the redacted documents available to the general public and the information would be available for discussion in open session at scientific advisory committee meetings and at other suitable fora.

Abstract: The Nutrition Labeling and Education Act of 1990 (NLEA) requires that most foods bear nutrition labeling. The agency issued final rules implementing most of the provisions contained in the NLEA on January 6, 1993. Subsequently, however, the agency has identified additional areas that should be the subject of rulemaking. FDA issued a proposal on January 6, 1993, to establish requirements for the identification of certain ingredients on food labels. FDA proposed on June 15, 1993, to amend its January 6, 1993, final rules on nutrient content and health claims to remove the provisions that exempted restaurant menus from the requirements for how nutrient content claims and health claims are to be made. The agency proposed on January 4, 1994, to establish reference daily intakes based on the 9th and 10th editions of the National Research Council's Recommended Dietary Allowances. On March 14, 1994, FDA published a proposal implementing the provisions for exemptions from nutrition labeling for low-volume food products of small businesses that were established by the Nutrition Labeling and Education Act Amendments of 1993. On August 18, 1993, FDA published a proposal concerning the placement of the nutrition facts panel on food labels. Finally, on July 18, 1994, FDA published proposed revised guidelines for the voluntary declaration of nutrition labeling for raw produce and fish. A final rule concerning the placement of the nutrition facts panel was published on April 5, 1995. A final rule establishing reference daily intakes based on the 9th and 10th editions of Recommended Dietary Allowances was published on December 28, 1995.

FDA published a final rule on August 2, 1996, on nutrient content claims and health claims to remove the provisions that exempted restaurant menus from the requirements for how nutrient content claims and health claims are to be made. FDA published a final rule on August 7, 1996, implementing the exemption for small businesses from the requirements for nutrition labeling and providing instructions on how to file a notice claiming the exemption. FDA published on August 16, 1996, final guidelines on the voluntary declaration of nutrition labeling for raw produce and fish.

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: FDA is proposing to revise its regulations governing investigational use of new animal drugs by proposing to delete 21 CFR 511 and establish in 21 CFR part 512 revised investigational use of new animal drug regulations. The investigational use new animal drug regulations are expected to include regulations to implement provisions of the Animal Drug Availability Act of 1996, specifically presubmission conferences, and implement parts of the President's National Performance Report, "Reinventing the Regulation of Animal Drugs," May 1996. In the reinventing regulations report, FDA proposed to revise its regulations to reflect numerous new process changes and programs that will enable a more streamlined animal drug application review and approval process, and that would result in less regulatory burden upon industry and FDA while maintaining the safety and effectiveness of new animal drugs. In addition, FDA is initiating a review of this rule under section 610 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act. The purpose of the section 610 review is to determine if the rule should be amended to minimize adverse economic impacts on small entities. FDA will consider and solicit comments on the following: 1) the continued need for the rule; 2) the nature of complaints or comments received concerning the rule; 3) the complexity of the rule; 4) the extent to which the rule overlaps, duplicates, or conflicts with other Federal, State or local government rules; and 5) the degree to which technology, economic conditions or other factors have changed in the area affected by the rule.

Abstract: As part of implementing the proposed regulatory approach to human cells, tissues, and cellular and tissue-based products, the Food and Drug Administration is requiring manufacturers of human cells, tissues, and cellular and tissue-based products to screen and test the donors of cells and tissues used in those products for evidence of or risk factors for relevant communicable disease. As part of this action, the agency is amending the current good manufacturing practice regulations that apply to human cells, tissues, and cellular and tissue-based products regulated as drugs, medical devices, and/or biological products in order to incorporate the new donor suitability requirements into existing good manufacturing practice regulations for those products.

Legal Authority: PL 104-250; 21 USC 360b

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 558.5; 21 CFR 510.455

Abstract: In response to a citizen petition filed by the American Feed Industry Association, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is proposing to amend the requirements for liquid medicated animal feed to clarify what information and data are required to demonstrate chemical and positional stability. The amended regulations would also clarify the provisions for the submission of such data through a master file and the reference to master files by subsequent applicants. Additionally, FDA is proposing to amend the regulations for free-choice medicated feed in order to ensure consistency with the requirements for liquid medicated feed. Finally, FDA is proposing to amend the regulations for free-choice medicated feed and liquid medicated feed so that these provisions comply with the terms of the Animal Drug Availability Act of 1996.

Abstract: Section 127 of the Food and Drug Administration Modernization Act of 1997 (Pub. L. 105-115) added section 503A to the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 353a). Section 503A governs the application of Federal law to the practice of pharmacy compounding. Under section 503A(b)(1)(A), FDA may issue by regulation a list of bulk drug substances that may be used in compounding that are not covered by a United States Pharmacopeia (USP) or National Formulary (NF) monograph and are not components of FDA-approved drugs. Bulk drug substances that do not appear on the list may not be used in compunding under section 127 unless such substances are covered by USP or NF monograph or are components of approved drugs.

Abstract: Section 503A of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (the Act) (21 U.S.C. 353a) describes the circumstances under which compounded drugs may qualify for exemption from three requirements of the Act: (1) that a drug be manufactured according to current good manufacturing practice; (2) that a drug have adequate directions for use; and (3) that a marketing application be approved by FDA before a new drug product is introduced for sale (i.e., sections 501(a)(2)(B), 502(f)(1), and 505 of the Act (21 U.S.C. 351(a)(2)(B), 352(f)(1), and 355)). To qualify for the exemption, a pharmacist or physician must meet statutory conditions for compounding, including the following: (1) there generally must be a prescription for an identified individual patient before compounding; (2) compounding before receiving a prescription is allowed only under limited circumstances; (3) the quantity of drugs that may be shipped out of State is limited and may vary depending on whether the compounder is located in a State that has entered into a memorandum of understanding (MOU) with FDA; (4) drug products may only be compounded using a bulk drug substance (which is essentially the active ingredient) that is listed in the United States Pharmacopoeia (USP) or National Formulary (NF), or a bulk drug substance that is a component of an FDA-approved drug product, or a bulk drug substance that is listed in the regulation as one that FDA has found to be suitable for compounding; (5) the bulk drug substance must be made in a facility registered with FDA and the bulk drug substance must be accompanied by a certificate of analysis; (6) they cannot compound regularly or in inordinate amounts any drug products that are essentially copies of commercially available products; (7) drug products may not be compounded if they are listed in a regulation as having been removed from the market or had their FDA-approval withdrawn because they were found to be not safe or not effective; (8) drug products that are listed in the regulations as "demonstrably difficult to compound" may not be compounded. The regulations will amplify and explain the statutory requirements as well as execute tasks Congress assigned FDA in section 503A. This proposed rule will be one of several rulemakings implementing section 503A. Related regulatory initiatives are described below: (1) FDA has issued a final rule listing drug products that may not be compounded because they were found to be not safe or not effective and were removed from the market or had their FDA approval withdrawn; (2) FDA has also issued a proposed rule and is preparing a final rule listing drugs that are not the subject of a USP or NF monograph, and are not components of an FDA-approved drug product but are suitable for compounding; (3) FDA is currently preparing a proposed rule listing those drugs that are demonstrably difficult to compound and are not allowed to be compounded; and (4) FDA has published a Federal Register notice announcing the availability of a draft MOU between FDA and State boards of pharmacy.

Abstract: Section 4 of the Animal Drug Availability Act of 1996 (ADAA) (Pub. L. 104-250) permits the Secretary of HHS to establish tolerances for animal drugs used or intended for use in animals grown in an exporting nation from which an edible portion is imported into the United States. The standards used to establish tolerances are to be similar to the food safety criteria used by the Secretary to establish tolerances for drugs administered to animals grown in the United States. The data used for establishing the tolerances may be from the manufacturer and include data upon which a foreign approval is based or data available to an international organization such as the Codex Alimentarius Commission. This rule would implement the provisions in ADAA.

Abstract: During the notice and comment rulemaking for 21 CFR part 589, "Listing of Specific Substances Prohibited from Use in Animal Food or Feed; Animal Proteins Prohibited in Ruminant Feed," FDA received several comments supporting the application of mandatory Hazard Analysis Critical Control Point (HACCP) regulations for renderers. Some of these comments were from renderers. Because of the need to expedite the rulemaking for 21 CFR part 589, FDA stated that it would take up the HACCP regulations for renderers as a separate initiative. This rulemaking is to address the need expressed in the comments to 21 CFR part 589 by promulgating mandatory HACCP regulations for renderers.

Abstract: After determining that dioxins were present in some clays used as anti-caking agents in animal feeds, the agency is considering proposing a rule that would prohibit the use of these clays unless they meet certain conditions under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act. At this time, it is not clear whether there are other types of mined clay products that contain dioxins or whether the relatively low concentrations found in recent samples of mined clay products would have a significant impact on the public health. Thus, the advance notice of proposed rulemaking will request further information regarding the presence of dioxins in mined clay products used in animal feeds or feed ingredients and the significance of these dioxins to the public health.

1099. CHRONIC WASTING DISEASE: CONTROL OF FOOD PRODUCTS AND COSMETICS DERIVED FROM EXPOSED ANIMAL POPULATIONS

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 264; 21 USC 301 et seq

CFR Citation: Not Yet Determined

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is proposing to prohibit the use of cervids (deer, elk) for food, including dietary supplements, and cosmetics if the cervids have been exposed to chronic wasting disease (CWD). FDA is proposing this regulation because of potential risks to health.

CWD is a type of transmissible spongiform encephalopathy (TSE), a group of fatal, neurodegenerative diseases that include bovine spongiform encephalopathy (BSE) in cattle, scrapie in sheep, and Creutzfeldt-Jakob disease (CJD) in humans. CWD affects cervids in the United States and Canada.

CWD is endemic in cervid populations in certain areas of Colorado, Nebraska, and Wyoming. The disease has been identified in wild and farmed elk and wild deer populations. At least one published scientific article has reported that infectious CWD prion proteins in vitro can convert normal, non-infectious human prion proteins into abnormal, infectious forms. These data suggest that the agent of CWD could be transmitted to humans.

Currently, there are no validated analytical tests to identify animals in the pre-clinical phase of CWD, or any other TSE. CWD typically exhibits a long incubation period, during which time animals appear normal but are likely to be infectious. Therefore, FDA is proposing to require that food or cosmetic products derived from animals exposed to CWD not enter into commerce.

Abstract: 21 CFR parts 600 through 680 describe regulations applicable to biological products. Part 600 describes regulations for general establishment standards, establishment inspections, and the reporting of adverse experiences applicable to manufacturers of licensed biological products. FDA is initiating a review under section 610 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act for the regulations in part 600. The purpose of this review is to determine if any of the regulations in part 600 should be continued without change, or should be amended or rescinded, to minimize adverse economic impacts on small entities. FDA will consider, and solicit comments on, the following: (1) the continued need for a regulation in part 600; (2) the nature of complaints or comments received concerning a regulation in part 600; (3) the complexity of a regulation in part 600; (4) the extent to which a regulation in part 600 overlaps, duplicates, or conflicts with other Federal, State, or government rules; and (5) the degree to which technology, economic conditions or other factors have changed in the area affected by a regulation in part 600.

1104. NATIONAL PRACTITIONER DATA BANK FOR ADVERSE INFORMATION ON PHYSICIANS AND OTHER HEALTH CARE PRACTITIONERS: MEDICAL MALPRACTICE PAYMENTS REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 11131

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 60.7

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This NPRM proposes to require that, in addition to reporting to the National Practitioner Data Bank medical malpractice payments made where physicians or other health care practitioners are named in medical malpractice actions or claims, judgments or settlements, payments be reported where they are made for the benefit of physicians or other health care practitioners not named in the judgments or settlements but who furnished or failed to furnish the health care services upon which the actions or claims were based. The purpose of this NPRM is to prevent the evasion of the medical malpractice payment reporting requirement of the Data Bank through the agreement of the parties to a lawsuit to use the corporate health care entity to "shield" practitioners. It would also require malpractice payers, in very limited circumstances, when it is impossible to identify the practitioner who furnished or failed to furnish the health care services upon which the actions or claims were based, to report why the practitioner could not be identified and to provide the name of the corporate health care entity.

Abstract: Public Law 100-93 amended section 1921 of the Social Security Act to require that each State have in effect a system of reporting disciplinary licensure actions taken against all licensed health care practitioners and entities. It also requires States to report any negative action or finding which a peer review organization, private accreditation entity or a State has concluded against a health care practitioner or entity. Section 1921 directs the Secretary to provide for maximum appropriate coordination in the implementation of these reporting requirements with those of the Health Care Quality Improvement Act of 1986 (title IV of Pub. L. 99-660). Section 1921 requirements will be incorporated into the National Practitioner Data Bank (NPDB).

Abstract: Section 487D of the Public Health Service Act, as added by the National Institutes of Health Revitalization Act of 1993, creates a program offering scholarships, in an amount not to exceed $20,000 per year of academic study, to individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds who are enrolled as full-time students at accredited institutions pursuing academic programs appropriate for careers in professions needed by the NIH. For each year of scholarship support, the recipient agrees to service (employment) after graduation, at the NIH, for one year. Additionally, the individual agrees to at least 10 consecutive weeks of service (employment) at the NIH during which the individual is attending the educational institution and receiving the NIH scholarship. The proposed new regulations will cover this program.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 216; 42 USC 241; 42 USC 289b

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 93

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposes substantial revisions to the existing regulations at 42 CFR part 50, subpart A, "Responsibilities of Awardee and Applicant Institutions for Dealing With and Reporting Possible Misconduct in Science," 54 FR 32449, August 8, 1989. The National Institutes of Health Revitalization Act of 1993 (NIH Act), Public Law 103-43, contains provisions that affect the current rule. For example, section 161 of the NIH Act established the Office of Research Integrity (ORI) as an independent entity reporting to the Secretary, and recent organizational changes have also affected the ORI's operations. In addition, the Office of Science and Technology Policy (OSTP) published a governmentwide policy that applies to federally-funded research and proposals submitted to the Federal agencies for research funding, 65 FR 76260, December 6, 2000. The proposed revised regulation will implement this OSTP policy, which contains a definition of research misconduct and basic guidelines for the response of Federal agencies and research institutions to allegations of research misconduct. The current regulation, which implemented section 493(e) of the Public Health Service Act, would be deleted, and a new part 93, subparts A, B, C, D, and E would be added.

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 94

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: To implement section 493(e) of the Public Health Service Act (added by section 163 of the National Institutes of Health Revitalization Act of 1993, Pub. L. 103-43), the Department is proposing to add a new part 94 to title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations. Under this proposed regulation, covered institutions must follow certain requirements for preventing and responding to occurrences of retaliation against whistleblowers. The purpose of this part is to protect: (1) persons who make a good faith allegation that a covered institution or member thereof engaged in, or failed to respond adequately to, an allegation of research misconduct; and (2) persons who cooperate in good faith with an investigation of research misconduct.

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301; 42 USC 289

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 46

Legal Deadline: None

HHS—OPHS

Final Rule Stage

Abstract: In compliance with the President's Memorandum of March 27, 1997, this interim final rule would amend the Federal Policy (common rule) for the Protection of Human Subjects to add a new section that applies only to classified research involving human subjects. The new section would modify the Federal Policy by: 1) prohibiting any executive branch agency from engaging in classified research involving human subjects unless the agency has adopted the Federal Policy and the interim final rule; 2) eliminating the availability of waiver of informed consent and expedited review for classified research involving human subjects; 3) enhancing the informed consent requirements and allowing for disclosure of classified information if necessary; and 4) changing the composition of the institutional review board (IRB) and establishing a process for individual IRB approvals of classified research.

1131. • PROTECTION OF HUMAN RESEARCH SUBJECTS

Priority: Other Significant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301; 42 USC 289(a)

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 46

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Department is proposing to amend subpart B of its human subjects protections regulations published on January 17, 2001. Subpart B provides additional protections for pregnant women and human fetuses involved in research and pertain to human in vitro fertilization. A proposed rule was published on July 6, 2001, which would amend the January regulations by making the following three modifications:

(1) Require a father's consent (when the father is readily available) for participating in research directed solely at the fetus and that does not affect a mother's health.

(2) Add to the regulations the term "neonate" to describe an infant that has been delivered but for which viability determination has not yet been made.

(3) Clarify that neonates of uncertain viability may be subjected to added risk only if the research is intended to enhance the particular neonate's probability of survival to the point of viability.

Public comment was accepted through September 4; the anticipated date of the final rule is November 14, 2001.

Abstract: This rule amends the requirements for certification and payment for rural health clinics (RHCs), as required by section 4205 of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997 (BBA 1997). It includes new refinements of what constitutes a qualifying rural shortage area in which a Medicare RHC must be located; establish criteria for identifying RHCs essential to delivery of primary care services that can continue to be approved as Medicare RHCs in areas no longer designated as medically underserved; and include recent statutory provisions that provide a temporary waiver of certain nonphysician practitioner staffing requirements. It imposes payment limits on provider based RHCs, and would prohibit the use of RHC space or equipment, and other RHC resources by another Medicare entity. The rule also requires establishment of a quality assessment and performance improvement program.

Abstract: This rule requires hospitals to develop and maintain a quality assessment and performance improvement (QAPI) program. The QAPI focuses the providers' efforts on the actual care delivered to patients, the performance of the hospital as an organization, and the impact of treatment furnished by the hospital on the health status of its patients. In addition, QAPI entails all activities required for measuring quality of care and maintaining it at acceptable levels. Performance improvement activities aim to improve overall performance assuming there is no permanent threshold for good performance. Under a performance improvement framework, hospitals will continuously study and improve the processes of healthcare and delivery of service.

Priority: Other Significant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Legal Authority: Secs 601-605 of BIPA; Secs 607-608 of BIPA; Secs 611-613 of BIPA; Secs 619-621 of BIPA; Sec 623 of BIPA; Sec 634 of BIPA; ...

CFR Citation: Not Yet Determined

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This regulation implements certain technical and minor changes of the provisions of sections 601 to 634 of the Medicare Payment provisions of the Medicare, Medicaid & SCHIP Benefits and Improvement Act (BIPA) of 2000. It is significant because although the changes mandated by BIPA are minor and technical in nature, they involve updates to payment rates.

Abstract: This rule would amend the Medicare regulations to clarify our interpretation of "without fault" as it applies to physician, provider, supplier, and beneficiary liability for overpayments. This definition would result in greater uniformity of determinations by carriers and intermediaries. Additionally, this rule would amend the Medicare regulations governing liability for overpayments to eliminate application of certain regulations of the Social Security Administration and to replace them with CMS regulations more specific to circumstances involving Medicare overpayments.

Abstract: This rule will revise the requirements that hospitals must meet to participate in the Medicare and Medicaid programs. The revised requirements focus on patient care and the outcomes of that care, reflect a cross-functional view of patient treatment, encourage flexibility in meeting quality standards, and eliminate unnecessary procedural requirements. These changes are necessary to reflect advances in health care practices since the requirements were last revised in 1986.

Abstract: This rule will revise home health agency conditions of participation to center on the patient, using outcome-oriented measures. Most of the current HHA conditions of participation have remained unchanged since home health services became a Medicare benefit in 1966. Some limited modifications have been made over the years to comply with legislative changes. As a result, most of the conditions of participation continue to be structure- and process-oriented.

Abstract: This rule would establish a requirement that all providers and suppliers (other than physicians who have entered into a private contract with a beneficiary) must complete an enrollment form, submit specified information to us, and periodically update and certify the accuracy of the enrollment information in order to receive and maintain billing privileges in the Medicare program. The information must clearly identify the provider or supplier and its place of business, provide documentation that it is qualified to perform the services for which it is billing, and assure that it is not currently excluded from the Medicare program. If we determine the information submitted is incomplete, invalid, or insufficient to meet Medicare requirements, we would reject, deny, inactivate, or revoke billing privileges.

Abstract: This rule would require States to provide assurances that laws relating to medical child support have satisfactorily been implemented in accordance with the Social Security Act (the Act). This requirement would implement section 13623 of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1993 (Pub. L. 103-66), commonly cited as OBRA 1993. The medical child support laws that the States must have in effect are set forth in section 1908 of the Act. These laws would impose requirements on insurers, employers, and State Medicaid agencies that would result in greater enrollment opportunities for children, facilitate the filing of claims by custodial parents, and establish new payment disbursement criteria.

Abstract: This rule would amend current regulations to clarify our policies regarding the treatment of interest expense. The rule would require that, when only part of the interest on a loan is allowable, repayment would be made first to that portion of the loan on which expense is allowable. This rule would also clarify how this policy is to be applied in situations in which there are multiple loans, and one or more of the loans are not related to patient care. In addition, we would define the allowable costs associated with advance refunding of debt, and clarify the treatment of revenue and expenses.

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, July 1, 1998, BBA, Section 4454(d).

Abstract: This rule implements section 4454 of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997 (BBA 1997), which amended section 1861 of the Social Security Act (the Act) and added a new section 1821 to the Act. Section 4454 of BBA 1997 removed all references to Christian Science and Christian sanatoria from the Act and substituted religious nonmedical health care institutions in their place. This change permits any qualified religious, nonmedical, health care institution to apply for payment for furnishing nonmedical services under Medicare. Section 4454 also authorizes payment for such services as an option benefit under State Medicaid plans. The rule sets forth minimum requirements and conditions of participation to qualify as a religious nonmedical health care institution for purposes of receiving payment for services furnished under Medicare and Medicaid.

Abstract: The final rule would implement the requirements of the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998 (WHCRA) (Pub. L. 105-277). The rule will provide protection to patients who are receiving benefits in connection with a mastectomy and who elect breast reconstruction. WHCRA provides coverage for all stages of reconstruction of the breast on which the mastectomy has been performed; surgery and reconstruction of the other breast to produce a symmetrical appearance; and coverage for prostheses and treatment of physical complications of a mastectomy, including lymphedema. Group health plans and health insurance issuers that offer medical and surgical benefits for mastectomies are subject to WHCRA's coverage requirements.

Legal Deadline: NPRM, Statutory, June 15, 2000.

Abstract: This rule would amend our regulations to require an HHA surety bond of $50,000. We would remove the 15 percent provision based on concerns expressed by Congress, the home health industry, surety association representatives, and comments published in a report by the General Accounting Office. This rule would require that HHAs obtain a surety bond by October 1, 2000. Although the bond must be effective January 1, 1998, we are proposing not to hold sureties liable for excessive interim payments attributable to the implementation of the interim payment systems made between October 1, 1997 and September 30, 2000.

Priority: Economically Significant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1396d

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 441; 42 CFR 483

Abstract: This rule establishes a new condition of participation that psychiatric residential treatment facilities that are not hospitals must meet to provide, or to continue to provide, the Medicaid inpatient psychiatric services benefit to individuals under age 21. Specifically, this rule establishes standards for the use of restraint or seclusion that residential treatment facilities must have in place to protect the health and safety of residents. This new COP acknowledges a resident's right to be free from restraint or seclusion except in emergency safety situations. We also are requiring residential facilities to notify a resident and his or her parent or legal guardian of the facility's policy regarding the use of restraint or seclusion during an emergency safety situation that occurs while the resident is in the program. We believe these added requirements will provide minimum safeguards to protect residents against the inappropriate use of restraint or seclusion.

Abstract: This rule implements sections 1842(b)(8) and (9) of the Social Security Act, as revised by section 4316 of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997. It sets forth the process for establishing realistic and equitable payment amounts for all Medicare part B items and services (other than physician services) when the existing payment amounts are inherently unreasonable because they are either grossly excessive or grossly deficient. This rule describes the factors CMS (or its carriers) will consider and the procedures that will be followed in establishing realistic and equitable payment amounts.

Abstract: This rule would revise current hearing regulations applicable to enforcement actions taken by CMS against Medicare providers and suppliers (and, in some cases, certain Medicaid providers) based on a lack of compliance with Federal certification requirements. Specifically, this rule would revise existing requirements governing the level of specificity that petitioners must include when seeking review of agency actions governed by these hearing regulations. Additionally, this rule would clarify the meaning of "good cause" as that term is used in the hearing regulations to judge whether petitioners may file requests for review after filing deadlines have passed. The rule would also require dismissal of petitions for review when a petitioner has failed to file a sufficiently detailed hearing request within the time allotted by the regulations.

Abstract: This rule would adjust the rate of reimbursement for photocopy expenses of Medicare Prospective Payment System (PPS) providers of medical records requested by Utilization and Quality Control Peer Review Organizations.

This rule is necessary due to changes in the inflation factor, salaries, and the cost of living. We would specify a provision for periodic review and adjustment of the per-page reimbursement cost to account for inflation and changes in technology. The methodology for calculating the per-page reimbursement rate would remain unchanged.

We also propose to expand the scope of the regulation to encompass other providers subject to the Medicare PPS (for example, skilled nursing facilities and home health agencies), as well as hospitals.

Priority: Economically Significant. Major under 5 USC 801.

Unfunded Mandates: This action may affect State, local or tribal governments.

Legal Authority: Sec. 1102 of the SSA; Sec. 303 of the FSA; Sec. 103 of PRWORA

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 435; 42 CFR 436; 42 CFR 440; 42 CFR 447

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This final rule amends the Medicaid regulations that specify eligibility groups and conditions of eligibility. It revises the provisions for extended Medicaid to families who lose Medicaid under section 1931 of the Social Security Act because of income from, or hours of, employment, or when the earned income disregards are lost.

This change codifies and interprets certain provisions of the Family Support Act of 1988, as amended by the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1989 and 1990, and the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Act of 1996.

1213. • CONTINUE TO ALLOW STATES AN OPTION UNDER THE MEDICAID SPOUSAL IMPOVERISHMENT PROVISIONS TO INCREASE THE COMMUNITY SPOUSE'S INCOME WHEN ADJUSTING THE PROTECTED RESOURCE ALLOWANCE (CMS-2128-P)

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Unfunded Mandates: Undetermined

Legal Authority: Sec 1924 of the Social Security Act

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 431

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule will revise our existing Medicaid regulations to include part of the spousal impoverishment provisions of the Social Security Act. This rule would allow States an option to count the institutionalized spouse's income as the community spouse's income when adjusting the protected resource allowance. Specifically, it would give States an option either to use an income-first or resource-first method when determining that the community spouse has insufficient income to meet minimum monthly maintenance needs.

Priority: Other Significant

Unfunded Mandates: Undetermined

Legal Authority: Sec. 1861(v) of the Social Security Act as Amended

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 413.134

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule responds to public comments on, and makes technical corrections to, the final rule with comment period that revised the Medicare provider reimbursement regulations setting forth requirements related to allowable costs. That final rule with comment period set a limit on the valuation of a depreciable asset that may be recognized in establishing an appropriate allowance for depreciation and for interest on capital indebtedness after a change of ownership that occurs on or after December 1, 1997. The provisions apply to providers that are reimbursed on the basis of reasonable costs and implement revisions included in the Balanced Budget Act of 1997.

Abstract: The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 made far-reaching amendments to title IV-D of the Social Security Act, which governs the child support enforcement program. The Balanced Budget Act of 1997, the Adoption and Safe Families Act of 1997 and the Child Support Performance and Incentive Act of 1998 further amended title IV-D. A significant result of this legislation is an expansion in the scope of information available to State IV-D child support enforcement agencies. The legislation has rendered obsolete or inconsistent several regulations at 45 CFR chapter III, Office of Child Support Enforcement, including the regulations on the Federal Parent Locator Service, the State Parent Locator Services, offset of Federal payments for purposes of collecting child support, and safeguarding of information. This regulation would update various

Department of Housing and Urban Development

DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT (HUD)

[Docket No. FR-4664-N-02]

Semiannual Agenda of Regulations

AGENCY: Department of Housing and Urban Development.

ACTION: Semiannual regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: In accordance with section 4(b) of Executive Order 12866, "Regulatory Planning and Review," HUD is publishing its agenda of (1) regulations already issued or that are expected to be issued over the next several months, and (2) currently effective rules that are under review. The agenda also describes regulations that may affect small entities as required by section 602 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act. The purpose of publication of the agenda is to encourage more effective public participation in the regulatory process by providing the public with early information about pending regulatory activities.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Aaron Santa Anna, Assistant General Counsel for Regulations, Department of Housing and Urban Development, Room 10276, 451 Seventh Street SW., Washington, DC 20410, (202) 708-3055. (This is not a toll-free number.) A telecommunications device for hearing- and speech-impaired individuals (TTY) is available at 1-800-877-8339 (Federal Information Relay Service).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Executive Order 12866, "Regulatory Planning and Review," published on October 4, 1993 (58 FR 51735), requires each agency to publish semiannually an agenda of (1) regulations that the agency has issued or expects to issue, and (2) currently effective regulations that are under agency review. The Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601-612) requires each agency to publish semiannually a regulatory agenda of rules expected to be proposed or promulgated that are likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of "small entities," meaning small businesses, small organizations, or small governmental jurisdictions.

Executive Order 12866 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act each permit incorporation of the agenda required by these two authorities with any other prescribed agenda. Therefore, the agenda set out below combines the information required by Executive Order 12866 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act. In addition, the agenda contains certain information not required by either the Executive Order or by the Regulatory Flexibility Act which the Department considers useful, both better to inform the public and to enhance the Department's own inventory control over its body of regulations.

Section 610(c) of the Regulatory Flexibility Act requires each agency to publish annually a list of the rules that have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities, and that are to be reviewed in accordance with the requirements of section 610 during the succeeding 12 months. Existing regulations that HUD proposes to amend by rules described and published in this agenda are reviewed in accordance with the principles of section 610 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act. The purpose of the review is to determine whether the rule should be continued without change, amended or rescinded. Proposed changes to existing regulations provide the opportunity for the Department to conduct a section 610 review.

The Department also is subject to certain rulemaking requirements set forth in the Department of Housing and Urban Development Act (42 U.S.C. 3531 et seq.). Section 7(o) of the Department of Housing and Urban Development Act (42 U.S.C. 3535(o)) requires that the Secretary transmit to the congressional committees having jurisdictional oversight of HUD (the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs and the House Committee on Banking and Financial Services) a semiannual agenda of all rules or regulations which are under development or review by the Department. A rule appearing on the agenda cannot be published for comment before or during the first 15 calendar days after transmittal of the agenda. Section 7(o) provides that if, within that period, either committee notifies the Secretary that it intends to review any rule or regulation which appears on the agenda, the Secretary must submit to both committees a copy of the rule or regulation, in the form it is intended to be proposed, at least 15 calendar days before it is published for comment. The semiannual agenda published today is the agenda transmitted to the committees in compliance with this requirement.

In addition to the authorities described above that affect HUD's regulatory process, this semiannual agenda, continues to reflect the regulatory review required by President Bush. On January 20, 2001, White House Chief of Staff Andrew H. Card, Jr. issued a memorandum entitled "Regulatory Review Plan" to all Federal departments and agencies, which sets out certain procedures that ensure that the new administration has the opportunity to review any new or pending regulations.

Consistent with the direction of the January 20, 2001 memorandum, HUD is continuing to review regulations that were begun under the previous Administration. In some cases, HUD has withdrawn rules that were placed on previous agendas and for which there has been no publication activity. Withdrawal of a rule does not necessarily mean that HUD will not proceed with the rulemaking. Withdrawal allows the new HUD Administration to further assess the subject matter and determine whether rulemaking for this subject matter is appropriate. Following this review, the Department may determine that certain rules listed as withdrawn under this agenda are appropriate. If that determination is made, the rules will be included in a succeeding semiannual agenda.

Additionally, for a few rules that have been published as a proposed or interim rule, and therefore require further rulemaking, HUD has identified the timing of the next action stage as "undetermined." These are rules that are still under review by the new HUD Administration and for which a determination of the next action stage and timing of the next action stage has not yet been made.

HUD has attempted to list in this agenda all regulations and regulatory reviews pending at the time of publication, except for minor and routine or repetitive actions, but some may have been inadvertently omitted, or may have arisen too late to be included in the published agenda. There is no legal significance to the omission of an item from the agenda. Also, where dates are provided for the next rulemaking actions, the dates are estimates and are not commitments to act on or by the date shown.

The format of the agenda remains unchanged from previous years. HUD's agenda items are divided first by program office. Within each program office, the agenda items are divided into five groups: (i) pre-rulemaking actions, (ii) publication or other implementations of notices of proposed rulemaking, (iii) publication or other implementations of final rules, (iv) long-term actions, and (v) completed actions. Within each grouping, rules are listed in chronological order by the part number of the CFR affected. Where a rule affects multiple parts of the CFR, the rule is listed by the first affected part number.

For this edition of the Department's regulatory agenda, the most important significant regulatory actions are included in The Regulatory Plan, which appears in part II of this issue of the Federal Register. The Regulatory Plan entries are listed in the table of contents below and are denoted by a bracketed bold reference, which directs the reader to the appropriate sequence number in part II.

Since the purpose of publication of the agenda is to encourage more effective public participation in the regulatory process by providing the public with early information about the Department's future regulatory actions, HUD invites all interested members of the public to comment on the rules listed in the agenda.

Dated: September 17, 2001.
Alphonso Jackson,
Deputy Secretary.

Abstract: This rule would implement section 601(f) of the fiscal year 1999 HUD Appropriations Act (Pub. L. 105-276, approved October 21, 1998). Section 601(f) amends the National Housing Act, which establishes the basic framework for HUD's single family mortgage insurance programs. Specifically, section 601(f) amends section 230 of the National Housing Act (42 U.S.C. 1715u) (entitled Authority to Assist Mortgagors in Default) to provide that, upon default of an insured single family mortgage, lenders must engage in loss mitigation activities for the purpose of providing an alternative to foreclosure. Further, section 601(f) amends section 536 of the National Housing Act (12 U.S.C. 1735f-14) (entitled Civil Money Penalties Against Mortgagees, Lenders, and Other Participants in FHA Programs) to provide for the imposition of treble civil money penalties on lenders that fail to engage in loss mitigation activities, as required under amended section 230.

Abstract: The U.S. Architectural and Transportation Barriers Compliance Board (Access Board), of which HUD is a voting member, is revising and updating its accessibility guidelines for buildings and facilities covered by the Americans with Disabilities Act and the Architectural Barriers Act (ABA). The guidelines cover new construction and alterations and serve as the basis for enforceable standards issued by other Federal agencies, including HUD. HUD, as one of the four standard setting agencies, must adopt standards that are equivalent to or stricter than those guidelines issued by the Access Board. Thus, HUD must both update its regulations for the ABA at 24 CFR 40 and 41, but must also update/replace its Uniform Federal Accessibility Standards (UFAS) with standards equivalent to or stricter than the Access Board's guidelines.

Abstract: Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (Title VI), section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1972 (Section 504), and the Age Discrimination Act of 1975 (Age Discrimination Act) prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, disability, and age in programs or activities that receive Federal financial assistance. In 1988, the Civil Rights Restoration Act (CRRA) added definitions of "program or activity" and "program" to Title VI, and it added a definition of "program or activity" to Section 504 and the Age Discrimination Act. The promulgation of this rule incorporates the CRRA's definition of "program or activity" and "program" into title VI, section 504, and Age Discrimination Act regulations.

Abstract: This rule updates and clarifies HUD's annual income requirements for its public housing and Section 8 assistance programs. Specifically, this rule clarifies that annual income includes payments under the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program, but only to the extent such payments qualify as "assistance" under the TANF program regulations issued by the Department of Health and Human Services and are not otherwise excluded under HUD's regulation. The clarifications will make the annual income requirements easier to understand for both program participants and public housing agencies. These changes will also ensure greater conformity between HUD's annual income requirements and the TANF program regulations. The final rule follows publication of an April 20, 2001 proposed rule, and takes into consideration the public comments received on the proposed rule.

Abstract: The Multifamily Assisted Housing Reform and Affordability Act of 1997 (Title V of the Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations Act, 1998; Pub. L. 105-65, approved October 27, 1997) (the Act) made several amendments to strengthen HUD's enforcement authority. This rule addresses those amendments that require rulemaking for implementation, as follows. The Act expands the list of persons and types of violations subject to a civil money penalty under HUD's multifamily insured housing programs. The Act also amends the United States Housing Act of 1937 (the statutory authority for HUD's public and assisted housing programs) to provide for the imposition of civil money penalties for noncompliance with Section 8 Housing Assistance Payment contracts. In accordance with the Act, HUD is implementing these statutory amendments through issuance of this rule. The rule would incorporate these amendments in HUD's civil Abstract: This rule follows the interim final rule that implemented HUD's new fair market rent (FMR) policy. The new FMR policy targets relief to areas where higher FMRs are needed to help families, assisted under HUD's Housing Choice Voucher Program as well as other HUD programs, find and lease decent and affordable housing. The new FMR policy increases FMRs needed to promote residential choice, help families move closer to areas of job growth, and deconcentrate poverty. The increased FMR applies to all the HUD programs that use FMRs in that metropolitan area.

Abstract: This final rule would adjust for inflation the maximum amounts of HUD's civil money penalties, as required by the Federal Civil Money Penalties Inflation Adjustment Act of 1990 (28 U.S.C. 2461 note), as amended by the Debt Collection Improvement Act of 1996 (31 U.S.C. 3701 note). HUD is required to adjust the maximum amounts of its civil money penalties at least once every 4 years. HUD last adjusted these maximum amounts in a final rule that became effective October 24, 1996 (61 FR 50208). Accordingly, HUD must adjust the maximum amounts of its civil money penalties before October 24, 2000.

Abstract: This rule adopts procedures to implement Executive Order 11990 "Protection of Wetlands." This rule amends part 55 to implement the procedures for wetlands protection in accordance with Executive Order 11990. The rule makes several other changes including expanding the number of HUD programs that are subject to the four-step decisionmaking process for ensuring compliance with part 55.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1451 et seq; 12 USC 1716 et seq; 12 USC 4501 et seq; 42 USC 3535(d)

Abstract: A report issued in June 2000 by HUD and the Department of Treasury entitled "Curbing Predatory Home Mortgage Lending" noted that by providing a source of funding, entities that purchase or securitize loans with high cost and/or predatory features are, knowingly or unknowingly, supporting the activities of predatory loan originators. The report recommended regulatory restrictions that would prohibit the two Government-Sponsored Enterprises (GSEs), Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, from purchasing certain types of loans with high costs and/or predatory features altogether. Through this rulemaking, HUD will establish regulatory restrictions, consistent with the GSEs' voluntary restrictions, that will prohibit the GSEs from purchasing certain loans with high costs and/or predatory features.

Abstract: This document presents the final revision to the codification, at 24 CFR part 84, of Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-110, "Uniform Administrative Requirements for Grants and Agreements with Institutions of Higher Education, Hospitals, and Other Nonprofit Organizations." OMB issued a final revision to Circular A-110 on September 30, 1999, as required by Public Law 105-227. This rule provides uniform administrative requirements for all grants and cooperative agreements to institutions of higher education, hospitals, and other nonprofit organizations. FR-4258 (RIN 2501-AC39), which makes final an interim rule that adopted revised OMB Circular A-133 to obtain consistency and uniformity among Federal agencies for the audit of States, local governments, and nonprofit organizations expending Federal awards, is also merged with this rule.

Abstract: This notice announces HUD's proposal to establish the Accelerated Claim Disposition (ACD) Demonstration and solicits public comment on this proposal. The Demonstration would implement amendments made by section 601 of the fiscal year 1999 Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development and Independent Agencies Appropriations Act to section 204 of the National Housing Act (12 U.S.C. 1710). These changes are designed to increase the effectiveness of the methods used by HUD to pay insurance claims and disposing of HUD-acquired single family notes and their underlying properties. Under the ACD Demonstration, HUD would pay accelerated claims on certain defaulted FHA-insured mortgages. HUD, in its sole discretion, will use one of two disposition methodologies: joint venture partnership and/or special servicing with whole loan or securitization. HUD will select approximately five to nine mortgagees to participate in the ACD Demonstration. The demonstration will have an initial duration of three years and will initially be limited to mortgage loans secured by properties located within the jurisdiction of HUD's Philadelphia, Pennsylvania Home Ownership Center (HOC). At the conclusion of the demonstration, HUD will assess its success and determine whether to implement the ACD process, on a permanent basis, throughout the country.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1702 to 1715z-21; 42 USC 3535(d)

Abstract: This rule establishes regulatory placement and removal procedures for HUD's Nonprofit Organization Roster. The Roster lists nonprofit organizations that HUD has determined are qualified to participate in certain specified Federal Housing Administration (FHA) single family activities. These activities may include acting as a mortgagor; purchasing HUD's Real Estate Owned Properties (HUD Homes) at a discount; providing secondary financing; and imposing legal restrictions on conveyance as part of affordable housing programs. Presently, there are no regulatory procedures for placing a nonprofit organization on, nor for removing a poorly performing nonprofit organization from, the Roster. The establishment of these placement and removal procedures will better protect participants in the FHA single family programs and safeguard FHA insurance funds. This rule follows publication of a September 17, 2001 proposed rule, and takes into consideration the public comments received on the proposed rule.

Abstract: This rule would make several amendments to HUD's regulations for the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) Credit Watch/Termination Initiative. Under the Credit Watch/Termination Initiative, HUD identifies mortgagees with unsatisfactory performance levels and takes ameliorative action at an early stage. The proposed rule would provide that HUD will no longer provide mortgagees with written notification of Credit Watch status. Rather, mortgagees will be responsible for using HUD's Electronic Neighborhood Watch System to monitor their performance. Among other changes, the rule would also prohibit a mortgagee that has received a notice of proposed termination of its origination approval agreement from establishing a new branch for the origination of FHA-insured mortgages in the lending area covered by the proposed termination. The rule also would establish that the default and claim thresholds underlying the Credit Watch/Termination Initiative apply to both underwriting and originating mortgagees.

Abstract: This rule establishes placement and removal procedures for HUD's list of qualified consultants under the Section 203(k) Rehabilitation Loan Insurance program. The 203(k) Program is HUD's primary program for the rehabilitation and repair of single family properties. A 203(k) lender may select a qualified independent consultant, who is an expert in the field of home inspection and construction, to perform various tasks required for the rehabilitation of the property. Presently, there are no regulatory procedures for placing a consultant on, nor for removing a poorly performing consultant from, the list. The establishment of these placement and removal procedures will better protect 203(k) borrowers and lenders and safeguard Federal Housing Administration (FHA) insurance funds.

However, the statutory right of tenants to organize includes those State-financed housing developments. This rule will extend the protection of tenant organization to include State-financed developments assisted under certain HUD programs.

This rule also makes a minor technical correction to a citation in the existing tenant participation regulation. Section 245.135(a)(3) of the rule intended to cross-reference 24 CFR part 24, subpart G; the CFR part was omitted.

L. 105-276, 112 Stat. 2519, approved October 21, 1998). Section 602 directs HUD to carry out a program under which HUD-owned homes and mortgages are made available in a manner that promotes expanded homeownership opportunities in designated revitalization areas. Under section 602, the Secretary will designate revitalization areas, in consultation with affected units of general local government and interested nonprofit organizations. Section 602 provides that the Secretary shall provide a preference in the sale of HUD-owned homes and mortgages to nonprofit organizations or to the unit of general local government having jurisdiction in the revitalization area.

Abstract: This rule would make final the interim rule that implemented the Lender Insurance program, which reflects the Secretary's new authority to delegate the issuance of Mortgage Insurance Certificates (MICs) to mortgagees that are approved under the Direct Endorsement program. This rule provides that eligible mortgagees that participate in the Lender Insurance program will be responsible for conducting a pre-endorsement review during the origination of their single family mortgage loans and they will be responsible for endorsing the mortgages for insurance. HUD intends that delegating this insurance authority through the Lender program will be consistent with HUD's efforts to reinvent the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) by creating a more efficient and less burdensome process for providing single family mortgage insurance.

Abstract: This rule amends HUD's regulations for the Home Equity Conversion Mortgage (HECM) Program to implement the amendments made by section 201(a) of the American Homeownership and Economic Opportunity Act of 2000. The HECM Program enables older homeowners to withdraw some of the equity in their homes in the form of payments for life, a fixed term, or at intervals through a line of credit. Section 201(a) authorizes HUD to offer mortgage insurance for refinancing of existing HECMs, and provides consumer safeguards for such refinancings. Abstract: This rule amends the regulations for HUD's multifamily mortgage insurance programs by revising 24 CFR part 207 to permit the Secretary to set mortgage insurance premiums (MIPs) at any rate within his statutory authority, rather than setting specific MIP rates by regulation. Under this rule, HUD will be able to set mortgage insurance premiums at any rate between one-fourth and one percent of the outstanding principal balance of the insured loan. For several insured housing programs, this underwriting change will eliminate the need for positive credit subsidy. Promulgation of this rule will allow HUD to avoid a shutdown of these mortgage insurance programs.

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 401; 24 CFR 402

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule will replace interim part 402, which was published on September 11, 1998, together with interim part 401 that established the Mark-to-Market program. Subsequently HUD decided to separate the two parts and publish final part 401 separately, although the current rule also makes minor conforming amendments to part 401 as well. Final part 402 will set forth the regulations governing the renewal of expiring Section 8 project-based assistance contracts, whether the projects rents are above or below market, except for renewals made as part of a Mark-to-Market Restructuring Plan under part 401.

Abstract: This rule adds an exception to HUD's current Section 8 regulations that prohibit any distributions to nonprofit owners of projects receiving project-based assistance. HUD may now permit distributions of surplus cash to owners of projects with expiring Section 8 project-based assistance contracts who agree to renew their contracts, if distributions are necessary to ensure continued participation of the owners in the Section 8 program.

Abstract: This rule will amend the Federal Manufactured Home Construction and Safety Standards (FMHCSS) to update many of the standards that are incorporated by reference therein. These reference standards, which are developed by voluntary consensus or industry groups, provide necessary technical standards for the FMHCSS. These amendments will keep the FMHCSS current with the industries that use these reference standards by incorporating the latest edition of these standards and new relevant standards.

Abstract: This interim rule implements Section 223(f) of the National Housing Act, which authorizes the Secretary of HUD to insure mortgages executed in connection with refinancing the debt of existing multifamily properties and health care facilities. This interim rule implements this authority with respect to acute care hospitals. The purpose of the Section 223(f) program is to provide hospitals the opportunity to refinance their long-term debt so that the hospitals can reduce their annual debt service and thus improve their financial viability. This in turn will further the congressional policy of assisting urgently needed hospitals that treat and care for persons who are acutely ill or injured and who otherwise require medical care and related services customarily furnished only by hospitals.

Abstract: This rule will implement section 588 of the Quality Housing and Work Responsibility Act of 1998 by revising HUD's regulations for the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program. Section 588 prohibits State and local governments from using CDBG funds for "job pirating" activities that are likely to result in significant job loss. Job-pirating, in this context, refers to the use of CDBG funds to lure or attract a business and its jobs from one community to another community.

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 100

Abstract: Subpart D of HUD's Fair Housing Act regulations (24 CFR part 100), which address the accessibility requirements of the Fair Housing Act, has not been updated since 1991. These regulations reference compliance with the building standards of the American National Standards Institute (ANSI), but the reference to the ANSI edition of 1986 has long been superseded by two more recent editions of 1992 and 1998. Although parties subject to the Fair Housing Act regulations may continue to refer to the 1986 edition of ANSI, the regulations need to be updated to also offer compliance with the 1992 and 1998 editions as a safe harbor for compliance. This rule will update the regulations to provide that compliance with the appropriate requirements of the 1986, 1992 or 1998 editions of ANSI A117.1 suffices to satisfy the accessibility requirements of the Fair Housing Act.

Abstract: This rule will amend the deconcentration component of HUD's Public Housing Agency Plans regulations to revise the definition of Established Income Range (EIR) to include within the EIR those developments in which the average income level is at or below 30 percent of the area median income, and therefore ensure that such developments cannot be categorized as having average income "above" the Established Income Range. An income level that is at or below 30 percent of the area median income is defined as "extremely low income" in HUD's regulations. HUD believes that developments with an average family income at or below 30 percent of the area median income should not be categorized as higher income developments for purposes of income mixing because efforts to place lower income families into these developments would not result in income deconcentration as contemplated by the statute. This rule follows publication of an August 15, 2001 proposed rule, and takes into consideration the public comments on the proposed rule.

Abstract: This rule will revise HUD's regulations regarding demolition and disposition of public housing projects, in accordance with section 531 of the Quality Housing and Work Responsibility Act of 1998 (Pub. L. 105-276). This rule will establish the general and specific requirements for HUD approval of demolition and disposition applications, relocation of residents, resident participation in the form of consultation and opportunity to purchase, new requirements regarding resident relocation, the PHA Plan and local government consultation and a new authority for a PHA to demolish a small number of their units without a formal application under certain circumstances, referred to as "de minimis" demolition.

Abstract: This notice sets forth HUD's policy for ensuring regular and meaningful consultation and collaboration with Indian tribal governments in the administration of HUD programs on Indian reservations and other Indian areas. The notice implements Executive Order 13084, Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments, issued on May 14, 1998 (63 FR 27655, May 19, 1998). In formulating policies that significantly or uniquely affect Indian tribal governments, HUD will adhere to the principles of respect for Indian tribal self-government, sovereignty, tribal legal rights, and the responsibilities that arise from the legal relationship that exists between the

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1437z-5; 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 972

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule implements a revision to the statute that authorizes HUD's public housing and Section 8 housing assistance programs. The revision requires Public Housing Agencies (PHAs) to identify distressed public housing developments that must be converted to tenant-based assistance. If it would be more expensive to modernize and operate a distressed development for its remaining useful life than to provide tenant-based assistance to all residents, or the PHA cannot assure the long-term viability of a distressed development, then the PHA must develop and carry out a five-year plan to remove the development from its public housing inventory, and convert it to tenant-based assistance. This rule follows publication of a July 23, 1999 proposed rule, and takes into consideration the public comments received on the proposed rule.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1437t; 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 972

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule implements a revision to the statute authorizing HUD's public housing and Section 8 housing assistance programs. The revision authorizes Public Housing Agencies (PHAs) to convert a development to tenant-based assistance by removing the development (or a portion of a development) from its public housing inventory and providing for relocation of the residents or provision of tenant-based assistance to them. This action is permitted only when that change would be cost effective, be beneficial to residents of the development and the surrounding area, and not have an adverse impact on the availability of affordable housing. This rule follows publication of a July 23, 1999 proposed rule, and takes into consideration the public comments received on the proposed rule.

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1437f; 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 982

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: On October 21, 1999, HUD published a final rule implementing the statutory merger of the Section 8 tenant-based and certificate programs into the new Housing Choice Voucher program. This rule amends HUD's regulations governing this new merger program to expand the regulatory payment standard protection against subsidy reduction. The October 21, 1999 final rule limited payment standard protection to the first 24 months of the lease term. This rule provides that a family is not subject to a subsidy reduction until the second regular reexamination of family income and composition following the payment standard reduction. This protection extends for the duration of the lease term.

Abstract: This rule implements the pilot program authorized by section 302 of the American Homeownership and Economic Opportunity Act of 2000. Under the pilot program, a Public Housing Agency (PHA) that administers Section 8 tenant-based assistance may provide homeownership assistance for a disabled family that purchases a dwelling unit that will be occupied by the family. The rule implements the pilot program by amending HUD's regulations for the Section 8 homeownership option.

Abstract: This rule revises the way HUD measures and verifies performance under the lease-up indicator for the Section 8 Management Assessment Program (SEMAP). Specifically, the rule revises the lease-up standard to measure the number of units leased against the number of units reserved and under Annual Contributions Contract (ACC), instead of against the number of units budgeted. This revised standard is consistent with established HUD policy on voucher renewals and unit allocations as formulated during negotiated rulemaking pursuant to the Quality Housing and Work Responsibility Act of 1998. In addition, this rule also revises the SEMAP regulations to provide for automated signature of the required SEMAP certification.

Abstract: This rule will establish regulations that will govern funding and eligible activities of HUD's HOPE VI Program. To date HOPE VI has been operated from year to year as a demonstration program in accordance with authorization provided each year in appropriations bills. HOPE VI activities were funded and guided by notices of funding availability issued each fiscal year by HUD. The Quality Housing and Work Responsibility Act of 1998 (title V of Public Law 105-276, approved October 21 1998, 112 Stat. 2585; hereafter QHWRA) makes HOPE VI a permanent program. The regulations to be implemented for the HOPE VI program will include the provisions set out in section 535 of the QHWRA.

Abstract: This rule will amend HUD's regulations governing Total Development Cost (TDC) for the development of public housing. The amendments will implement changes made to the statutory TDC requirements. Among other changes, this rule will limit the amount of public housing funds that a public housing agency may use to pay for housing construction costs. The rule will also provide that demolition and environmental hazard remediation costs are included in TDC only to the extent that such costs are associated with the replacement of public housing units on the project site.

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 25 USC 4101 et seq; 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 1000

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, October 1, 2001.
Section 807 of the American Homeownership and Economic Opportunity Act of 2001 requires that HUD issue final regulations by October 1, 2001.

Abstract: The rule implements the provisions contained in title V, subtitle B of the American Homeownership and Economic Opportunity Act of 2000. These provisions add a new title VIII to the Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Act (NAHASDA) of 1996. Under NAHASDA, HUD provides grants, loan guarantees, and technical assistance to Indian tribes and Alaska Native villages for the development and operation of low-income housing in Indian areas. New title VIII expands the scope of NAHASDA to include housing assistance to Native Hawaiians, and establishes statutory requirements specific to Native Hawaiian NAHASDA assistance.

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 25 USC 4101 et seq; 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 1000

Abstract: This rule would update the Indian Housing Block Grant (IHBG) allocation formula. Under the IHBG Program, HUD makes assistance available to Indian tribes for the development, operation and management of Indian housing. The amount of assistance made available to each potential grant recipient is determined using a formula that was developed through negotiated rulemaking procedures. The IHBG program regulations require that the allocation formula be reviewed within five years after issuance. This 5-year period would not close until March 2003. However, the American Homeownership and Economic Opportunity Act of 2000 makes several statutory changes to the IHBG allocation formula that HUD has decided to implement through this rulemaking. Accordingly, HUD has taken the opportunity afforded by this rule to revisit the formula and make the more comprehensive changes contemplated by the 5-year review. The rule will be developed with the active participation of Indian tribal governments and using the procedures of the Negotiated Rulemaking Act of 1990.

HUD—PIH Long-Term Actions

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, Interior.

ACTION: Semiannual regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: This notice provides the semiannual agenda of rules scheduled for review or development between October 2001 and April 2002. The Regulatory Flexibility Act and Executive Order 12866 require publication of the agenda.

ADDRESSES: Unless otherwise indicated, all agency contacts are located at the Department of the Interior, 1849 C Street NW., Washington, DC 20240.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: You should direct all comments and inquiries with regard to these rules to the appropriate agency contact. You should direct general comments relating to the agenda to the Office of Executive Secretariat, Department of the Interior, at the address above or on 202-208-5257 or 202-208-3071.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: With this publication, the Department satisfies the requirement of Executive Order 12866 that the Department publish an agenda of rules that we have issued or expect to issue and of currently effective rules that we have scheduled for review.

Simultaneously, the Department meets the requirement of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) to publish an agenda in April and October of each year identifying rules that will have significant economic effects on a substantial number of small entities. We have specifically identified in the agenda rules that will have such effects.

For this edition of the Department's regulatory agenda, we have included the most important significant regulatory actions in The Regulatory Plan, which appears in part II of today's Federal Register. The table of contents below lists The Regulatory Plan entries and denotes them by a bracketed bold reference that directs the reader to the appropriate sequence number in part II.

1350. NATURAL RESOURCE DAMAGE ASSESSMENTS: TYPE B PROCEDURES

Priority: Other Significant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 9651(c)

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 11

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: CERCLA and the Clean Water Act allow natural resource trustees to bring a claim against a potentially responsible party for resources that have been injured by a release of a hazardous substance. CERCLA requires that natural resource damage assessment regulations be promulgated and that the regulations be reviewed, and revised as appropriate, every two years. This rulemaking is the biennial review of the administrative process for conducting assessments as well as the so-called type B procedures for determining injury and damages through scientific and economic studies. This rulemaking will also address the calculation of lost non-use values of natural resources, in compliance with State of Ohio v. Department of the Interior, 880 F.2d 432 (D.C. Cir. 1989), which ordered the Department to allow for the assessment of all reliably calculated values lost as a result of a natural resource injury.

Priority: Other Significant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 39

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This proposed rule would implement the Secretary of the Interior's June 1, 1993, recommendation to Congress that the Department promulgate regulations addressing rights-of-way pursuant to R.S. 2477 across lands now administered by the Bureau of Land Management, the National Park Service, and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. R.S. 2477—a provision adopted in 1866 that granted a right-of-way for the construction of highways across public land not reserved for public uses—was repealed in 1976 but valid existing rights-of-way were not terminated. This proposed rule is intended to clarify the meaning of the statute and provide a workable administrative process and standards for recognizing valid claims.

Abstract: The Service proposes to amend regulations in 50 CFR part 12 that establish procedures relating to property seized and administrative forfeiture under various laws enforced by the Service. This revision is intended to provide uniform guidance for the bonded release, appraisement, administrative proceeding petition for remission, and disposal of items subject to forfeiture. Also these revisions are intended to provide for greater consistency of Service seizure and forfeiture procedures with those of the U.S. Customs Service. In August 2000, the Civil Asset Forfeiture Reform Act became law. CAFRA mandated many changes to 50 CFR 12 that are incorporated in this proposed rule.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17

Legal Deadline: Other, Statutory, 12 month finding.

Abstract: We received a petition to list the Tibetan antelope as endangered. We must determine if status review shows that the petitioned action is warranted. If so, we will propose endangered status for the Tibetan antelope, or chiru (Pantholops hodgsoni). The antelope is a wild ungulate native to Tibet, Kashmir, and north-central China. It is threatened by illegal trade in its wool, known as shahtoosh, which is exceptionally fine. The wool and shawls made from it are in great demand on the black market, resulting in the slaughter of thousands of these animals annually. The species has experienced dramatic declines in recent years despite efforts by range countries to control poaching, as well as a prohibition on international commercial trade through listing in Appendix I of CITES.

Abstract: The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Service) will list as endangered species status pursuant to the Endangered Species Act (Act) of 1973, as amended, for hackelia venusta (Piper) St. John (showy stickseed). The population has declined to the current size of less than 150 individual plants at a single location in Tumwater Canyon, WA. Threats include competition and shading from native trees and shrubs, encroachment onto the site by nonnative, noxious plant species, wildfire and fire suppression, activities associated with fire suppression, and low seedling establishment.

1384. MIGRATORY BIRD PERMITS; TAKE OF MIGRATORY BIRDS BY FEDERAL AGENCIES

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 703 to 712

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 21.15

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: According to a recent ruling of the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, Federal Agencies are subject to the Migratory Bird Treaty Act (MBTA) and must have authorization under the MBTA to take migratory birds. Our current regulations authorize issuance of permits to take migratory birds for activities such as scientific research, education, and depredation control. For many other activities that result in take of migratory birds, no permits have been available. This rule would allow Federal activities to take migratory birds that are not covered by existing permit regulations, provided certain conditions are met, until more specific regulations can be developed.

1386. WILD BIRD CONSERVATION ACT: REVIEW OF APPROVED LIST OF CAPTIVE-BRED SPECIES

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 4901 to 4916

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 15

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: Under the Wild Bird Conservation Act, a species may be exempt from the prohibitions of the Act if it qualifies for inclusion in an approved list. One way for a species to be included is if the species occurs in trade only as captive-bred specimens. We intend to seek information and consider whether to amend this approved list, which was established in 1994.

We must determine if petitioned action is warranted within 90 days or as soon as possible after receipt of petition.

Abstract: Based upon a review of the species in response to a petition, we may propose to list the Beluga sturgeon (Huso huso) as endangered. This species historically inhabited the Caspian, Black, Azor and Adriatic Seas, and all rivers flowing into them. The Adriatic Sea population has been extirpated, and no wild Beluga sturgeon has been found in the Sea of Azor since the mid 1980's. This species has declined due to fishing pressure. This species is highly valued for its caviar and is subject to both legal and substantial levels of illegal fishing. The Beluga sturgeon has also been impacted by dam building and other forms of habitat modification.

1461. ENDANGERED AND THREATENED WILDLIFE AND PLANTS; ESTABLISHMENT OF NONESSENTIAL EXPERIMENTAL POPULATIONS FOR FOUR FISHES: DUSKYTAIL DARTER, SMOKY MADTOM, YELLOWFIN MADTOM, AND SPOTFIN CHUB

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: We plan to make a final determination on the proposed rule to designate nonessential experimental population (NEP) status under Section 10(j) of the Endangered Species Act of 1973 (Act), and reintroduce two federally listed endangered fishes—the duskytail darter and smoky madtom—and two Federally listed threatened fishes—the yellowfin madtom and spotfin chub—into the Tellico River between the backwaters of the Tellico Reservoir (approximately Tellico River mile (TRM) 19 and TRM 33, near the Tellico Ranger Station, in Monroe County, Tennessee.

1462. ENDANGERED AND THREATENED WILDLIFE AND PLANTS; LISTING OF BUENA VISTA LAKE SHREW AS ENDANGERED

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, March 1, 2002.

Abstract: The Service proposes to list the Buena Vista Lake shrew (Sorex ornatus relictus) as endangered under the authority of the Endangered Species Act of 1973 without critical habitat. The Buena Vista Lake shrew is found in marshes and sloughs within a site formerly known as the Kern Lake Preserve, Kern County, California. This subspecies may also occur in the Tulare Basin and at Kern National Wildlife Refuge, but its status is unknown. The only known population occurs on privately owned land that currently has no Federal protection.

1463. ENDANGERED AND THREATENED WILDLIFE AND PLANTS; PROPOSED LISTING OF VERMILION DARTER AS ENDANGERED

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17

Legal Deadline: Final, Judicial, November 19, 2001, settlement.

Abstract: The Fish and Wildlife Service will list the vermilion darter (Etheostoma chermocki) as endangered under the authority of the Endangered Species Act of 1973, as amended. The vermilion darter is found in only 11.6 kilometers (7.2 miles) of the main stem of Turkey Creek, and the lowermost reaches of Dry Creek and Beaver Creek, within the Turkey Creek drainage, a tributary of the Locust Fork of the Black Warrior River, northeast Jefferson County, Alabama. This proposed rule, if made final, will extend the protection of the Act to the vermilion darter.

1464. ENDANGERED AND THREATENED WILDLIFE AND PLANTS; RECLASSIFICATION OF SCUTELLARIA MONTANA (LARGE-FLOWERED SKULLCAP) FROM ENDANGERED TO THREATENED

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, July 12, 2001.

Abstract: The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Service) plans to make a final determination on the reclassification of Scutellaria montana (large-flowered skullcap) from its present endangered status to threatened status under the authority of the Endangered Species Act of 1973, as amended (Act). This proposed reclassification is based on the substantial improvement in the status of this species. Since listing, 22 additional sites have been discovered, and the total known number of individuals has increased from about 6,700 to more than 48,000.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17

Legal Deadline: Final, Judicial, July 31, 2001, Court Order.

Abstract: We propose endangered status pursuant to the Endangered Species Act of 1973, as amended (Act), for 12 species of Hawaiian picture-wing flies—Drosophila aglaia, D. differens, D. hemipeza, D. heteroneura, D. montgomeryi, D. mulli, D. musaphilia, D. neoclavisetae, D. obatai, D. ochrobasis, D. substenoptera, and D. tarphytrichia. These species are found on one or more of the following Hawaiian Islands: Kauai, Oahu, Molokai, Maui, and Hawaii. These 12 species face substantial threats from one or more of the following: habitat degradation, loss of host plants, biological pest control, and predation from alien arthropods.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 703 to 712; 16 USC 742(a) to 742(j); PL 106-108

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 20

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule is intended to notify the public of a clarification of the expiration date of regulations imposed by Congress to reduce the population of mid-continent light geese. In this rule, we clarify the expiration date of special regulations pertaining to hunting methods (electronic calls and unplugged shotguns) for taking mid-continent light geese. We also clarify the expiration date of the conservation order for the reduction of the mid-continent light goose population.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1; 16 USC 3; 16 USC 462k; 16 USC 9a

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 4.23

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The National Park Service (NPS) is proposing to amend its regulations concerning motor vehicle operation under the influence of alcohol within units of the NPS. Current NPS regulations prohibit operation with a blood alcohol concentration (BAC) of 0.10 grams or more of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood or 0.10 grams of alcohol per 210 liters of breath. On March 3, 1998, President Clinton directed the NPS to promulgate regulations adopting a stricter limit of 0.08 grams BAC within units of the NPS.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: PL 105-391

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 52

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: Public Law 105-391 became effective on November 13, 1998. The new Act mandates revised procedures for issuing commercial use authorizations. Section 417 of Public Law 105-391 requires that the Secretary promulgate implementing regulations as soon as practicable after the effective date of the Act. Existing regulations governing commercial use within National Parks are not adequate to administer the provisions of the new statute and must be revised to reflect new requirements.

Abstract: In September 2000, the Tenth Circuit lifted the injunction that the U.S.District Court of Utah had placed to prevent vehicle access to a particular road in Canyonlands National Park. At the time of the Tenth Circuit's opinion, the road had been closed for two years. After the injunction was lifted, the NPS closed the road to study further the condition of the road and the benefits derived from discontinued use of the road. This rulemaking allows the road to remain closed while studies and monitoring continue until all litigation is resolved.

Abstract: This rule will outline and enforce visitor use restrictions, area closures, visitor use zones, and permit requirements that are necessary to implement a recent amendment to the park general management plan. In addition, the rule will close one use zone, a research natural area, in the park to fishing, and restrict species that may be taken in the remaining zones. It will also regulate the landing of aircraft. The rule will also seek consistency with regulation of the surrounding Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary in order to pull together management of an ecosysytem that crosses jurisdictional boundaries.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1; 16 USC 3; 16 USC 9a; 16 USC 462(k)

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 7.73; 36 CFR 7.103

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This is an interim regulation to implement Presidential Proclamation No. 7932, which established the Virgin Islands Coral Reef National Monument. This regulation prohibits extractive uses, with some exceptions,and anchoring within the monument, and expands the boundaries of Buck Island Reef National Monument. The regulation also implements Presidential Proclamation No. 7399, which prohibits all extractive uses and boat anchoring, except in deep sand areas (all other anchoring is subject to permit) at Buck Island. Both proclamations require NPS to prepare management plans for each park within three years. We are soliciting comments on this interim rule and will take them into account in developing the final rule once we have completed the general management plans.

Priority: Other Significant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Legal Authority: 25 USC 640(d)

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 161

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: These regulations are necessary for implementation of the livestock and grazing control provisions of 25 USC 640(d). In 1982 the Federal District Court for Arizona abolished 25 CFR 153, Grazing Regulation for the Joint Use Administrative Area and ordered the Secretary to promulgate new regulations for the control of grazing and livestock for the former Joint Use Administrative Area. Due to a lack of tribal concurrence regulations were not promulgated for lands partitioned to the Navajo Tribe. Navajo tribal concurrence has been recently obtained; therefore, the BIA needs to move forward with publication of these regulations. Any cost associated with the implementation of these regulations will be assumed within the BIA annual budget. Cost associated with compliance of the provisions of these regulations will be borne by the Navajo Tribe or its members. There is no associated cost to the general public.

Abstract: This rule will update part 216 to incorporate changes in regulations as well as the mining industry. It will bring the bureau into conformance with the standards of the Bureau of Land Management and the Office of Surface Mining and will protect the Indian mineral owners by giving them no less protection than what is given to Federal lands. Indian mineral owners will be protected through the regulation of exploration for minerals by adequate measures that avoid, minimize, or correct damage to the environment, land, water, and the public safety.

1695. OIL AND GAS AND SULPHUR OPERATIONS IN THE OUTER CONTINENTAL SHELF—SAFETY MEASURES AND PROCEDURES FOR PIPELINE MODIFICATIONS AND REPAIRS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 43 USC 1331 et seq

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 250

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The rule will address problems that arise out of the fact that eventually all pipeline valves leak internally. This is due to abrasion and deposition of operational residues on valve seats. Internal valve leakage poses a potential safety problem to offshore workers at the time pipeline repairs are performed because hydrocarbons and pressure differentials in the lines can pose a significant hazard of fire and explosion. The rule will require that lessees and operators consider and submit in writing the measures they plan to take and the procedures they plan to follow to ensure the safety of company or contract workers and to prevent pollution before beginning a pipeline modification or repair, and it will amend section 250.1006(b)(1) by requiring that a blind flange be installed at the platform end of any pipeline taken out of service to prevent seepage into the line through leaking valves.

Abstract: This rule would amend MMS rules governing training of lessee employees engaged in oil and gas and sulphur operations in the OCS. We are proposing to establish a third party accreditation system and implement a cost recovery process that would: (1) Accredit an independent third party either well control or safety training programs; (2) Promote innovation by encouraging third-party accreditors to serve as "think tanks" for improved training; and (3) Provide for MMS certification through the use of a cost recovery system.

1697. • APPEALS OF MINERALS MANAGEMENT SERVICE ORDERS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Legal Authority: 43 USC 1331 et seq

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 242; 30 CFR 290; 43 CFR 4

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule streamlines appeals process to facilitate processing appeals within the 33-month deadline required by the Federal Oil and Gas Royalty Simplification and Fairness Act of 1996 (RSFA). It also implements the requirements of OMB Circular A-25, which establishes guidelines for Federal agencies to assess fees to cover the costs of Government-provided services or benefits beyond those accruing to the general public. The proposed rule will: (1) Require the Appellant to file its Notice of Appeal and Statement of Reasons directly with the MMS Appeals Division and file copies with the office that issued the order; (2) Implement most of the recommendations made by the Royalty Policy Committee; (3) Eliminate the requirement for an MMS Field Report containing MMS's arguments; (4) Clarify the right of the States and tribes to participate in the appeals process ; and (5) Provide for settlement negotiations as required in RSFA.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Legal Authority: 43 USC 1331

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 250; 30 CFR 251

Abstract: This rule would modify the proprietary terms for geophysical data and information and any of their derivatives that MMS acquires under 30 CFR part 251. We propose to change the beginning of the proprietary terms from the date of submission to MMS to the date MMS issues the permit. The rule would also allow selective disclosure of geological and geophysical data and information and allow selective disclosure of data and information generated on a lease to persons with a direct interest in issues concerning field determination and royalty relief eligibility.

Priority: Routine and Frequent. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Legal Authority: 43 USC 1331

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 250

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: MMS is proposing to incorporate by reference the Fifth Edition of the American Petroleum Institute's Specification for Offshore Cranes into our regulations. MMS is proposing this action to establish a minimum design standard for new cranes installed on fixed platforms on the Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) and to require all existing cranes installed on OCS fixed platforms to be equipped with anti-two block safety devices. This proposed rule would ensure that OCS lessees use the best available and safest technologies for the design and construction of cranes used in the OCS.

1700. • DEALING WITH SUSTAINED CASING PRESSURE

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Legal Authority: 43 USC 1331

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 250

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This proposed rulemaking amends subpart E (Oil and Gas Well-Completion Operations) of MMS operating regulations. It describes procedures for dealing with sustained casing pressure in oil and gas wells on the Outer Continental Shelf. Currently, lessees must request a departure from MMS regulations to operate a well that has sustained casing pressure. When granting a departure, MMS requires that lessees perform periodic checks and evaluations to ensure that the pressure is not a danger to personnel, equipment, or the environment. This proposed rule will codify these procedures and ensure uniform regulatory practices among MMS regional offices. The proposed changes will also help ensure that lessees will continue to conduct operations in a safe manner.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Legal Authority: 43 USC 1331

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 250

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: We are proposing to amend our regulations to better address floating offshore platforms that, until now, have not been expressly covered. This will require a complete rewrite of subpart I to include floating production systems. These systems are variously described as column-stabilized units; floating production, storage and offloading facilities; tension-leg platforms; spars, etc. We are also incorporating into our regulations a body of industry standards pertaining to floating production systems, and this will save the public the costs of developing Government standards.

Abstract: MMS is proposing to update one document incorporated by reference and add one new document incorporated by reference in our regulations governing oil and gas and sulphur operations in the Outer Continental Shelf. These revisions will ensure that lessees use the best available and safest technologies while operating in the OCS. The updated document is the Fourth Edition of the American Petroleum Institute's (API) Recommended Practice for Design and Installation of Electrical Systems for Fixed and Floating Offshore Petroleum Facilities for Unclassified and Class I, Division 1 and Division 2 Locations (API RP 14F), dated June 1999. The new document is the Eighth Edition of API's document titled "Pressure Vessel Inspection Code: Maintenance Inspection, Rating, Repair, and Alteration" (API 510), dated June 1997, plus one addendum with approved revisions.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Legal Authority: 43 USC 1331 et seq

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 250

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: MMS is proposing to modify requirements governing rights-of-use and easement and pipeline rights-of-way in the Outer Continental Shelf. These changes will increase rental rates for pipeline rights-of-way and establish rentals for rights-of-use and easement. The proposed rule will also allow MMS to charge additional payment when the right-of-use and easement or the pipeline right-of-way prevents MMS from making the area available to other companies for exploration and possible development and production. This change is needed because of requests by lessees and pipeline right-of-way holders to use large areas outside of the area covered by their lease and pipeline right-of-way for accessory structures.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant. Major status under 5 USC 801 is undetermined.

Legal Authority: Not Yet Determined

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 250

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: MMS is proposing to modify requirements governing suspensions of operations for oil and gas leases in the Outer Continental Shelf (OCS). There are instances where oil and gas companies begin to conduct timely analysis of geophysical data early in the lease term; however, this data may be inconclusive because of problems caused by the existence of salt sheets. In such cases, the proposed rule will allow companies to apply for a suspension to avoid the possibility of having to drill a well before completing the necessary geophysical analysis. In return for the consideration for additional time to analyze geophysical data under the salt sheet, the lessee must show they have made and will continue to make substantial efforts and financial commitment in the processing and reprocessing of their geophysical data.

Abstract: This rule proposes clarifying amendments to regulations on OCS bidding systems in 30 CFR part 260, revised as of July 1, 2001. The proposed amendments make explicit that water depth and production timing on leases issued after 2000 and placed on a field with leases issued earlier play no role in the way we determine the royalty suspension volume applicable to eligible leases on the field.

Abstract: This rule will amend MMS' regulations governing operations in the Outer Continental Shelf to update decommissioning requirements. The new layout of the rule follows the logical sequence of plugging a well, decommissioning the platform and pipeline, and clearing the waste site. The proposed rule also updates the requirements to reflect changes in technology. We have restructured the requirements to make the regulations easier to read and understand. The proposed technical changes will help ensure that lessees decommission operations safely and effectively.

Abstract: This rule will require the surface coal mining permittee to have an emergency action plan (EAP) when a dam is placed in service. This would bring OSM's regulations on EAPs into compliance with the Federal guidelines for dam safety and the Departmental Manual. It would ensure that EAPs are in place for all Class B and Class C hazard structures that may not necessarily be regulated by the Mine Safety and Health Administration but for which OSM is responsible.

Abstract: BLM proposes to make two minor amendments to the recordable disclaimer regulations at 43 CFR 1864.1-1 and .1-3. Presently the regulations state that any present owner of record may file an application to have a disclaimer of interest issued. Neither FLPMA nor its implementing regulations define the term "present owner of record." Neither the Federal Courts nor the Interior Board of Land Appeals have defined or elaborated on the phrase. As such, BLM wishes to amend the regulations to eliminate the phrase. Such an amendment would prevent any legal challenge to BLM's interpretation of the phrase to include state applications.

Unfunded Mandates: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 30 USC 601 et seq

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 3600; 43 CFR 3610; 43 CFR 3620

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule will revise completely the regulations on mineral materials disposal to make them easier to understand. It will add provisions on recordkeeping and audit inspection and production verification, cancellation and suspension, appeals and clarification of the rights of competitive or noncompetitive purchasers against subsequent claims on and users of the public lands.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 43 CFR 8365.1-6

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 8365

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This interim final rule would require a permit for public demonstrations at Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument and associated facilities, and establish procedures for obtaining such a permit. It would also provide for some locations to be designated as open for demonstrations, and others to be closed to protect sensitive resources and public health and safety.

Legal Authority: 30 USC 181 et seq; 43 USC 1740; PL 106-463

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 3430; 43 CFR 3470

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule will increase the maximum acreage of Federal coal leases that may be leased to one entity in any one State from 46,080 to 75,000 acres to conform with legislation enacted in 2000, and to correct a technical error in the regulations by removing the requirements of a public hearing and publication of a notice of availability of environmental analysis documents for coal lease modifications. It will also raise the nationwide acreage limitation on coal leases that one entity can hold from 100,000 to 150,000 acres.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 13368

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 3170

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, October 24, 1995.

Abstract: The rule will implement section 1339 of the Energy Policy Act of 1992. It will prevent conflicts in ownership of coalbed methane from impeding development of that resource by requiring pooling of development and payment of the proceeds into an escrow account until the ownership issue is resolved by a State entity of competent jurisdiction. The rule will also allow States to avoid the Federal regulations by promulgating their own regulations that substantially comply with Federal requirements.

AGENCY: Department of Justice.

ACTION: Semiannual regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: The Department of Justice is publishing its October 2001 regulatory agenda pursuant to E.O. 12866 "Regulatory Planning and Review," 58 FR 51735, and the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. sections 601-612 (1988).

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Robert Hinchman, Senior Counsel, Office of Legal Policy, Department of Justice, Room 4258, 950 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20530, (202) 514-8059.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: For this edition of the Department of Justice's regulatory agenda, the most important significant regulatory actions are included in The Regulatory Plan, which appears in part II of this issue of the Federal Register. The Regulatory Plan entries are listed in the table of contents below and are denoted by a bracketed bold reference, which directs the reader to the appropriate sequence number in part II.

The Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) requires that, each year, the Department publish a list of those regulations that have a significant economic impact upon a substantial number of small entities and are to be reviewed under section 610 of the Act during the succeeding 12 months. This edition of the Department's Unified Agenda includes three regulations requiring such a review: "Reduction of the Number of Acceptable Documents and Other Changes to Employment Verification Requirements" (RIN 1115-AB73); "Nondiscrimination on the Basis of Disability in Public Accommodations and Commercial Facilities" (RIN 1190-AA44); and "Nondiscrimination on the Basis of Disability in State and Local Government Services" (RIN 1190-AA46). In accordance with the RFA, comments are specifically invited on these regulations. Those comments should be addressed to the contact persons listed in the entries for these items.

Dated: October 12, 2001.

Abstract: On July 9, 1999, the U.S. Architectural and Transportation Barriers Compliance Board (Access Board) published a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) to amend the ADA Accessibility Guidelines (ADAAG), which form the basis of the Department's ADA Standards for Accessible Design. After receiving public comments, the Access Board published a summary of proposed changes to the guidelines for public comment on July 21, 2000. This NPRM would, for the first time, establish accessibility guidelines for the design of recreation facilities, such as health clubs, golf courses, and amusement parks. The ADA (sections 204(c) and 306(c)) requires the Department's accessibility standards to be consistent with the Access Board's guidelines. Therefore, the Department expects to publish a NPRM proposing to adopt the revisions proposed by the Access Board and proposing related changes to the Department's regulations with respect to the operation of recreation facilities. Individuals with disabilities cannot participate in the social and economic realms of the Nation without being able to access public entities and public accommodations throughout the country. Promulgating this amendment to the Department's ADA regulations will ensure that the regulations are consistent with the Access Board's ADA Accessibility Guidelines, thereby preventing the confusion that could develop if the Department's regulations were inconsistent with the Access Board guidelines. In addition, amending the Department's ADA regulations will improve the Department's overarching goal of improving access for persons with disabilities. The proposed rule will ensure that new recreation facilities are readily accessible to and usable by individuals with disabilities. As new recreation facilities are designed and constructed to be accessible, individuals with disabilities will enjoy the benefits of these facilities. Operators of recreation facilities will experience increased usage and patronage by individuals with disabilities. Designers and manufacturers will have a clear and consistent set of standards with which to work. Establishing uniform standards for accessibility has resulted in innovation and new designs that are cost effective and beneficial to everyone.

1809. AMERICAN COMPETITIVENESS AND WORKFORCE IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 1998 COMPLAINT PROCESS

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1182(n)(5)

CFR Citation: 28 CFR 44.500

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The American Competitiveness and Workforce Improvement Act (ACWIA)—enacted as part of the Omnibus Consolidated and Emergency Supplemental Appropriations Act of 1998—made various changes to the Immigration and Nationality Act (the INA) relating to temporary nonimmigrant professionals. In this rule (RIN 1190-AA48), the Department's Office of Special Counsel for Unfair Immigration-Related Employment Practices (OSC) will implement the ACWIA "failure to select" protections—codified in the INA at section 212(n)(5)—by establishing a process under which U.S. workers may file complaints against employers for denying them employment opportunities by improperly hiring temporary foreign professionals on H-1B visas. Under this process, OSC may receive and review these complaints, and then—if there is reasonable cause to believe the allegations—initiate binding arbitration proceedings through the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service (FMCS). This rule also includes changes to the regulations of the Office of the Chief Administrative Hearing Officer of the Executive Office for Immigration Review to provide for the review of arbitrators' decisions and, where appropriate, the award of administrative relief. These rules are being coordinated with the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) and the Department of Labor (DOL).

Additional Information: Through RIN 1115-AF40 (INS No. 1974-99), INS will implement the ACWIA "whistleblower" protection provisions—codified in the INA at section 212(n)(2)(C)(iv) and (v)—prohibiting retaliation against H-1B workers who disclose information which they believe indicates their employer has violated the law or regulations pertaining to labor condition applications for nonimmigrants. That rule will also enable an H-1B worker who files a complaint alleging retaliation to remain in the United States and seek authorization to work in the United States for a temporary period while his or her complaint is under review.

Through RIN 1115-AF41 (INS No. 1975-99), INS will implement portions of ACWIA pertaining to new penalties for employers misrepresenting material facts in an H-1B application. That rule complements regulations issued by the Department of Labor (DOL). It also defines the term "United States employer" and implements other provisions of ACWIA.

Abstract: On October 18, 2000, the U.S. Architectural and Transportation Barriers Compliance Board (Access Board) published a final rule to supplement the ADA Accessibility Guidelines (ADAAG), which form the basis of the Department's ADA Standards for Accessible Design. These guidelines establish for the first time accessibility guidelines for the design of play areas. The ADA (sections 204(c) and 306(c)) requires the Department's accessibility standards to be consistent with the Access Board's guidelines. Therefore, the Department expects to publish a NPRM proposing to adopt the revisions of the Access Board and proposing related changes to the Department's regulations with respect to the operation of play areas.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301; 28 USC 509 to 510; 42 USC 1973a(c); 42 USC 1973c

CFR Citation: 28 CFR 51

Abstract: Section 5 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 requires that certain States and their political subdivisions (covered jurisdictions) obtain "preclearance" from the Federal Government of proposed changes in voting practices and procedures prior to their implementation. Preclearance may be obtained either through litigation in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia or administratively from the Attorney General. In 1971 the Department first issued procedures for the administration of section 5 to inform covered jurisdictions concerning the manner in which they could comply with section 5 in the administrative proceeding before the Attorney General. In subsequent years, the Department has amended these procedures to reflect changes in section 5 law, in the Attorney General's internal practices, and to make the procedures clearer and easier to follow. In the 14 years since the last major amendment to the procedures, there have been significant changes in section 5 law and in the practices employed by the Department in processing submissions, which are not reflected in the existing Procedures.

The proposed revisions will: (1) Simplify the submission process for section 5 subjurisdictions; (2) clarify the matters that are subject to section 5 review; (3) provide greater definition to the operation of the 60-day review requirement and the permissible responses of the Attorney General to a

Abstract: The Department of Justice proposes to make amendments to its coordination regulations concerning agency enforcement of title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 28 CFR 42.401 to 42.415, and agency enforcement of section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1972, 28 CFR 41.1 to 41.58. In 1998, the Civil Rights Restoration Act (CRRA) added definitions of "program or activity" and "program" to title VI and added a definition of "program or activity" to section 504. The added definitions were designed to clarify the broad scope of coverage of recipients' programs or activities under these statutes. The proposed amendments explicitly incorporate the CRRA's definition of "program or activity" and "program" into the Department's title VI and section 504 coordination regulations. The Department's proposed regulation will be published as part of a joint Notice of Proposed Rulemaking which will include similar amendments to the regulations of the Department of Defense and the Department of Housing and Urban Development implementing title VI, section 504, and/or the Age Discrimination Act.

Abstract: Pursuant to the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994, 42 U.S.C. section 14141 ("section 14141"), the Attorney General is authorized to file lawsuits seeking court orders to reform police departments engaging in a pattern or practice of conduct that deprives persons of rights, privileges, or immunities secured by the Constitution or laws of the United States. To date, the Department of Justice has conducted reviews of police departments pursuant to section 14141 using informal procedures. The purpose of this rule is to formalize the procedures by which the Department reviews police departments for a pattern or practice of unlawful conduct.

Abstract: The Department of Justice proposes to make amendments to its regulations implementing title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (title VI), section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1972 (section 504), and the Age Discrimination Act of 1975 (Age Discrimination Act). Together, these statutes prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, disability, and age in programs or activities that receive Federal financial assistance. In 1988, the Civil Rights Restoration Act (CRRA) added definitions of "program or activity" and "program" to title VI and added a definition of "program or activity" to section 504 and the Age Discrimination Act. The added definitions were designed to clarify the broad scope of coverage of recipients' programs or activities under these statutes. The promulgation of this proposed regulation explicitly incorporates the CRRA's definition of "program or activity" and "program" into the Department's title VI, section 504, and Age Discrimination Act regulations. The Department's proposed regulation will be published as part of a joint Notice of Proposed Rulemaking involving up to 24 Federal agencies.

Abstract: DEA is considering whether to propose a revision and reorganization of Title 21, Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter II. These regulations relate to the manufacture, distribution, dispensing, importation, and exportation of controlled substances and the manufacture, distribution, importation, and exportation of listed chemicals. DEA is considering this action to further clarify and reorganize the current regulations. In addition, if DEA decides to redraft the regulations it would do so in plain language to make them easier to understand. The decision on whether and how to revise and reorganize the regulations and the extent of any changes will be based on the information and comments submitted in response to this Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking.

Abstract: DEA is proposing to amend its regulations to provide that a Federal department or agency may not sell from the stocks of the department or agency any chemical which could be used in the manufacture of a controlled substance unless the Administrator of DEA certifies in writing to the head of the department or agency that there is no reasonable cause to believe that the sale of the chemical would result in the illegal manufacture of a controlled substance. The proposed rulemaking provides regulatory guidelines and establishes a procedure for prospective bidder and/or broker to appeal if they are aggrieved by DEA's failure to provide such certification.

Abstract: Public Law 106-172, signed into law on February 18, 2000, and known as the "Hillory J. Farias and Samantha Reid Date-Rape Drug Prohibition Act of 1999" amends section 102(34) of the Controlled Substance Act as amended (CSA) by designating gamma-butyrolactone (GBL), the precursor to gamma-hydroxybutyric acid (GHB), as a List I chemical. Reflecting this change in stature, the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) is amending its regulation to reflect the status of GBL as a List I chemical subject to the requirements of the CSA and its regulations. Establishments of a threshold for GBL will be the subject of a separate rulemaking. Therefore, unless and until a threshold is established, any distribution of GBL is a regulated transaction as described by 21 CFR 1300.02(b)(28). All handlers of GBL must comply with the CSA regulatory requirements pertaining to List I chemicals as described in the body of this document.

Legal Authority: 21 USC 802; 21 USC 811; 21 USC 812; 21 USC 871(b)

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 1308

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: DEA is planning to publish three rules simultaneously in the Federal Register regarding the status of products manufactured from the cannabis plant. It is anticipated that the three rules will be as follows.

The first rule will be an interpretive rule, which will provide DEA's interpretation of existing law with respect to the listing of tetrahydrocannabinols (THC) in Schedule I of the Controlled Substances Act (CSA) and DEA regulations. (Please see "Additional Information" for further details.)

The second rule will be a proposed rule, which will propose to revise the wording of the DEA regulations to more clearly reflect DEA's interpretation of the law as set forth in the interpretive rule. The proposed rule would make clear that the listing of THC in Schedule I includes both natural and synthetic THC and that any substance containing any amount of THC is a Schedule I controlled substance—even if such substance is made from "hemp."

The third rule will be an interim rule, which will exempt from application of the CSA and DEA regulations certain industrial "hemp" products. DEA would be issuing this rule to allow the continuation of what have historically been considered legitimate industrial uses of "hemp." Under this rule, industrial "hemp" products such as paper, rope, and clothing may continue to be marketed in the United States without being subject to the CSA. At the same time, in order to protect the public health and safety, the interim rule will not allow "hemp" products that result in THC entering the human body. In this manner, it will remain clear that the only lawful way THC may enter the human body is when a person is using a federally approved drug or when the person is the subject of federally approved research.

Additional Information: While agencies are not required to include information regarding interpretive rules in the Unified Agenda, DEA is providing a description of this interpretive rule for informational purposes. The interpretive rule will provide DEA's interpretation of existing law with respect to the listing of tetrahydrocannabinols (THC) in Schedule I of the Controlled Substances Act (CSA) and DEA regulations. The rule will further provide DEA's interpretation of the current legal status of products containing THC. In recent months, DEA has received numerous inquiries from members of the public about the legal status of products made from "hemp" (portions of the cannabis plant excluded from the CSA definition of marijuana). As stated in this rule, DEA interprets the CSA such that any substance containing any amount of THC is a Schedule I controlled substance—even if such substance is made from "hemp."

Abstract: DEA is proposing to amend its regulations to restrict to 50 dosage units the total quantity of Schedule II, III, IV, and V controlled substances that may be imported for personal medical use by United States (U.S.) residents entering the U.S. A dosage unit is considered by DEA to be the basic unit used to quantify the amount to be taken in normal usage. The proposed 50 dosage unit limit would not apply to a U.S. resident who has a valid U.S. practitioner's prescription. This proposed rulemaking implements and extends the provisions of the Controlled Substances Trafficking Prohibition Act of 1998.

refill pharmacies, fulfillment centers, or call centers. Unlike retail pharmacies which dispense controlled substances directly to the patient, central fill pharmacies provide a service to retail pharmacies by preparing and packaging prescriptions for retail pharmacies to dispense to the patient. Prescription information is transmitted from a retail pharmacy to a central fill pharmacy where the prescription is filled or refilled. The filled prescription is delivered to the retail pharmacy for pickup by the patient. Industry has expressed interest in utilizing central fill pharmacy operations to allow for more efficient delivery of prescriptions to patients.

Abstract: DEA is proposing to revise its regulations to provide the option of ordering Schedule I and II controlled substances electronically in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Controlled Substances Act (CSA) (21 U.S.C. 801 et seq.). The regulations will propose that this electronic system may also be used for controlled substances in Schedules III, IV, and V. These proposed regulations would be in addition to, not a replacement of, the existing rules. These regulations are needed to give manufacturers, distributors, importers, exporters, pharmacies, and hospitals the option to use modern technology for controlled substance transactions. The proposed regulations would reduce paperwork and transaction times for DEA registrants who distribute, purchase, or handle controlled substances. These proposed regulations are consistent with paperwork reduction mandates. These proposed regulations also respond to the requirements of Public Law 106-229 the "Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act," while maintaining a closed system of distribution of controlled substances and ensuring security and authentication.

Abstract: DEA is proposing to revise its regulations to permit DEA registered prescribers to electronically write, sign, and transmit prescriptions. These proposed regulations would be an addition to, not a replacement of, the existing rules. These regulations are needed to give pharmacies, hospitals, and practitioners the ability to use modern technology for controlled substance prescriptions, while maintaining the closed system of distribution of controlled substances dispensing. The proposed regulations would reduce paperwork and transaction times for DEA registrants who dispense or prescribe controlled substances. The proposed regulations would also reduce the number of prescription errors caused by illegible handwriting and misheard oral prescriptions. They would allow pharmacies and hospitals to integrate prescription records into other medical records more directly, increasing efficiency, and would reduce the time patients spend waiting to have prescriptions filled. These proposed regulations are consistent with paperwork reduction mandates. Abstract: DEA is proposing to require that manufacturers, distributors, importers and exporters of pseudoephedrine, ephedrine and phenylpropanolamine implement security procedures similar to those of

DOJ—DEA

Proposed Rule Stage

Schedules III-V controlled substances to prevent the theft and diversion of these List I chemicals. Pseudoephedrine and ephedrine are used in the illegal manufacture of methamphetamine and phenylpropanolamine is used in the illegal manufacture of amphetamine.

The vast majority of these clandestine laboratories were producing methamphetamine using over-the-counter regulated drug products. Some of the product found at these clandestine laboratories came from thefts at manufacturers, distributors, importers and exporters. Almost all of the reports of List I chemical thefts reported to DEA in the past few years have involved pseudoephedrine, ephedrine, or phenylopropanolmine.

Therefore, to address the problem of diversion of pseudoephedrine, ephedrine and phenylpropanolamine through theft, DEA is proposing that manufacturers, distributors, importers and exporters of these three chemicals implement security procedures similar to those now used by registrants handling Schedules III through V controlled substances. These procedures include the storage of substances in a secure safe or steel cabinet, cage, or room and installation of a monitored alarm system linked to a central location. Keeping pseudoephedrine, ephedrine, and phenylpropanolamine products in such secure areas will limit the opportunity for theft.

Abstract: In years past, most pharmaceutical manufacturers and wholesalers, as a service to their customers, accepted returns of outdated/damaged merchandise. Also, agencies such as DEA and State Boards of Pharmacy accepted surrendered drugs or witnessed their disposal by controlled substance registrants. Over the past several years, environmental concerns and regulations have eliminated many of the disposal options which had been available. As a result, drug producers and government agencies alike are increasingly reluctant to be involved in the disposal process. Due to these factors and the time and resources expended by DEA and manufacturers, DEA is proposing the establishment of this essential link in the legitimate distribution chain.

Abstract: The Domestic Chemical Diversion Control Act of 1993 removed the exemption from regulation for chemical mixtures. Chemical mixtures are now regulated, unless specifically exempted by the Administrator. In the proposed rule regarding the implementation of the Domestic Chemical Diversion Control Act of 1993, DEA proposed regulations regarding exemption of chemical mixtures. Based on industry comments, the proposed regulations were subsequently withdrawn for reassessment and consultation with industry. Based on extensive consultations with industry, DEA has published proposed regulations intended to establish the least possible burden on industry while remaining consistent with the requirements of the law. Comments received on the proposed regulations are currently being reviewed.

Abstract: DEA is proposing to amend its regulations to implement the requirements of the Comprehensive Methamphetamine Control Act of 1996 (MCA) establishing pseudoephedrine, phenylpropanolamine, and combination ephedrine drug products as List I chemicals, and the MCA requirement that reports be submitted for certain distributions to nonregulated persons involving pseudoephedrine, phenylpropanolamine, and ephedrine, including drug products containing those chemicals. The MCA establishes pseudoephedrine, phenylpropanolamine, and combination ephedrine products as regulated List I chemicals and requires that reports of certain distributions to nonregulated persons be reported each month.

To minimize the impact of the new law, DEA is proposing to exempt retail distributors from the registration requirement. This exemption will provide the estimated 750,000 retail distributors with relief from the chemical control requirements of the regulations, including registration. Additionally, the existing exemptions from registration for CSA registrants and for distributors of prescription drug products will help minimize the impact of the requirements on other handlers of the products.

Abstract: The Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) proposes to amend its application fees for registration and reregistration of manufacturers, distributors, importers, and exporters of List I chemicals, as authorized by section 3(a) of the Domestic Chemical Diversion Control Act of 1993 (DCDCA), reducing the fees from $595.00 to $326.00 for initial registration, and the reregistration fees from $477.00 to $171.00. Fees for retail registrants will increase from $255.00 to $326.00 for registration, and from $116.00 to $171.00 for reregistration. Office of Management and Budget Circular A-25 requires a periodic review of user charges for agency programs. Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Abstract: Because of their use and importance in the illicit manufacture of methamphetamine, a Schedule II controlled substance, DEA is proposing the addition of red phosphorus, white phosphorus (also known as yellow phosphorus), and hypophosphorous acid (and its salts) as List I chemicals. These phosphorus chemicals have been identified as being important chemicals for the illicit production of methamphetamine. As List I chemicals, handlers of these materials will be subject to Controlled Substances Act (CSA) chemical regulatory controls including registration, recordkeeping, reporting, and import/export requirements. DEA has determined that these controls are necessary to prevent the diversion of these chemicals to clandestine drug laboratories.

DEA has conducted an extensive review of the phosphorus industry, publishing an Advanced Notice of Proposed Rulemaking. DEA's review indicated that there are only two domestic producers of white phosphorus and three producers of red phsophorus, or hypophosphorus acid (and its salts). While producers of white phosphorus will be required to register with DEA and maintain records of each regulated transaction (i.e., all transactions of these chemicals), over 98 percent of the phosphorus produced is converted to a form not impacted by this regulation. The remaining 2 percent of the phosphorus (used domestically) is utilized in its elemental form (i.e., as red phosphorus or white phosphorus) or used to produce all other phosphorus chemicals. Therefore, this regulation will only affect the distribution of less than 2 percent of the of the industry at the end user level.

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301; 3 CFR, 1949 to 1953 Comp, p 1002; 8 USC 1103; 8 USC 1252 note; 8 USC 1252b; 8 USC 1362; 28 USC 509; 28 USC 510; 28 USC 1746; Reorg Plan No 2 of 1950, sec 2

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 1; 8 CFR 3

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule proposes to amend the regulations by implementing the statutory authority given to Immigration Judges to sanction by civil money penalty any action or inaction in contempt of the Judge's proper exercise of authority. This statutory authority is derived from section 304 of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act of 1996, Public Law 104-208 (IIRIRA), September 30, 1996. This rule sets forth the types of conduct for which civil money penalty sanctions may be imposed, the procedures for imposing these sanctions, the affirmative defenses which may excuse the imposition of a civil money penalty sanction, and the procedures for appealing such sanctions. The rule also adds an additional ground for disciplinary sanctions under 8 CFR section 3.102 for engaging in a pattern and practice of conduct which has been found to be in contempt of the Immigration Judge's proper exercise of authority.

Abstract: The rule amends the regulations of the EOIR and the INS by establishing procedures for certain lawful permanent residents (LPRs) with certain criminal convictions to apply for a waiver of inadmissibility pursuant to former section 212(c) of the INA. It is only applicable to certain LPRs whose convictions were prior to April 1, 1997. It applies to certain LPRs who have cases pending before EOIR or are under final administrative orders. This rule will broaden eligibility for INA section 212(c) relief in light of the recent Supreme Court decision in INS v. St. Cyr, 121(S.Ct. 2271(2001).

Abstract: This rule outlines the authorities and powers (and limitations thereto) delegated by the Attorney General to the Director of the Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR), the Chairman of the Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA), and the Chief Immigration Judge. These authorities include such managerial responsibilities as: Issuing operational instructions, setting policies, providing for the training of staff, and ensuring the efficient disposition of cases. One of the limitations on the powers of the Director of EOIR, the Chairman of the BIA, and the Chief Immigration Judge is that they cannot direct the result of a case adjudication assigned to someone else. Further, the Director of EOIR cannot adjudicate cases.

Additionally, this rule makes technical amendments to better describe EOIR's components: The Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA), the Office of the Chief Immigration Judge (OCIJ), and the Office of the Chief Administrative Hearing Officer (OCAHO).

1843. IMPLEMENTATION OF SECTIONS 104 AND 109 OF THE COMMUNICATIONS ASSISTANCE FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT ACT

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: PL 103-414 Communications Assistance for Law Enforcement Act; PL 104-208 Omnibus Consolidated Appropriations Act of 1997

CFR Citation: 28 CFR 100

Legal Deadline: Other, Statutory, October 25, 1998, While CALEA required telecommunications carriers to be in compliance with section 103 by October 25, 1998, the FCC has since exercised (continued in Additional Information).

Abstract: As required by section 109 of the Communications Assistance for Law Enforcement Act (CALEA), the FBI promulgated Cost Recovery Regulations allowing telecommunications carriers to recover certain costs associated with implementing CALEA. The final rule was published on March 20, 1997 (62 FR 13307), and became effective on April 21, 1997. In response to public comment received during this rulemaking, the FBI published an ANPRM on November 19, 1996 (61 FR 58799), which solicited input on the definition of the term "significant upgrade or major modification" as used by CALEA. The "significant upgrade or major modification" NPRM was published on April 28, 1998 (63 FR 23231). The FBI is currently preparing a supplemental notice of proposed rulemaking, which will define the terms "replaced" and "significantly upgraded or otherwise undergone major modification," which when codified will amend the Cost Recovery Regulations.

Additionally, CALEA section 104 requires the Attorney General to publish a Notice of Actual and Maximum Capacity in order to provide telecommunications carriers with the information they will need to meet law enforcement's future simultaneous electronic surveillance requirements. For local exchange, cellular, and broadband PCS, the FBI published an Initial Notice of Capacity on October 16, 1995 (60 FR 53643), and a Second Notice of Capacity on January 14, 1997 (62 FR 1902). The FBI published the Final Notice of Capacity for local exchange, cellular, and broadband PCS on March 12, 1998 (63 FR 12218). Additionally, the FBI published a Notice of Inquiry (NOI) in the Federal Register on December 18, 1998 (63 FR 70160), which solicited information on and suggestions for developing reasonable methodologies for characterizing capacity requirements for telecommunications services and technologies other than local exchange, cellular, and broadband PCS. Comments were due on February 16, 1999. Information gathered in response to the NOI was used in publishing the Further Notice of Inquiry (FNOI) on June 30, 2000 (65 FR 40694). Comments were due August 29, 2000. Information gathered in response to the FNOI will be used in the publication of an Initial Notice of Capacity for developing reasonable capacity methodologies for the paging, mobile satellite, specialized mobile radio, and enhanced specialized mobile radio services.

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 49 USC 33109 to 33111

CFR Citation: 28 CFR 89

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Attorney General is required to establish a National Stolen Passenger Motor Vehicle Information System (NSPMVIS) pursuant to the Anti Car Theft Act of 1992 (49 U.S.C. 33109 to 33111). The FBI is coordinating efforts in this matter and, under delegated authority from the Attorney General, the FBI is issuing this rule to establish a national system to verify the theft status of major motor vehicle component parts and junk or salvage vehicles. The system will include certain information about each passenger motor vehicle reported to a law enforcement agency as stolen and not recovered. The rule provides how an individual or entity may obtain information from the system on whether a vehicle or part is listed as stolen. The rule also provides verification procedures to be followed by insurance carriers and certain motor vehicle part businesses. In order to verify the theft status of a part or junk or salvage vehicle, an identification number will have to be obtained from the part or vehicle.

Legal Deadline: Other, Judicial, October 22, 2001, Written comments regarding proposed rule must be submitted on or before.

Abstract: The Department promulgated regulations to govern the National Instant Criminal Background Check System (NICS) in 1998 when the NICS became operational. On January 22, 2001, the Department published amendments to the original regulations, which became effective on July 3, 2001.

In this proposed rule, DOJ is publishing, for public comment and further consideration, five proposals to make additional changes in the NICS regulations. The proposed changes balance the legitimate privacy interests of law-abiding firearms purchasers and the Department's obligation to enforce the Brady Act and the Gun Control Act to prevent prohibited persons from purchasing firearms.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Unfunded Mandates: Undetermined

Legal Authority: PL 104-236, sec 9

CFR Citation: Not Yet Determined

Legal Deadline: Other, Statutory, October 3, 1999, The Act does not distinguish between NPRM and final regulations.

Abstract: The FBI is issuing regulations to carry out the Pam Lychner Sexual Offender Tracking and Identification Act of 1996. These regulations include guidelines as to the operation and use of the national sex offender registry established by the FBI and the notice to be provided to the FBI in the event a registered sex offender moves interstate. On February 16, 1999, at 64 FR 7562, the FBI published a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) on this subject. Comments submitted on the NPRM are currently being reviewed. It is anticipated that this regulation will be finalized by December, 2001.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: Not Yet Determined

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 214

Abstract: The INS is soliciting comments from the public on the issue of aliens admitted to the U.S. as B nonimmigrant visitors whose intent is to engage in construction work during the alien's stay. In particular the Service is exploring the feasibility of defining the term construction as it relates to B nonimmigrant visitors. A standard definition of construction may assist both the public and the Service in determining if an alien admitted as a B nonimmigrant visitor may engage in construction during his or her period of authorized stay.

Abstract: This regulation covers the grounds of inadmissibility applicable to those aliens seeking admission to the United States temporarily or permanently. It implements several pieces of legislation. The most significant is the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act of 1996 (IIRIRA), signed on September 30, 1996, which substantially revised most grounds of inadmissibility under section 212 of the Act and the waivers available to both immigrants and nonimmigrants. The Immigration and Naturalization Service will publish a proposed regulation to more effectively implement all grounds of inadmissibility and new/revised waiver provisions. The original plan was to publish one large regulation. For logistical and practical reasons, and for ease of reading, the INS will publish one larger, all-encompassing regulation, consisting of 13 subparts, entitled "Revised Grounds of Inadmissibility, Waivers for Immigrants and Nonimmigrants, and Exceptions" RIN 1115-AB45, INS No. 1413-97. The remaining regulations will focus on specific issues and include the following proposed rules: "Medical Examination Requirements and Designation of Civil Surgeons" RIN 1115-AG37, INS No. 2165-01; "Consent to Reapply for Admission After Removal" RIN 1115-AG28, INS No. 2147-01; "Waivers of the 2-Year Foreign Residence Requirement for Certain Exchange Visitors" RIN 1115-AG35, INS No. 2158-01; "Illegal Entries, Unlawful Presence, and Automatic Voidance of Nonimmigrant Visas" RIN 1115-AG36, INS No. 2166-01 and "Medical Grounds of Inadmissibility and Waivers" RIN 1115-AG38, INS No.2167-01.

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: These rules provide for the collection of a fee at the time of application for participation in a Dedicated Commuter Lane (DCL), instead of at the time of approval of the application. The DCL program is a pilot project established at selected land border ports of entry to expedite the transborder movement of eligible, pre-screened, low-risk groups through designated traffic lanes. The first rule clarifies the requirements for the use of the DCL (INS No. 1675). A second rule will set forth the fee required of participants in order to cover the technological costs (INS No. 1794).

INS No. 2058-00 will propose to remove restrictions currently in place that limit the locations where the INS can establish commuter lanes. In addition, the proposed rule will incorporate other projects designed to enhance border security and effective traffic management at port of entry. Finally, the rule may adjust the fee structure in order to administer these projects.

Abstract: Two regulatory initiatives dealing with the processing of alien witnesses have been prepared by the INS. INS No. 1683-94 provides the application and approval process for the admission of aliens in S nonimmigrant classification. It provides guidance to the various law enforcement agencies needing alien witnesses and informants to complete critical law enforcement initiatives in the United States. INS No. 1728-95 establishes a fee for the processing of Form I-854, Inter-Agency Alien Witness and Informant Record, for Law Enforcement Agency (LEA) requests for S nonimmigrant classification for eligible alien witnesses and informants. The fee recovers the costs of the processing of requests for immigration benefits and is needed to comply with specific Federal immigration laws and Federal user fee statute and regulations.

Abstract: Section 401(a) of the Personal Responsibility and Work Reconciliation Act of 1996 (PRWORA) provides that, with limited exceptions, only qualified aliens, as defined under section 431, may receive certain Federal public benefits. Section 401(b)(2) provides an exception which allows aliens who are "lawfully present in the United States" as determined by the Attorney General to receive social security benefits under title II of the Social Security Act. PRWORA, and other laws, use the term "lawfully present" in other benefit-related contexts as well.

(Service) regulations to define the term "an alien who is lawfully present in the United States" so that the Social Security Administration may determine which aliens are eligible for benefits under title II of the Social Security Act. It is necessary to define "lawfully present" for broader purposes than just the title II benefits. Therefore, rather than issue a final rule pertaining to title VI only, the Service intends to publish a proposed rule covering all other applications of the term as well. Legal Deadline: Other, Statutory, January 19, 2001, Abraham v. Reno (D.D.C.).

Abstract: On September 30, 1996, the President signed the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act of 1996. Section 343 prohibits the entry of any alien who seeks to enter the U.S. for the purpose of performing labor as a health care worker (other than a physician) without a certificate as to the alien's qualifications and English ability from the Commission on Graduates of Foreign Nursing Schools (CGFNS) or an equivalent independent organization approved by the Attorney General.

The Service published an interim rule (INS 1879-97) to address shortages in the occupations of nursing and occupational therapy on October 14, 1998. In addition, the Service issued a second interim rule on April 30, 1999, to grant CGFNS authorization to issue certificates to foreign health care workers in the occupations of occupational therapy and physical therapy. This rule also granted the Foreign Credentialing Commission on Physical Therapy the authority to issue certificates to foreign-trained physical therapists. The second interim rule (INS 1979-99) was published under RIN 1115-AF43 and now is consolidated with this Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations entry. A third interim rule (INS 2082-00) was published on January 16, 2001, to address certification requirements for Speech Language Pathologists, Audiologists, Medical Technologists, and Physician Assistants. Litigation over the implementation of this rule has led to a decision to publish interim rules granting temporary authority to issue certificates.

The Service will be publishing a proposed rule (INS 1824) to fully implement section 343, including requirements relating to the designation of covered health care occupations, the procedures and requirements for certifying organizations, the content of the certificates, and the process for presentation of the certificates.

INS No. 2089-00 adds five additional occupation categories for foreign health care workers.

1863. REGULATIONS PERTAINING TO BATTERED ALIENS AND TO MAIL ORDER BRIDE BUSINESSES, AS MANDATED BY IIRIRA

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1641(c); PL 104-208

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 204

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act of 1996 (IIRIRA) included a number of provisions relating to battered aliens and to mail order bride businesses. The INS anticipates rulemaking in the following areas:

INS document No. 1845-97 is necessitated by section 501 of IIRIRA, which provides certain types of public benefits for those aliens who have made a prima facie case for eligibility pursuant to the INS interim rule on self-petitions by battered aliens, published at 61 FR 13061 (March 26, 1995; INS No. 1705-95). This new rule will define what constitutes a prima facie case.

INS document No. 1838-97, an advance notice of proposed rulemaking, is to solicit public input into the regulation of certain functions of the international matchmaking industry (also referred to as "mail order bride businesses"), as required by section 652 of IIRIRA, was published on 7/16/97 (62 FR 38041).

1864. EN ROUTE INSPECTIONS AND REIMBURSEMENT FOR IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE COSTS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1356(i)

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 235

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule amends the Immigration and Naturalization Service (Service) regulations to define an en route inspection. The rule will also notify all affected parties that the Service will begin to bill cruise ship, train, and bus lines or other modes of transportation, or their designated shipping agents or representatives, for all expenditures of Government funds which the Service obligates in connection with the performance of en route inspections on board transportation carriers. This action is necessary in order for the Service to more accurately account for the costs associated with providing special immigration inspection services on an en route basis and to ensure their full recoupment.

1865. SPECIAL IMMIGRANT JUVENILE PETITIONS

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1103; 8 CFR 2

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 204

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Service proposes to amend its regulations to add eligibility and consent requirements for approvals of special immigrant juvenile petitions (Form I-360). The proposed rule would require petitioners for special immigrant juvenile classification to demonstrate that a dependency order relating to the juvenile beneficiary (juvenile) was granted on account of abuse, neglect, or abandonment and establish that a court has determined that the juvenile should not be returned to the home country. The proposed rule would also provide that a dependency order may not serve as a precondition to the approval of the petition unless the Attorney General gives his express consent. These changes are necessary to conform the regulations to the statutory eligibility changes made by the Departments of Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act of 1998 (the Appropriations Act of 1998).

Abstract: On June 8, 1995, at 60 FR 29751, INS published a final rule that provided that all persons, other than ministers, immigrating to the U.S. as religious workers must immigrate or adjust status to permanent residence before October 1, 1997. By statute this special immigrant category for religious workers expired on October 1, 2000. Congress has extended the category again for an additional 3 years, until October 1, 2003. This regulation will implement the extension of this category and impose additional qualifying employment experience requirements for those persons affected by this provision of immigration regulations.

Abstract: This rule proposes to amend INS regulations to specify how an alien admitted for permanent residence, on returning to the United States, may prove that he or she is not to be considered an applicant for admission. This rule is necessary to implement section 101(a)(13)(C) of the Act and to clarify the responsibility for carriers who transport to the United States aliens who claim to be to be returning residents. This rule will ensure that aliens who present themselves as lawful permanent residents are properly documented as such.

Abstract: This revised regulation is necessary to amend the Immigration and Naturalization Service regulations by providing procedures implementing the new provisions of the Electronic Freedom of Information Act (EFOIA) Amendments of 1996. New provisions implementing EFOIA require that we maintain, and provide to the public, a record in either paper or electronic format and maintain an electronic reading room. It further updates the timing of responses to requests by extending the response time from 10 to 20 working days. This regulation reflects current Service procedures for the public to request and obtain access to Service records through the Freedom of Information Act and Privacy Act. It is being updated to include the handling of requests referred from another agency to ensure that requesters are not penalized by waiting in another agency's backlog and reflects the Department of Justice's updated cost for calculating and changing fees.

Abstract: The American Competitiveness and Workforce Improvement Act (ACWIA), enacted as part of the Omnibus Consolidated and Emergency Supplemental Appropriations Act of 1999, made various changes to the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) relating to nonimmigrant temporary workers. By this rule (RIN 1115-AF40, INS No. 1974-99), INS will amend certain parts of regulation to implement the ACWIA "whistleblower" provision, codified at INA 212 (n)(C)(iv) and (v), that prohibit retaliation against H-1B workers who disclose information that their U.S. employer has violated the law or regulations pertaining to labor condition applications filed with the DOL. This rule will describe the process established by the INS and DOL jointly to enable an H-1B nonimmigrant who files a complaint alleging intimidation, coercion, threats, blacklisting, or other discrimination to remain temporarily in the United States and seek employment authorization. The DOL will amend its regulations, as Abstract: The American Competitiveness and Workforce Improvement Act (ACWIA) Public Law 105-277—enacted as part of the Omnibus Consolidated and Emergency Supplemental Appropriations Act of 1999—made various changes to the Immigration and Nationality Act (the INA) relating to nonimmigrant skilled workers. This rule (RIN 1115-AF41; INS No. 2021-99) implements those portions of ACWIA pertaining to new penalties for employers misrepresenting material facts in an H-1B application. Additional Information: By a related rule (RIN 1115-AF40; INS 1974-99), INS will implement the ACWIA "whistleblower protection" provisions—codified in the INA at section 212(n)(2)(C)(iv) and (v)—prohibiting retaliation against H-1B workers who disclose information that their employer has violated the law or regulations pertaining to labor condition applications for nonimmigrants. That rule will also enable an H-1B worker who files a complaint alleging retaliation to remain in the United States and seek authorization to work in the United States for a temporary period while his or her complaint is under review.

In 1190-AA48, the Civil Rights Division, in cooperation with DOL, will implement in the Justice Department's regulations the ACWIA "failure to select" protections—codified in the INA at section 212(n)(5)—by establishing a process under which United States workers may file complaints against employers for denying them employment opportunities by improperly hiring temporary foreign professionals on H-1B visas. Under that process, the Attorney General is to receive and review these complaints and then—where there is reasonable cause to believe a complainant's allegations—initiate binding arbitration proceedings through the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service (FMCS).

Abstract: This rule amends the Immigration and Naturalization Service regulations by establishing procedures for certain North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) civilian employees and their family members to receive special immigrant status in the U.S. and become lawful permanent residents of this country. This rule also offers nonimmigrant status to any parent or child of a NATO civilian employee who has been granted special immigrant status. This rule is intended to ensure the qualifying NATO employees and their family members are aware of their opportunity to acquire special immigrant status and adjustment of status or otherwise obtain corresponding nonimmigrant status.

Abstract: This rule proposes to adjust the fees charged by the INS for three documents processed at land border ports-of entry (POEs): (1) Form I-94, (2) Form I-94W, and (3) Form I-68. The I-94 and I-94(W) Arrival/Departure Record grants nonimmigrant visitors entering the U.S. the privilege to stay longer than 72 hours and to travel more than 25 miles from the border point of entry. The I-68, Canadian Border Boat Landing Permit, grants the privilege of making entries on the U.S. side of a body of water without reporting to a U.S. port of entry when traveling by small pleasure craft. Visits shall not exceed 72 hours nor shall travel exceed 25 miles from the border. The fee adjustment is necessary to ensure that full costs are recovered and that sufficient funds are available to service present and future applicants. The fees collected from persons filing those documents are deposited into the Immigration Examinations Fee Account (IFEA).

Abstract: This rule proposes to adjust the fee schedule of the Immigration Examinations Fee Account (IEFA) for certain immigration adjudication and naturalization applications and petitions. Fees collected from persons filing these applications and petitions are deposited into the IEFA and used to fund the cost of processing immigration adjudication and naturalization applications, and petitions and associated support services; the cost of providing similar services to asylum and refugee applicants; and the cost of similar services provided to other immigrants at no charge. This rule also proposes to adjust the Immigration and Naturalization Service's (Service) fee schedule of the Immigration Examinations Fee Account (IEFA) by adjusting the fee for the fingerprinting of applicants who apply for certain immigration and naturalization benefits from $25 to $50. The fees collected from persons fingerprinted in connection with an application or petition for certain immigration and naturalization benefits are deposited into the IEFA.

Federal agencies are required to review their fees bi-annually. This rule is necessary to ensure that the fees funding the IEFA generate sufficient revenue to recover the full cost of processing immigration and naturalization applications, petitions, the cost of asylum refugee, and other support costs.

Abstract: Under the Freedom of Information Act and Privacy Act the Immigration and Naturalization Service (Service) processes all requests for Service records including historical and genealogical records. This rule proposes to amend the Service's regulations by establishing the Historical Records Services (HRS) Program to process requests for the Service's historical records. The Service will charge a fee to recover the cost of searching, locating, retrieving, copying, reviewing, and mailing these records to the requester. The HRS program is necessary to provide a more timely response to requests for genealogical and historical records.

Abstract: The Immigration and Naturalization Service (Service) proposes to amend its regulations regarding the immigration of children of foreign states adopted by United States citizens. The proposed rule would establish a new definition of child to include children adopted from countries which have implemented the Hague Convention on Protection of Children and Co-operation in Respect of Intercountry Adoption (Convention). The proposed rule would also change evidentiary requirements for the immigration of adopted children to state that a certificate of adoption or custody issued by the Secretary of State of the United States is conclusive evidence of the relationship between an adoptive parent and the adoptive child. These changes are necessary to conform the regulations to the Intercountry Adoption Act of 2000(IAA). (Public Law 106-279)

The proposed rule would also remove section 204.3(e)(10) from the regulations. Section 204.3(e)(10) provides that a home study properly completed in conformance with the regulation in force prior to September 30, 1994, will be considered acceptable if submitted to the Service within 90 days of September 30, 1994. Since 90 days have passed since September 30, 1994, this provision is no longer applicable.

Abstract: The Immigration and Naturalization Service is proposing to amend its regulations relating to the acceptance of academic honoraria by nonimmigrant aliens admitted to the United States as a B visa visitor status. This is necessary to implement changes to section 212 of the Immigration and Nationality Act made by the American Competitiveness and Workforce Improvement Act of 1998. The amendment outlines the proposed procedures necessary for a nonimmigrant alien visiting the United States in valid B visa status to accept honoraria in connection with usual academic activities.

1883. TIME LIMIT FOR APPEAL FROM DENIAL OF RELATIVE VISA PETITION

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1103; 8 CFR 2

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 204

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: In this rule, the Immigration and Naturalization Service proposes to amend the regulations to provide a 15-day time-limit for an appeal to the Board of Immigration Appeals from the denial of a relative visa petition. Previously, the regulation specified a 15-day limit for such appeal. However, in 1992, that time-limit was inadvertently omitted from an amendment to the regulation, although the form for filing such an Appeal, Form EOIR-29, Notice of Appeal to the Board of Immigration Appeals for Decision of the Director still states that there is a 15-day limit. Nevertheless, the Board of Immigration Appeals has allowed appeals filed at any time after the denial on the ground that the regulations do not specify a time-limit. A time-limit is needed so that appeals may not be filed years after a denial and so that decisions will become final within a reasonable time period.

Abstract: This rule proposes to amend the INS regulations concerning the adjudication of requests for fee waivers filed by applicants for Service benefits pursuant to 8 CFR 103.7(c). This applies to a waiver of fees by an immigration judge for benefit applications, petitions, appeals, motions, or requests in any case when an alien substantiates that they cannot pay the fee. When implemented, this rule will facilitate the adjudication of these requests. This rule also proposes to amend 8 CFR 244.20, which is a waiver of fees for Temporary Protected Status (TPS) applicants, for the same reasons as stated in 8 CFR 103.7(c). who entered before January 1, 1982, to that of person admitted for lawful residence. This rule establishes procedures for a 1-year application period to allow CSS, LULAC, and Zambrano class applicants to apply for adjustment of status to that of lawful permanent residence.

INS No. 2145-01 amends the Service's regulations by establishing procedures to apply for Family Unity benefits for certain spouses and unmarried children of aliens who adjusted to lawful permanent resident (LPR) status pursuant to section 1104 of the Legal Immigration Family Equity (LIFE) Act — known as the LIFE Legalization provision. It applies to those persons who are no longer present in the United States to allow them to apply for Family Unity benefits pursuant to section 1504 of the LIFE Act Amendments. This rule also establishes procedures for certain spouses and unmarried children who previously were granted Family Unity benefits pursuant to section 1504 of the LIFE Act Amendments to apply for an extension of their Family Unity benefits. This rule is necessary to ensure that those aliens eligible to apply for, and extend, Family Unity benefits under the provisions of the LIFE Act Amendments are able to do so in a timely manner.

Abstract: This proposed rule defines the categories of aliens who are not eligible to be issued a visa or be admitted if: they are in the U.S. illegally because they entered without proper inspection at a port-of-entry (section 212(a)(6)(A) of the Act); they accumulated certain periods of unlawful presence because they entered the U.S. illegally or stayed in the U.S. longer than authorized (section 212(a)(9)(B) of the Act); or they entered the U.S. illegally (or attempted an illegal entry) after they accumulated unlawful presence or after they were removed (section 212(a)(9)(C) of the Act). This proposed rule also describes how a nonimmigrant visa becomes automatically void, as provided under section 222(g) of the Act. This proposed rule also explains when the provisions for unlawful presence (sections 212(a)(9)(B) and (C) of the Act) do not apply, and the legal and documentary requirements for a waiver. Promulgation of this rule ensures that the admission to the U.S. of any ineligible alien would not adversely affect the national welfare, safety, or security of the U.S.

Abstract: This rule sets forth application requirements for a new nonimmigrant visa status. The "U" classification is for non-United States Citizen/Lawful Permanent Resident victims of certain crimes who cooperate with an investigation or prosecution of those crimes. There is a limit of 10,000 principals per year.

This rule establishes the procedures to be followed in order to petition for the U nonimmigrant visa classifications. Specifically, the rule addresses: the essential elements that must be demonstrated to receive the visa classification; procedures that must be followed to make an application; and evidentiary guidance to assist in the petitioning process. Eligible victims will be allowed to remain in the United States.

1903. REDUCTION OF THE NUMBER OF ACCEPTABLE DOCUMENTS AND OTHER CHANGES TO EMPLOYMENT VERIFICATION REQUIREMENTS (SECTION 610 REVIEW)

Priority: Other Significant. Major under 5 USC 801.

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1324a; PL 104-208

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 274a

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, March 31, 1998, An interim rule, published September 30, 1997, makes the minimal changes required by statute. The provisions will remain in effect until completion of this rulemaking.

Abstract: On September 30, 1996, the President signed the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act of 1996 (IIRIRA). Section 412(a) of IIRIRA requires a reduction in the number of documents that may be accepted in the employment verification process. Section 412(d) clarifies the applicability of section 274A to the Federal Government. Section 610 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act requires agencies to review rules that have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities every 10 years. The Service is conducting this review in conjunction with IIRIRA implementation. The proposed rulemaking published 2/12/98 implements sections 212(a) and (d) of IIRIRA and proposes other changes to the employment verification process identified through that review. A revised Form I-9 was included with the proposed rulemaking.

The comment period closed on 4/3/98. The Service is analyzing the comments and taking into consideration issues raised by the Alien Registration (MD) (I-551) program. It should be noted that this action supersedes the previously published regulatory plan titled "Reduction in the Number of Documents Accepted for Employment Verification." In order to avoid confusion, this regulatory action is being referenced under the current RIN, which captures all prior actions related to employment verification.

INS No. 1947-98, Interim Rule published 2/9/99 (64 FR 6187). The "Receipt Rule" permits employees to present their employer certain types of "receipts" in lieu of a document listed on the Form I-9. Additional Information: The deadline for implementing section 412(a) of IIRIRA was extended to March 31, 1998, by Public Law 105-54. This rulemaking has been delayed by the need to coordinate implementation with other provisions of IIRIRA, by several complex policy and regulatory issues that have taken time to resolve, and by the review required by section 610 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

Abstract: This rule proposes to amend the Immigration and Naturalization Service (the Service) regulations by establishing a procedure whereby bona fide alien crewmen actively serving on board a maritime ferry or a maritime commercial cruise ship may, at the discretion of the Service, be inspected one time during every 90-day period during which the cruise ship conducts operations between Ports-of-Entry (POEs) in the United States and a foreign country. This rule is necessary in order for the Service to formally codify the long-standing practice of authorizing certain maritime crewmen landing privileges in the United States without further inspection during the intervening time between 90-day full-crew inspections.

Abstract: This rule proposes to amend Service regulations by removing the list of those countries that are ineligible to participate in the TWOV program from the regulation. In its place the Service proposes to publish and update the list of countries that are ineligible to participate in the TWOV program by Federal Register notice. This rule also sets forth a non-exhaustive list of factors that may be considered in determining those countries whose citizens or nationals are ineligible countries and provides for a regular review of all countries to determine their eligibility for participation in the TWOV program. The TWOV program allows the Service, acting jointly with the Department of State, to waive the passport and visa requirement for aliens from certain countries who request immediate and continuous transit privileges through the United States.

Abstract: This final rule requires Federal prosecutors, law enforcement agencies, and other officials to obtain written consent from the Immigration and Naturalization Service when entering into a plea agreement, cooperation agreement, or similar agreement promising an alien favorable treatment by the Service. This rule ensures that favorable treatment under the immigration laws is extended only after a full consideration of its affect on overall immigration enforcement, alleviates confusion over the authority to enforce the immigration laws, and prevents the Service from being bound by agreements undertaken without its knowledge and approval. CFR Citation: 8 CFR 241

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The final rule will amend the INS regulations relating to the apprehension and removal of aliens under section 241 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (Act). This regulatory action establishes an administrative process whereby criminal aliens in State custody convicted of nonviolent offenses may be removed prior to completion of their sentence of imprisonment. The rule will implement the authority contemplated by Congress to enhance the ability of the United States to remove criminal aliens.

1916. AMENDMENT OF THE REGULATORY DEFINITION OF ARRIVING ALIEN

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1101; 8 CFR 2

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 1

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule amends the INS regulations by changing the regulatory definition of an arriving alien. Under section 235(b)(1)(A)(i) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (Act), which was effective on April 1, 1997, certain arriving aliens are subject to expedited removal procedures. The existing regulatory definition of arriving aliens includes parolees. As a matter of policy, the Department has decided that it is appropriate to exempt from the new expedited removal procedures aliens who were paroled into the United States before April 1997. This rule clarifies that these aliens as well as certain other aliens who were paroled into the United States pursuent to advance parole, will not be subjected to expedited removal upon termination at parole. The rule also makes several changes in the ordering of 1.1(q) to use language that is clearer and more consistent with the wording of the statute.

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 214; 8 CFR 245

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: Over the last several years, the Service has issued numerous policy statements regarding its position on employment authorization, advance parole, and extension of nonimmigrant status for certain skilled nonimmigrant workers who have filed for adjustment to permanent resident status. This rulemaking intends to: (1) Codify existing Service policy statements by incorporating them into the Service's regulations and (2) eliminate the requirement for service permission for overseas travel for adjustment applicants who are maintaining H-1 or L nonimmigrant status.

1918. VERIFICATION OF ELIGIBILITY FOR PUBLIC BENEFITS

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1103; 8 USC 1642

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 104

Legal Deadline: NPRM, Statutory, November 3, 1997.
Final, Statutory, February 22, 1998, Statutory deadline to promulgate regulations for State and local public benefits was previously 11/03/98. Deadline for regulations for Federal public benefits was 02/22/98.

Abstract: This regulatory action requires entities (other than nonprofit charitable organizations) providing Federal public benefits (with certain exceptions) to verify by examining documents and using an INS automated verification system that alien applicants are eligible for the benefits under Federal benefit reform legislation. This rule also sets forth provisions by which State or local governments can verify whether aliens applying for State or local public benefits are eligible for such benefits under Federal laws. In addition, the rule establishes procedures for verifying the U.S. nationality of individuals applying for benefits in a fair and nondiscriminatory manner.

The Interim Verification Guidelines were published as a notice on 11/17/97 at 62 FR 61344. The guidelines set forth procedures that benefit-granting agencies can use to verify U.S. citizens, non-citizen nationals, and qualified aliens for eligibility under title IV of the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act (PRWORA) prior to issuance of final regulations.

The proposed rule for the Verification of Eligibility for Public Benefits was published on 8/04/98 at 63 FR 41662. The changes made in response to the comments received on the proposed rule were significant enough and dealt with complex and important issues that another opportunity to comment is warranted. The next version of the rule will be issued as an interim rule, rather than a final rule, in order to implement the statutory directive to promulgate verification regulations and start the subsequent 2-year period in which Federal public benefit granting agencies must come into compliance. The interim rule is in the concurrence process and has not yet been published.

Legal Deadline: Final, Judicial, July 31, 1998.
The court-approved settlement agreement in Flores v. Reno (C.D. Cal.) required INS to publish regulations in July 1998. However, the changes brought by AEDPA and IIRIRA delayed issuance of regs.

Abstract: The rule amends the Immigration and Naturalization Service regulations by establishing the procedures for processing alien juveniles from custody and the detention of unreleased juveniles in State-licensed programs and detention facilities. This rule also governs the transportation and transfer of juveniles in Service custody.

Abstract: This rule implements section 203 of the Nicaraguan Adjustment and Central American Relief Act (NACARA), enacted as title II of Public Law No. 105-100, 111 Stat. 2160, 2193 (1997) (as amended by Technical Corrections to the Nicaraguan Adjustment and Central American Relief Act (NACARA), Public Law 105-139, Stat. 2644 (1997). Section 203 of NACARA provides that certain Guatemalans, Salvadorans, and nationals of former Soviet Bloc countries are eligible to apply for cancellation of removal under the standards for suspension of deportation that existed prior to enactment of Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act (IIRIRA). The rule establishes the authority of INS asylum officers to adjudicate certain applications under section 203 of NACARA, provides application and adjudication procedures, identifies factors and standards relevant to

Abstract: This rule amends INS regulations applying to on-campus employment, off-campus employment authorization, and duration of status for nonimmigrant F-1 students. The rule permits the Commissioner to suspend some or all of the requirements for on-campus or off-campus employment where emergent circumstances exist as provided through notice in the Federal Register. The rule also amends the regulations to provide that an F-1 student who carries less than a full course of study as a result of this special employment authorization will be deemed to be maintaining status for the duration of the authorization, as long as the student carries a minimum course load of 6 credit hours if the student is an undergraduate, or 3 credit hours if the student is in graduate school.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 5 USC 552; 8 USC 1101; 8 USC 1103; 8 USC 1201

CFR Citation: 28 CFR 65

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: In order to provide a more effective and efficient response to a mass migration event, this rule implements provisions in the Immigration and Nationality Act allowing the Attorney General to authorize any State and local law enforcement officer to perform certain functions related to the enforcement of the immigration laws during the period of an actual or imminent mass influx of aliens. This rule would place designated State/local law enforcement officers under the direction of the INS when enforcing immigration law. This rule also allows the Commissioner to enter into advance written agreements with State and local law enforcement officials setting forth the terms and conditions of the functions to be performed during a Federal response to a mass influx of aliens, including reimbursement of expenses.

Abstract: This rule amends the Immigration and Naturalization Service (Service) regulations to eliminate the use of Form I-175, Application for Nonresident Alien Canadian Border Crossing Card, and Form I-190, Application for Nonresident Alien Mexican Border Crossing Card. It also terminates the production of Form I-185, Nonresident Alien Canadian Border Crossing Card, and Form I-586, Nonresident Alien Mexican Border Crossing Card. In addition, this rule prohibits the use of Form I-186

(previous version of Mexican Border Crossing Card), Form I-185 and Form I-586 Border Crossing Cards (BCC's) after September 30, 2001, or whatever other date may be enacted for required use of a card containing a machine readable biometric identifier for entry (such as the fingerprint or handprint of the alien). Under the provisions of this rulemaking, an alien seeking entry into the United States by presentation of a BCC must complete a biometric verification upon each entry.

Abstract: This rule amends the Immigration and Naturalization Service's regulations by delegating the adjudication of certain H-2A petitions to the United States Department of Labor (DOL). The Service has made these changes in order to streamline the existing H-2A petitioning process for certain foreign agricultural workers. This rule will make it easier and less burdensome for United States employers to file petitions for foreign agricultural workers.

A related proposed rule, INS No. 2059-00, will require alien workers to sign a petition request for change of status or extension of stay. It also provides that all petition requests including extension of stay and change of status petitions must be filed with the DOL and provides that the current Service petition fee will be collected by DOL as part of a combined fee. These changes will further streamline the H-2A petitioning process.

1929. INTERIM DESIGNATION OF ACCEPTABLE RECEIPTS FOR EMPLOYMENT ELIGIBILITY VERIFICATION

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1101; 8 USC 1103; 8 USC 1324a; 8 CFR 2

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 274a

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act of 1996 (IIRIRA) made several amendments to the employment eligibility verification provisions of the INA. An interim rule implementing some of these amendments was issued on September 30, 1997. This rule included amendments to the "Receipt Rule," which permits employees to present a "Receipt" in lieu of a document listed on the Employment Eligibility Verification form (Form I-9). Circumstances that have become apparent since publication of the September 30, 1997, rule required that rule to be amended by this interim rule. This interim rule was also necessary to facilitate employer and employee compliance with the regulations. The rule revised the amount of time a receipt remains valid where the employee presents a Form I-94 marked with a temporary I-551 stamp and containing a photograph of the bearer. Where the employee presents a Form I-94 marked with a refugee admission stamp, the rule adds Form I-688B to the list of documents that the employee can present at the end of the receipt validity period.

Abstract: This rule amends the Immigration and Naturalization Service regulations to establish clear standards governing a determination that an alien is admissible or ineligible to adjust status, or has become deportable, on public charge grounds. This rule is necessary to alleviate growing public confusion over the meaning of the currently undefined term public charge in immigration law and its relationship to the receipt of Federal, State, or local public benefits. By defining public charge, the Service seeks to reduce the negative public health consequences generated by the existing confusion and to provide aliens with better guidance as to the types of public benefits that

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1101; 8 USC 1103; 8 USC 1151; 8 USC 1157; 8 USC 1158; ...

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 207

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: Section 207 of the Immigration and Nationality Act authorizes the Attorney General to admit refugees to the United States under certain conditions, including those provided for by regulation. The Immigration and Naturalization Service regulations require that sponsorship agreements be secured before an applicant is granted admission as a refugee at a U.S. port-of-entry (POE). The determination of whether or not someone is classified as a refugee is described in the Act as a separate decision from whether a refugee may be admitted to the United States in refugee status. This rule amends the Service regulations by removing language that erroneously implies that the Service requires a sponsorship agreement and guarantee of transportation prior to determining whether an applicant is a refugee. This rule is necessary to clarify issues that may appear ambiguous in the existing regulation, and provides more advantageous treatment for the limited number of applicants for refugee status who have their Service interviews before sponsorship agreements have been secured.

Abstract: This rule amends the regulations to establish a new visa classification, Q-2. Public Law 105-319, also known as the Irish Peace Process Cultural and Training Program Act of 1998, provides the basis for this regulatory change. The Q-2 visa classification identifies those visitors from Northern Ireland and certain designated counties in the Republic of Ireland to come to the United States temporarily for training employment and to experience coexistence and conflict resolution in a diverse society.

Abstract: This interim rule amends the Immigration and Naturalization Service regulations to provide that the Commissioner may publish a notice to extend the duration of status, under specified conditions, of certain F-1 and J-1 nonimmigrant aliens who may be affected adversely because the numerical limit (cap) on H-1B nonimmigrant aliens has been reached prior to the end of a given fiscal year. This rule is a necessary stop-gap measure because of large number of F-1 and J-1 nonimmigrant aliens seeking a change of nonimmigrant status to that of H-1B after completion of their studies or their program. However, many of these aliens will be unable to change their nonimmigrant status for the remainder of a given fiscal year because of the cap on H-1B petitions. This rule will allow such aliens to avoid a lapse in their status because of a circumstance that is not under their control.

Abstract: This rule amends INS regulations to establish a $95.00 fee, pursuant to section 641 of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act (IIRIRA), as amended by Public Law 106-396. In accordance with these statutes, the alien will remit the fee directly to the Attorney General at a time prior to the alien being classified as an F, J, or M nonimmigrant. The rule will outline the fee amounts, who is subject, when the fee must be paid, and the consequences that an F-1, J-1, and M-1 nonimmigrant faces upon failure to pay the fee. This rule is necessary to implement section 641 of the IIRIRA, as amended, as well as authorized under section 103 and 214 of the Immigration and Nationality Act and under 31 U.S.C. 9701.

Abstract: Enacted on November 10, 1986, the Immigration Marriage Fraud Amendments of 1986 (IMFA) made a number of changes to the Act to deter aliens from marrying solely to obtain immigration benefits. IMFA established a conditional resident status for aliens who obtained lawful permanent resident status based upon a marriage of less than 2 years duration. The interim rule published on May 16, 1991, established procedures to allow a conditional resident who married in good faith but whose marriage was terminated by the United States citizen or lawful permanent resident spouse to seek a waiver of the joint filing requirement. The interim rule also was necessary to provide a method by which a battered conditional resident, or a conditional resident parent of an abused conditional resident child, may apply for removal of the conditional Abstract: This rule amends the Immigration and Naturalization Service regulations to extend the distance Mexican nationals with border crossing cards to travel into the United States without obtaining additional Immigration documentation at selected ports-of-entry (POEs) along the United States and Mexico border. The selected POEs are located in the State of Arizona at Sasabe, Nogales, Mariposa, Douglas, and Naco. Once visitors to Arizona meet the inspection requirements of legal entry to the United States, they will be able to travel within the 75-mile border region of Arizona. This rule is intended to promote commerce in the Southern Arizona border area while still ensuring that sufficient safeguards are in place to prevent illegal entry to the United States.

Abstract: This rule amends the INS regulations relating to administrative revocation of naturalization by changing the burden of proof the INS must satisfy in order to administratively revoke a grant of naturalization and clarifying the 180-day period for the rendering of the district directors decision. This rule provides that INS will only initiate revocation proceedings based on clear, unequivocal, and convincing evidence with the burden of proof remaining with INS throughout the administrative process and through the issuance of the final decision. This rule clarifies the issues raised by the promulgation of the final rule that was published in 1996 at 61 FR 5550. Abstract: This rule amends the Immigration and Naturalization Service regulations by adding documentary requirements for a naturalized citizen of the Marshall Islands, the Federated States of Micronesia, or Palau (Compact Countries) to enter into the United States, lawfully engage in occupations, accept employment, and establish residence as a nonimmigrant in the United States and its territories and possessions. This rule also clarifies the documentary requirements for an adopted child from Compact Countries who is immigrating to the United States. Without clarification of the documentary requirements for an adopted child from the Compact Countries, the Compact Countries may not consent to the adoption of children by U.S. citizens and legal permanent residents.

Abstract: This rule amends the Immigration and Naturalization Service regulations governing applications for renewal of 10-year Permanent Resident Cards upon their expiration. This rule adds documents to the acceptable list of registration requirements and clarifies the requirements for Lawful Permanent Resident (LPRs) to file Form I-90, Application to Replace Alien Registration Card, if they are also applying for naturalization. This rule also provides additional methods to verify employment eligibility for those in the process of renewing their expired or expiring Form I-551, Permanent Resident Card. These changes are necessary to facilitate the 10-year Form I-551 renewal process. This rule also clarifies the fingerprinting requirements for lawful permanent residents who reach the age of 14 years. An interim is necessary because the I-90 program must be implemented as the 10-year I-551 begin to be filed with INS. A proposed rulemaking will not allow the INS to meet its program requirement, and it will be burdensome on the public as it will create a class of aliens who have expired Alien Registration Cards with no means to renew their I-551.

Abstract: Section 601(b) of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act of 1996 (IIRIRA) provides that, for any fiscal year, not more than a total of 1,000 refugees may be admitted or granted asylum based solely on resistance to coercive population control measures. This rule authorizes the Immigration and Naturalization Service and the Executive Office for Immigration Review to make conditional grants of asylum in those cases in which an applicant is found to merit asylum solely on the basis of resistance to coercive population control measures and establishes a mechanism for converting no more than 1,000 conditional grants per fiscal year to final asylum grants. The rule also establishes procedures for administering a waiting list in those years that the number of conditional grants exceeds the statutory limit for final grants, reserves a certain number of authorization numbers for purposes of refugee admission, and addresses procedures for administering derivative conditional grants, terminating conditional grants, and other procedures specific to this rule.

Abstract: The rule proposes to amend 8 CFR 214.6 by adding the occupations of actuary and plant pathologists to Appendix 1603.D.1. This rule proposes to modify the licensure requirements for Canadian citizens seeking admission to the U.S. as a TN nonimmigrant category alien. These amendments are being proposed to reflect the agreements made among the three parties to the North American Free Trade Agreement. Also, this rule will facilitate travel to the U.S. and benefit U.S. businesses.

Abstract: This rule proposes to implement section 309(c)(3) of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act (IIRIRA) by affording certain aliens rendered ineligible for relief from deportation by recent changes in the law the opportunity to have their deportation proceedings terminated and removal proceedings initiated in order to apply for relief. Certain permanent resident aliens rendered ineligible for section 212(c) relief by the Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act (AEDPA) and certain non-permanent resident aliens rendered ineligible for suspension of deportation by the stop time rule in IIRIRA may apply for "repapering" (as it is commonly known) under this rule. This process would not apply to aliens eligible for 212(c) relief pursuant to the procedures described in the Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR) rulemaking in response to the "Soriano" case (RIN 1125-AA29).

Abstract: This interim rule amends the Immigration and Naturalization Service regulations by providing a procedure under which aliens who, believing they are actually citizens, have filed applications for certificates of citizenship (Forms N-600) may obtain employment authorization while their applications are pending. This interim rule is necessary to establish a uniform procedure to accommodate Form N-600 applicants, without creating a strong incentive for aliens to file applications in bad faith, seeking simply to obtain employment authorization.

Abstract: The Immigration and Naturalization Service is amending its regulations governing eligibility for adjustment of status under section 245(i) of the Immigration and Nationality Act to conform the regulations to existing policy and procedures and to remove language that has been superseded by subsequent legislation. Specifically, this interim rule conforms the regulations to include the changes made by Public Law 105-119 and Public Law 106-544. It also provides for the changes contained in the Legal Immigration Family Equity Act of 2000 (LIFE ACT). As required by the Life Act, this rule changes the sunset date of section 245(i) of the Immigration and Naturalization Act to the new date of April 30, 2001, for filing of qualifying petitions or applications that enable the applicant to apply to adjust status using section 245(i) and clarifies the effect of the new sunset date on eligibility. This means that in order to preserve the ability to apply for adjustment of status under section 245(i), an alien must be the beneficiary of a visa petition for classification under section 204 of the Act or application for labor certification properly filed on or before April 30, 2001, and determined to have approval when filed. This rule also provides guidance on the standard for review of filing for immigrant visa petitions and applications for labor certification on or before April 30, 2001.

Abstract: This rule proposes to amend the Department regulations that govern establishing asylum eligibility. This rule is intended to provide guidance on certain issues that have arisen in the context of asylum adjudications. The amendments focus on portions of the regulations that deal with the definitions of persecution, membership in a particular social group, and State action. This rule codifies long standing concepts of the definition of persecution. It clarifies that gender can be a basis for membership in a particular social group. It also clarifies that a person who has suffered or fears domestic violence may be considered a member of a particular social group. The Department of Justice believes this issue required further examination after the Board of Immigration Appeals decision, Matter of R-A. This rule also clarifies that the factors considered in Ninth Circuit case law regarding membership in a particular social group are non-determinative. Finally, the rule offers further guidance on what is required to show a State's inability or unwillingness to control a persecutor.

Abstract: This rule implements title I of the Child Citizenship Act of 2000 (CCA), Pubic Law 106-395. First, it amends the Immigration and Naturalization Service (Service) regulations by adding a new part which addresses application procedures for foreign-born children residing in the United States pursuant to a lawful admission for permanent residence, who acquire citizenship automatically under section 320 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (Act), as amended. This rule established procedures for these foreign-born children, including adopted children, to obtain certificates of citizenship. Second, this rule also addresses application procedures for foreign-born children residing outside the United States, who can acquire citizenship under section 322 of the Act, as amended, by approval of an application and taking the oath of allegiance.

Abstract: The current regulations provide that an alien worker who wants to apply for permanent residence by filing the appropriate Form I-485, Application To Register Permanent Residence or Adjust Status, cannot do so until he or she obtains approval of the underlying petition, Form I-140, Immigrant Petition for Alien Worker. This procedure has resulted in aliens experiencing unnecessary delays due to the heavy backlog created by increasing numbers of cases received by the Immigration and Naturalization Service. This rule amends the Service's regulations by allowing the Forms I-140 and I-485 to be filed concurrently when a visa is immediately available, thereby improving the efficiency of the system, as well as customer service. This rule will also allow the alien worker to apply for employment authorization (Form I-765, Application for Employment Authorization) and advanced parole authorization (Form I-131, Application for Travel Document) while the Form I-485 is pending.

Abstract: This final rule implements the provisions of the Legal Immigration Family Equity Act (LIFE) and its technical amendments to both the Nicaraguan Adjustment and Central American Relief Act (NACARA), and the Haitian Refugee Immigration Fairness Act (HRIFA) of 1998. Specifically, section 1505 of the amendments to LIFE states that section 241(a)(5) of the INA does not apply to adjustment applicants under NACARA/HRIFA and that the grounds of inadmissibility under section 212(a)(9)(A) and (C) of the INA may be waived for NACARA/HRIFA adjustment applicants. Section 241(a)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (Act) provides for the reinstatement of a removal order against any alien who illegally re-enters the United States after having been removed or after having departed voluntarily under an order of removal. It also bars any alien whose removal order has been reinstated from receiving any relief under the Act, including any waivers of grounds of inadmissibility necessary for the grant of adjustment of status. Sections 212(a)(9)(A) and 212(a)(9)(C) of the Act are grounds of inadmissibility relating to aliens previously removed and aliens who are unlawfully present in the United States after previous immigration violations, respectively. Section 1505 of the amendments to LIFE also states that an alien who has become eligible for benefits under NACARA/HRIFA as a result of the enactment of LIFE may file a motion to reopen his or her removal proceedings in order to apply for adjustment or to apply for cancellation of removal or suspension of deportation.

Abstract: Section 1102 of the LIFE Act of 2000 amends the Immigration and Nationality Act to create a new nonimmigrant classification V for the spouses and children of lawful permanent residents awaiting the availability of an immigrant visa number in the appropriate preference category in accordance with the State Department's monthly Visa Bulletin. Eligible spouses and children of lawful permanent residents residing abroad that obtain the V nonimmigrant visa from the Department of State may work and reside in the United States on the basis of the V classification until they can apply for adjustment of status to that of lawful permanent resident. Certain eligible spouses and children of lawful permanent residents already present in the United States on the basis of the V classification until they can apply to adjust status to that of lawful permanent resident. This rule sets forth eligibility criteria and procedures for obtaining the V visa classification and related employment authorization.

Abstract: On October 27, 2000, the President signed into law Public Law 106-378, which provides for the adjustment of status to lawful permanent resident of certain Syrian nationals, without regard to the annual numerical limitation requirement. This interim rule discusses eligibility and sets forth application procedures for persons wishing to adjust status on the basis of Public Law 106-378. The INS has issued this action as an interim rule because Public Law 106-378 provided for a 1-year application period, which will end on October 26, 2001. Publication of the interim rule ensures that applicants were provided with as much time as possible to apply for the benefits under Public Law 106-378. Abstract: This rule amends 28 CFR and sets forth implementing guidance for section 107(c) of the Victims of Trafficking and Violence Protection Act of 2000. The Attorney General and the Secretary of State are promulgating these regulations for law enforcement, Immigration, and Department of State (DOS) officials regarding the protection of victims of severe forms of trafficking who are in custody, the access of such victims to information about their rights and translation services, and the training of appropriate Department of Justice and DOS personnel in identifying and protecting such victims. The rule also addresses the authority of Federal law enforcement officials to permit the continued presence in the United States of certain victims of severe forms of trafficking who are potential witnesses in order to aid prosecutions.

Abstract: This rule amends the custody review process governing the detention of aliens who are the subject of a final order of removal, deportation or exclusion, see 8 CFR 241.4, in light of the decision of the U.S. Supreme Court in Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S., 121 S. Ct. 2491 (2001). This rule adds new provisions governing cases for the Immigration and Naturalization Service (Service) to determine whether there is a significant likelihood that an alien will be removed form the United States in the reasonably foreseeable future, and cases where there are special circumstances justifying the continued detention of certain aliens. This rule also makes conforming changes to the existing post-removal period detention regulations, and provides procedures to implement the statutory provision for the extension of the removal period beyond 90 days if the alien conspires or acts to prevent his or her removal or fails or refuses to assist the Service in obtaining documents necessary to his or her removal.

Abstract: This rule amends the Immigration and Naturalization Service regulations by increasing the number of officers authorized to issue notices to appear, and warrants of arrest for immigration violations. Currently, the authority to issue notices to appear, and to issue arrest warrants for immigration violations is limited to a small number of Service officers. The present listing identifies the officers authorized to issue by specific position. This revision increases the number of issuing officers and identifies issuing authority by job title. The action is necessary to improve Service operations since many Service employees are posted great distances away from the officials who are currently authorized to issue notices to appear and arrest warrants.

1982. REVISION OF 28 CFR PART 15 PERTAINING TO THE DEFENSE OF CERTAIN SUITS AGAINST FEDERAL EMPLOYEES TO CONFORM TO THE FEDERAL EMPLOYEES LIABILITY REFORM AND TORT COMPENSATION ACT

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 28 USC 2679(b)

CFR Citation: 28 CFR 15

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule revises 28 CFR part 15, pertaining to the defense of certain suits against Federal employees, to conform the regulations to changes made by the Federal Employee Liability Reform and Tort Compensation Act, Public Law 100-694. Under prior law, the defense of suits against Federal employees for torts committed in the scope of their employment was limited to claims involving the operation of motor vehicles. Public Law 100-694 expanded the coverage of the immunity provisions to include all common law torts committed by Federal employees in the scope of their employment. This rule conforms the Department's regulations to the expanded coverage of the statute.

1983. DESIGNATION OF AGENCIES TO RECEIVE AND INVESTIGATE REPORTS REQUIRED UNDER THE PROTECTION OF CHILDREN FROM SEXUAL PREDATORS ACT

Legal Authority: 42 USC 13032

CFR Citation: 28 CFR 81

Legal Deadline: NPRM, Statutory, April 28, 1999.

Abstract: On October 30, 1998, Congress passed the Protection of Children from Sexual Predators Act of 1998 (PCSPA). The PCSPA requires providers of an electronic communication service or a remote computing service to the public, through a facility or means of interstate or foreign commerce, to report incidents of child pornography as defined by sections 2251, 2251A, 2252, 2252A, or 2260 of title 18, United States Code, to the appropriate Federal agency. In order to facilitate effective reporting, the PCSPA requires the Attorney General to "designate an agency" to receive and investigate such reports of child pornography. The proposed rule previously published set forth the Attorney General's proposed designations and certain other matters covered by the PCSPA's reporting requirements.

On November 29, 1999, as part of the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2000, Public Law 106-113, 113 Stat. 1501, Congress amended 42 U.S.C. 13032 to require providers to report such incidents to the Cyber Tipline at the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, which shall forward that report to a law enforcement agency or agencies designated by the Attorney General. A second proposed rule is being prepared for publication that will reflect the change in the Agency to receive the reports.

Abstract: The Attorney General is required to issue regulations directing junk yard and salvage yard operators and insurance carriers to file monthly reports with the operator of the National Motor Vehicle Title Information System (NMVTIS) concerning vehicles in their possession. The reports are required by statute, 49 U.S.C. section 30504(a) and (b), to provide the vehicle identification numbers, the date on which the vehicle was obtained, and the name of the individual or entity from whom the vehicle was obtained. Salvage and junk yard operators are also required to provide a statement of whether the automobile was crushed or disposed of for sale or other purposes. Insurance carriers are also required to provide the name of the owner of the automobile at the time the report is filed.

1985. CLAIMS UNDER THE RADIATION EXPOSURE COMPENSATION ACT AMENDMENTS OF 2000: TECHNICAL AMENDMENTS; EXPANSION OF COVERAGE TO URANIUM MILL WORKERS AND ORE TRANSPORTERS

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2210 note, Radiation Exposure Compensation Act; PL 106-245, Radiation Exposure Compensation Act Amendments of 2000; PL 106-553, Consolidated Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 2001

CFR Citation: 28 CFR 79

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, January 6, 2001.

Abstract: The Department is amending existing regulations to implement the Radiation Exposure Compensation Act Amendments of 2000, enacted on July 10, 2000. The Department is issuing two related rulemakings under this RIN to implement the Act. The first of the two related rulemakings is a final rule, technical in nature, providing conforming amendments (CIV 100). These technical revisions: (1) Expand the list of radiogenic and chronic diseases that are currently compensable for "downwinder" and "onsite participant" claimants; (2) lower the radiation exposure threshold for "uranium miner" claimants; (3) enlarge the number of uranium mining states where miners may be eligible for compensation; (4) include "aboveground" miners within the definition of "uranium miner"; (5) eliminate smoking distinctions for all claimants; (6) amend the list of geographical areas to provide additional radiation-affected areas for "downwinder" claimants; (7) modify the burden of proof for purposes of claims processing; (8) allow claimants who have previously been denied compensation to file up to three times; and (9) make other technical revisions consistent with the amended Act.

The second related rulemaking under this RIN is a proposed rule (CIV 101) expanding compensation to two new claimant categories: Uranium mill workers and individuals involved in the transport of uranium ore or vanadium-uranium ore. These amendments: (1) Set forth eligibility criteria for the new claimant categories; (2) provide definitions explaining the types of mill-related and ore transporting employment that would be compensable under the Act; (3) describe the documentation that would be required to establish proof of employment in a uranium mill or as an ore transporter; (4) determine the medical documentation necessary to establish the existence of renal cancer and chronic renal disease; and (5) provide clarification of the attorney fee provision contained in Section 9 of the amended law.

On March 22, 1999, the Department published a final rule in the Federal Register, 64 FR 13686, amending its existing regulations to allow the use of pathology reports of tissue biopsies as evidence of disease; include "in situ" lung cancers under the definition of primary cancers of the lung; and to allow claimants whose claims had been denied prior to the implementation of the regulations to file another three

1986. • ESTABLISHMENT OF MINIMUM SAFETY AND SECURITY STANDARDS FOR PRIVATE COMPANIES THAT TRANSPORT VIOLENT PRISONERS

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: PL 106-560

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 97

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, June 19, 2001.

Abstract: This rule proposes to implement the Interstate Transportation of Dangerous Criminals Act of 2000, Public Law 106-560 (114 Stat. 2784)(enacted December 21, 2000). In that Act, Congress found that State and local jurisdictions are increasingly turning to private companies to transport their violent prisoners, and that escapes have occurred. Congress determined that minimum regulations for the private prisoner transport industry were necessary to provide protection against risks to the public that are inherent in the transportation of violent prisoners and to assure the safety of those being transported.

According, this rule proposes that private prisoner transport companies comply with minimum standards for background checks and preemployment drug testing for potential employees, provide minimum standards for the length and type of employee training, and establish restrictions on the number of hours that transportation employees can be on duty during a given time period.

This rule also proposes that private prisoner transport companies comply with minimum standards for the use of restraints while transporting violent prisoners, and establishes categories of violent offenders required to wear identifying clothing. Further, the rule proposes a minimum guard-to-offender ratio that must be observed while transporting violent prisoners, and proposes that private prisoner transport companies comply with standards regarding employee uniforms and employee identification.

In addition, the rule proposes to require private prisoner transport companies to notify local law enforcement officials 24 hours in advance of any scheduled stops in their jurisdiction when transporting violent prisoners. In the event of an escape by a violent offender, the proposed rule requires the private prisoner transport company personnel immediately to notify appropriate law enforcement officials in the jurisdiction where the escape occurs, as well as the governmental entity that contracted with the private prisoner transport company for the transport of the escaped violent prisoner.

Finally, the rule proposes that private prisoner transport companies adopt certain minimum standards in order to protect the safety of violent prisoners in accordance with applicable Federal and State law.

Abstract: As a result of the passage of the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1995 (LDA) and the Lobbying Disclosure Technical Amendments Act of 1998 (LDTAA), the Foreign Agents Registration Unit of the Criminal Division is issuing new regulations concerning changes in the Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938 (FARA), as amended, 22 U.S.C. 611, et seq. These regulations replace the term "political propaganda" in the existing regulations with "informational materials" as provided in the LDA and make other changes to the FARA regulations required by the passage of the LDA and the LDTAA. The regulations also make other modifications to the existing regulations to facilitate the administration of FARA.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 28 USC 530B

CFR Citation: 28 CFR 77

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, April 19, 1999.

Abstract: This rule supersedes the Department of Justice regulations relating to Communications with Represented Persons and implements 28 U.S.C. 530B pertaining to ethical standards for attorneys for the Government. Under that provision, an attorney for the Government shall be subject to State laws and rules, and local Federal court rules governing attorneys in each State where such attorney engages in that attorney's duties, to the same extent and in the same manner as other attorneys in that State. This rule fulfills the Attorney General's obligation under section 530B and provides guidance to all Department of Justice employees who are subject to section 530B regarding their obligations and responsibilities under this new provision.

CFR Citation: 8 CFR 274; 21 CFR 1316; 28 CFR 8 (Revision); 28 CFR 9 (Revision)

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, August 23, 2000, CAFRA applies to all forfeiture actions commenced on or after 8/23/00.

Abstract: By this rule, the Department does four things.

First, the Department is implementing new forfeiture procedures required by the recently enacted Civil Asset Forfeiture Reform Act of 2000 (CAFRA). CAFRA's procedural changes enhance the ability of property owners to contest the forfeiture of seized property. CAFRA also makes other changes beneficial to property owners. In particular: 1) The requirement to file a bond for costs with a claim is eliminated; 2) the time for filing a claim is extended; and 3) the release of seized property is required under various circumstances. Congress made CAFRA's changes applicable to forfeiture proceedings commenced on or after August 23, 2000.

Second, the Department is adding a provision allowing the pre-forfeiture disposition of seized property when the expense of holding the property is disproportionate to its value. This provision is needed to implement the pre-existing authority of 19 U.S.C. section 1612(b)—one of the customs laws procedural statutes incorporated by reference in forfeiture statutes enforced by the Department. This provision will enable the Department to use the authority of section 1612(b) in appropriate cases to avoid disproportionately high storage and maintenance costs for seized property pending forfeiture.

Third, this rule consolidates previously existing forfeiture regulations of the INS, DEA, and the FBI in order to achieve greater consistency and promote overall fairness in the administrative forfeiture process by avoiding unnecessary differences in component procedures.

Fourth, the rule modifies the regulations at 28 CFR part 9 governing petitions for remission or mitigation of forfeiture to refer to DEA's Forfeiture Counsel and not to DEA's Office of Chief Counsel as the pertinent DEA official in DEA forfeiture cases; to incorporate where applicable CAFRA's statutory criteria for innocent ownership; and to provide discretionary authority for the Ruling Official to waive the payment of forfeiture-related costs and expenses as a condition of remission in cases in which the petitioner is a victim of the underlying offense.

1990. • REGULATIONS UNDER THE DNA ANALYSIS BACKLOG ELIMINATION ACT OF 2000

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 28 USC 509; 28 USC 510; 42 USC 14132; 41 USC 14135a; 42 USC 14135b; 10 USC 1565; PL 106-546

CFR Citation: 28 CFR 28

Legal Deadline: Other, Statutory, April 18, 2001, Determination of qualifying Federal offenses.
Final, Statutory, June 17, 2001, Commencement of collection of DNA samples.

Abstract: This rule implements section 3 of Public Law 106-546, the DNA Analysis Backlog Elimination Act of 2000 (the Act). The rule specifies the Federal offenses that will be treated as qualifying offenses for purposes of collecting DNA samples from Federal offenders, sets forth the responsibilities of the Bureau of Prisons for collecting DNA samples from individuals in its custody, and sets forth related responsibilities of the Federal Bureau of Investigation for analyzing and indexing DNA samples.

All 50 States authorize the collection and analysis of DNA samples from convicted State offenders and entry of resulting information into the Combined DNA Index System ("CODIS"), which the Federal Bureau of Investigation ("FBI") has established pursuant to 42 U.S.C. 14132. Until recently, however, there was no statutory authorization to collect DNA samples from convicted Federal, military, and District of Columbia offenders. Congress acted to fill this gap in the DNA identification system through provisions of the Act.

Section 3 of the Act addresses the categories of Federal offenders from whom DNA samples will be collected, the responsibility of the Bureau of Prisons ("BOP") and Federal probation offices to collect DNA samples from offenders in their custody or supervision, and the responsibility of the FBI to analyze and index DNA samples. This rule is issued pursuant to subsection (e) of section 3, which provides that, with the exception of the activities of the probation offices, the section shall be carried out under regulations prescribed by the Attorney General. The rule also addresses certain responsibilities of BOP and the FBI under other sections of the Act, which are closely related to the matters addressed in section 3.

The rule adds a new part 28 to title 28 of the Code of Federal Regulations relating to the DNA identification system. The new part contains subparts A and B, which relate respectively to the Federal offenses for which DNA samples will be collected and the responsibilities of BOP and the FBI in collecting, analyzing, and indexing DNA samples.

Abstract: The Bureau of Justice Assistance is proposing amendments to 28 CFR part 32, which governs operation of the Public Safety Officers' Benefits Program. These proposed amendments would specify the maximum hourly fee that may be charged by representatives of claimants for financial benefits under the Public Safety Officers' Benefits Program in connection with services rendered by these representatives on behalf of claimants in any application or proceeding before the Bureau of Justice Assistance. These proposed amendments serve also to clarify applicant eligibility standards. Further, BJA is proposing to amend 28 CFR part 32 by adding an additional Appendix to inform potential Public Safety Officer Benefits (PSOB) claimants and administrative hearing officers about the eligibility standards that are applicable in the PSOB Disability Program. The disability benefit is available for public safety officers who have sustained a catastrophic injury in the line of duty which has left them permanently and totally disabled and unable to perform any gainful work.

Abstract: The Bureau of Justice Assistance is issuing this final rule to correct the address by which a State or local unit of governments may submit applications for the Emergency Federal Law Enforcement Assistance Program. The purpose of this program is to provide assistance to an uncommon situation, which does or threatens to escalate to serious or epidemic proportions, and State or local resources are not sufficient to protect the lives and property of citizens or to enforce the criminal law. Currently, the State must submit the application directly to the Attorney General, U.S. Department of Justice, with one copy to the Director, Bureau of Justice Assistance, Office of Justice Programs, U.S. Department of Justice. The Office of Justice Programs has moved to a different location in Washington, DC, necessitating this correction to the regulation.
